

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Tuesday afternoon D. A. Booser went to Harrisburg to attend a harness show.

Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick is in Philadelphia this week, having gone there on Monday.

Squire Brungart, this week, attended Huntingdon county court in the interest of a client.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Elbright and daughter Bettie, on Sunday, drove to Millintown, returning in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk and daughters recently made a trip to Philadelphia and Camden in their Chevrolet sedan.

Harold H. Keller, student at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, came home the latter part of last week for a few days rest from college work.

Walter Bayleets has been circulating among former cronies about Centre Hall. For some time he has been in Pittsburgh and is there employed by the Standard Trousers company, in the pressing department.

Two years ago Miss Claudia B. Aurnand was appointed postmistress at Beaver Springs and was then heralded as the youngest postmistress in the U. S. She has resigned and will quit the first of next month.

Elizabeth, Isabel and Robert Bradford, children of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bradford, and Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bradford, of Centre Hall, were guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bradford, at Lemont, over Sunday.

Misses Irene and Ruth Detwiler, of Colyer, spent a week with the John Krumline family, at Vinondale, and also with Mr. and Mrs. John Wegs at Nanty Glo. Returning home they stopped at Bellwood and spent a day with the Rev. F. H. Foss family.

A busy hustler last week was James E. Frohm, for during it he hauled over five hundred bushels of potatoes and forty bushels of apples from Penns Valley to Lewistown. Two trips were made daily except on Friday and Saturday, on which days he retailed apples and potatoes.

The state highway from Locust bridge, in Seven Mountains, to the Red bridge, this side of Pottery Mills was completed and ready for oil chips the beginning of this week. The oiling was commenced on Monday and chipping followed immediately. The gap from Red bridge to Centre Hall, a distance of about a mile, is built up this week.

Messrs. Newton Crawford, Edgar Jordon, George Alfred Crawford, and the latter's chum at Penn State, saw the Nittany Lions and West Virginia make a tie score in New York City, on Saturday. The trip was made in the former's bug, a thing of little beauty but much for service, without a hitch coming or going. The party returned on Sunday, reaching here about nine o'clock in the evening.

George L. Horner and son, S. S. Horner, of Pleasant Gap, were Reporter callers one day last week. The younger Mr. Horner is proprietor of the Mountain restaurant, on the brick road above Pleasant Gap, and to advertise the scenic beauty of the spot where his "eats" establishment is located, he placed an order with the job printing department of this office for a thousand picture post cards, which he proposes distributing gratis. Mr. Horner has the right idea.

Many of the Reporter readers who have been looking forward with pleasure to the musical recital given each fall by the young people and small children students of Miss Byrd Stover, will be disappointed to know that there will be no recital until next spring, sometime in March, when the spring term of musical instruction opens. This postponement is due largely to the fact that other gatherings are being held near the time set for the recital with which Miss Stover did not want to interfere.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Steininger and little daughter Bettie, of Syracuse, N. Y., stopped with the Reporter on a tour through Pennsylvania. Before marriage Mrs. Steininger was Miss Florence Smith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, and was reared at Lamar. On their way here they visited the home of their parents at Harrisburg and Lewistown, and from here went to Bellefonte, Lamar, Mill Hall and home. Mr. Steininger is employed in the offices of a firm handling dairy supplies in Syracuse.

Miss Mary Shreckengast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shreckengast, east of Centre Hall, after having undergone an operation for appendicitis, is at her home and is getting along nicely. Her sister, Miss Ruth, of Greensburg, visited her recently. Miss Shreckengast is assistant principal in the Greensburg schools and was accompanied here by two girl chums—Misses Edna and Rosella Paul—both of whom are employed as teachers in the same school. The ladies made the trip in a new Ford car, which is their joint property, making record time both coming and going.

THE DEATH RECORD.

HAUGH.—Mrs. Henry A. Haugh died at her home at Spring Mills, Saturday evening. She suffered a paralytic stroke about year ago, and death was due indirectly to this. She was a daughter of Nicholas Vonuda. Her age was sixty-nine years, five months and twenty-one days. Interment was made Tuesday afternoon in the Georges Valley cemetery. The husband but no children survive the deceased.

