

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

To-morrow (Friday) is visiting day at the Orphans' Home, I. O. O. F. Sunbury.

B. D. Brislin is now occupying the dwelling house connected with the Odd Fellows' building in Centre Hall.

A son was born on Sunday night to Mr. and Mrs. John Neff, living on the Neff homestead, near Tusseyville.

A flock of wild ducks on the Red Mill dam furnished some sport for hunters beginning of the week. A few of the birds were shot.

Mrs. Mary Price, formerly of Centre Hall, and for a long time a resident of Maxbass, North Dakota, has removed to Antler, in the same state.

Don't forget the four-act rural drama, "The Old Oaken Bucket," to be given by local talent in Granee Arcadia on Saturday evening. The young people will appreciate your patronage.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hennigh, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Strohmair, motored to Williamsport, last Thursday, and transacted some business in that bustling city.

Miss Mary Shreckengast, who was operated on for appendicitis in the Bellefonte hospital, is expected to return home this week. On Monday she was permitted to leave her bed in the hospital.

John J. Rauck and Dr. Charles L. Blind, both of New Columbia, made a pleasant trip through Centre and Clinton counties passing through Penns, Nittany and Sugar Valleys. While in Centre Hall they stopped for a short time with the Centre Reporter.

Rev. Reid S. Dickson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Reedsville, tendered his resignation to accept the western secretaryship of the Board of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation, with headquarters in Chicago.

Mrs. Mary A. Snyder, of Murry, will be in Centre Hall on Monday, October 15th, and will dispose of the household effects and Larkins merchandise of the late Gertrude Flory, at private sale. Mrs. Snyder will remain in town a week or more.

William H. Ott, of Bellefonte, was struck by a falling piece of timber at a building being erected for the Pennsylvania Match company, and was seriously injured. Mr. Ott is a carpenter and is a native of Potter township, having been reared in the Keller district east of Centre Hall.

W. S. Malleson, who for several years has been manager of the Williamsport office of the Bell Telephone company, and formerly held a similar position in Bellefonte, has just been given charge of directory advertising work in the Williamsport entire district under District Manager K. C. Raup.

Mrs. Lorenzo Wilt, son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wilt, motored here from Franklin beginning of the week and visited at the Bartholomew home for a day. They also were guests of the Wm. Gulswite family at Aaronburg for a short time, the Wilts being relatives of both families named.

Thomas L. Moore, teacher of the intermediate school in the borough, fell from a ladder while picking apples for Ralph E. Dinges, on Saturday. He dropped about eighteen feet and escaped with a sprained ankle, which has not kept him from performing his school work, although a crutch is necessary to move about.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grove, of Centre Hall, on Tuesday morning, went to Geisinger hospital, at Danville, as patients. Mrs. Grove had been there for an operation for the removal of a goiter about a year ago. The growth was then only partially removed owing to Mrs. Grove's physical condition otherwise.

The local barber shop was closed all day Saturday on account of the illness of the barber, F. P. Geary. He is now able to again be at his post. It is twenty-four years since Mr. Geary became proprietor of the barber shop, and he states that this is the first time during that period that the place was closed on a Saturday. Not a bad record for a one-man place of business.

Tuesday morning James Spangler, of near Tusseyville, went to Altoona, where for a few days he will be at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edwin Wolf. The probability is that Mr. Spangler will make Altoona his permanent home in the near future. Rumor has it that he sold his home now occupied by himself and Mr. Martz, located near Tusseyville, to Charles Stoner.

On October 26 (Arbor Day) Colonel J. W. Shoemaker and friends of the late J. H. Chatham will dedicate a memorial boulder at McElhattan in memory of the naturalist and poet. Mr. Chatham lived for many years in a cabin, "Fort Kittany," in Shoemaker's park. He was the author of several works many poems, and was a member of the Alpine Club of Pennsylvania. He was a school teacher and a lumberman for many years.

DADDY WAS NOT CONCERNED

Information Must Have Been of Considerable Importance to Woman Who Was Returning Home.

The woman was evidently returning from a trip away from home. When she came into the waiting room at the station three youngsters swooped down upon her and all but snatched her with hugs and kisses.

"My, I'm glad to get home!" the mother exclaimed. "And how is Harry?" she asked.

"Oh, Harry did just fine while you were gone!" Virginia put in. "He didn't tease me a bit, and he helped with the work, and he took his music lesson, and he practiced every day, and—and everything."

"That was fine, Harry!" mother praised. "And you, Virginia; how did you do?"

Of course it was up to Harry to do his part here.

"Say, mamma, Virginia's a brick!" he exclaimed. "She can cook 'most as good as you can, and sweep—say, mamma, you ought to see her sweep!"

"Well, I'm certainly glad to hear that," mother told them. "And little Rosemary, of course she was all right—but how mamma did miss her!"

"I helped Virginia cook!" Rosemary told her mamma, with evident pride.

"Well, you all did just fine, I can see that," mother repeated. "And, now, what about daddy? You haven't told me a thing about him!"

"Oh, daddy's all right," Harry assured her. "Why only last night dad said you needn't come back for three months as far as he was concerned."—Kansas City Star.

LAST ANALYSIS OF SUCCESS

Some Worth-While Thoughts That It May Pay the Busy Man to Ponder Over.

It isn't success if it costs you the companionship and chumminess and love of your children. Very often busy, wealthy men of momentous affairs discover too late that they have sacrificed the finest thing in life, the affection of their family. Let me relate an incident recently told me which contains a priceless suggestion for many ultra-busy business men. A prominent public utility executive of Illinois told a friend that he was going to give his young son an unusual Christmas present. "I'm going," he said, "to write my boy a letter telling him that, as a Christmas present, I'm going to give him an hour of my time every day." He added that he had been doing a lot of thinking on the subject, and felt that he owed this to his son.

Alas, he died two weeks later. I work at least an average of twelve hours a day, but I never fail to find time to romp with my little fellows or to tell them stories—"grand new ones"—after they are ready for bed. I wouldn't forego this pleasure for the sake of any amount of money. Wealth is an excellent thing to possess if earned honestly and utilized sensibly. But wealth won at the expense of health or family affection isn't wealth, but poverty, poverty of heart, poverty of soul.—Baltimore American.

Rat Campaigns Successful.

The biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture conducted an anti-rat campaign in Georgia during December, and followed it with a similar campaign which is in progress in Virginia. In co-operation with the extension service of the Georgia Agricultural college, preliminary organization work was done, and a statewide publicity campaign was put on. The campaign attained its greatest efficiency at Atlanta when the chamber of commerce purchased and distributed free of charge two and three-quarter tons of barium carbonate for poisoned baits for rats. Satisfactory results are reported both in the number of rats killed and in the interest aroused in making conditions less favorable for these pests by eliminating sources of food and harborage, and by the rat-proof construction or repair of buildings. It is planned to follow up the drives from time to time as required to control the rats effectively.

Cactus as a Fodder.

The cactus is first exposed to a torch which burns away the thorns, and is then carried to the slicing machine, of the type that is used in sugar works. The machine is provided with specially formed knives and the cactus is cut up into slices, which are then dried and if desired ground into the form of a fine powder. During the slicing operation part of the juice, which is exuded from the cactus, may be pressed out and collected separately. The juice can then be converted into a substitute for gum arabic, which is probably a salt of meta-arabic acid. The yield of dry material, the fodder, is about 11 per cent of the weight of the raw cactus.—Journal of Engineering and Industrial Chemistry.

French Workmen's Houses.

French workmen's building and loan societies, "Habitations a bon Marche," have been started to help the construction of buildings for the working classes and to improve the sanitary conditions of those already existing in France. The state has granted a subvention of one-third of the cost of the construction, according to the commerce bureau.

In addition, the state will lend 75 per cent of the balance required, to be reimbursed within forty years, at an annual interest of 2 1/2 per cent on the amount borrowed. These societies are increasing, but not in sufficient number to meet the existing demand.

She Kept It Going.

Emphasizing the virtue of persistence, Mrs. Kathleen Norris says, as quoted in the Boston Advertiser: "When my husband was a magazine editor in 1910, a certain flattered and travel-worn story, a novelette, came to his office and was immediately rejected. Two years later, when he was on another magazine, the story re-appeared. It was unchanged, the same little child story of optimism and hope. This second magazine paid a small sum for it, and it was serialized."—From the Outlook.

Invention to Prevent Speeding.

In Rome the narrow streets and steep hills render motoring rather precarious at best and there is no room for the speed maniac. An automatic regulator which will limit the speed within the city proper is being seriously considered. This invention depends on a type of governor and is the result of the inventive labors of Messrs. Fragnano and Villa.—Scientific American.