STOVER.—Wilmer M. Stover died at his home at Aaronsburg, following an illness of heart disease and dropsy, superinduced by influenza which had afflicted him during the past winter.

Mr. Stover was a son of the late George M. Stover and was born in Aaronsburg. He was aged 56 years, 7 months and 12 days.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter and two sons—Mrs. Fred Guisevite and Victor J., both of Akron, Ohio, and Eugene, at home. One sister and a brother also survive—Miss Tammie and Ernest L., both of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck. Interment was made at Aaronsburg.

HUNTER.—William S. Hunter, an old soldier of the Civil war, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James H. Wilson, of Pleasant Gap, following an illness of several months. He was a son of William and Margaret Hunter and was born in Halfmoon township in 1838, being almost 85 years old. During the Civil war he served as a member of Company G, 6th Pennsylvania cavalry. He married Miss Martha Heverly, who died twenty years ago, but surviving him are the following children: Mrs. James H. Wilson, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Harry Sarnpel, of Axe Mann; Mrs. John S. Markley, of Altoona, and Boyd L. Hunter, of Lewistown. He also leaves one brother, Frank Hunter, of Axe Mann, and one sister, Mrs. Margaret Vantiberg, of Elkhart, Ind. Burial was made at Pleasant Gap.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Verma Stutz was at Millintown on Sunday and was accompanied home by Miss Edna Houtz of that place.

A genius is a tourist who can follow a strange road after hearing it described minutely by a rural citizen.

Mrs. T. S. Foss of Altoona, has been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery, in Centre Hall, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Phillimore, who formerly lived in New York, have moved into their new home in Leona, N. J. Vruband Ave, Christie Heights.

Mrs. Eliza Stump and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stump moved from the Keller district to Centre Hall about ten days ago into a house purchased from Orvis Weaver, near the railroad station.

George E. Meyer, the piano dealer of Bellefonte, was in town on business last Friday. If you are thinking of buying a piano, read his advertisement in the Reporter this week, first.

Mrs. John M. Coidron, on Monday evening, gave a card party to a number of her friends, ladies and gentlemen, at her home in Centre Hall. The rooms were decorated with Halloween emblems.

Miss Mahelle Detwiler, who is attending High school at Millintown, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Detwiler. She was accompanied by Miss Reida Dulis, of Millintown.

The agricultural writers are cautioning farmers to make sure they are using their best efforts to secure and take care of sufficient seed corn. The corn is full of moisture and needs the best possible conditions so it may become thoroughly dried.

Charles McClintick, of Linden Hall, was obliged to use crutches to locomote during last week. He was the star outfielder on the Centre Hall baseball team last season, and on one of two occasions missed a wide out fly because of a kink that came suddenly in one of his knees. A week ago he was running and again the "kink" came, this time more severe than ever.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Select the Breeding Stock—This is the time of the year to select the breeding stock which is to produce the eggs for spring hatching. The best results will be obtained where the birds are quartered with others that mated at approximately the same time.

Storing Potatoes—Caution should be taken not to pile potatoes too deep in storage, especially without proper ventilation. It may cause black spots to appear in the tubers which lower their value as table stock.

Minerals for the Dairy Cow—A practical way to feed minerals to dairy cows is to allow free access to a mixture of one part of salt to four parts of bone flour.

Thinning the Woodlot—Now is the time to lay plans for taking the poor trees out of the woodlot to give the good trees a better chance. It is a good deal like "eating the cake and having it too," for the thinning makes good firewood and a better woodlot in the result. This work can be started as soon as the corn is in the crib.

Treating Calf Scours—A simple remedy often used for calf scours is lime water. Cut the feed to one-half and add a pint of clear lime water for a feed or two. Then bring the calf gradually to full feed again.

Bee Hints—The Italian bee is the only race worth cultivating. Their characteristics are: uniform honey production, resistance to European foul-brood, good wintering qualities, gentleness and low swarming tendencies.
