Christmas Carols.

On Christmas morning at 7 o'clock the combined catechetical classes of the Centre Hall Reformed church rendered Christmas carols in the local Reformed church. It was the first service of the kind rendered here in the recollection of the writer and was well attended. The program consisted of thirteen numbers each of which was rendered in a most acceptable manner.

Third Lyceum Number, Jan. 7.

Julian B. Arnold, lecturer and entertainer, will be the third number on the local lecture course and will appear in Grange Arcadia on Monday evening, January 7, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Arnold is the son of the late Sir Edwin Arnold, poet graduate of Marlborough College, and has visited Italy, France and the Orient. He assisted George Smith in excavating the ruins of Assyria, was present when Sir Henry Stanley discovered the course of the Congo, and is interested in the archaeological explorations of Egypt. He is a wanderer in the bypaths of many countries including four continents. He is a pleasing orator and will describe his slides as they are thrown on the screen with interest and delight to all.

Don't miss it; Grange Arcadia, Monday, January 7.

Entertained Employees.

About one hundred fifty employees of the Dewart Milk Products Company and the branches connected with the company, together with their wives and a few guests, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sheffer at a banquet, followed by a program, in the Methodist church in Watsonstown, the last Friday evening of the old year. Employees were in attendance from Williamsport, Liberty, Trout Run, Milton, Millville, Bloomsburg, McEwensville and other points in this section. The occasion proved to be a most delightful affair and was highly appreciated.

The PINK LABEL this week. Does yours show a 24 or 25? If not, you are in arrears, and a remittance will be appreciated.

DEATHS.

RUNKLE.—William H. Runkle died at the home of his son, Elmer Runkle, in Centre Hall, Monday afternoon. He had been complaining somewhat during the week previous, but his condition was not thought particularly serious. The end came without the slightest struggle. His age was eighty-one years and a few months.

Mr. Runkle was twice married, first to Miss Treaster, and after her death to Miss Sarah Myers, now also deceased. There survive two children—Mrs. Elizabeth Tate, of Red Mill, and Mrs. Rebecca Weaver, of Nittany Valley—to the first wife; and the son named above to the second wife. Also a stepdaughter, Mrs. Joshua Armstrong, of Pleasant Gap. Mrs. Emma Shutt, of Aaronsburg, is an only sister of the deceased.

Mr. Runkle was a son of John P. Runkle, and was born in Potter township. He lived nearly all his life in the vicinity of Centre Hall.

Interment will be made this (Thursday) afternoon at Centre Hall.

RHONE.—Charles Edward Rhone, D. D. S., son of Dr. J. William and Caroline Elizabeth Rhone, formerly of Bellefonte, was born April 30, 1867, in Boalsburg; died December 17, 1923, at Los Angeles, Calif. He studied his profession at the University of Pennsylvania, and practiced first in Bellefonte, and then for about twenty years in Los Angeles. Dr. Rhone married Miss Mary Cecilia Bosbyshell, of Los Angeles, June 1st, 1904. She died several years ago. Children surviving are Caroline A., John F., Edward C. and Leonard F. Rhone. Also one sister, C. Ellen Rhone, of Monterey, Calif.

HESS.—Mrs. N. E. Hess died at her home at State College after a short illness. She was a daughter of G. W. McWilliams and was aged a few days over sixty-three years. Her marriage to Mr. Hess took place March 10, 1899, and to this union there were born two sons—Samuel M. and John W., who with the husband survive the deceased. Mrs. Hess and her husband spent the greater part of their married life on the Hess homestead on the Branch, near State College, but in 1912 they built for themselves a home on West College Avenue, State College, where the death occurred. She was a member of the Lutheran church and was highly regarded by all her acquaintances.

MITCHELL.—Bruce Mitchell, a well known resident of Lemont, passed away at his home as a result of blood poisoning. He had been ill for the past two years but his condition was not considered serious until about a week prior to his death, when complications set in. He was the son of John H. and Nancy Mitchell and was born at Lemont, August 24, 1868, making his age 55 years. Besides his wife he survived by the following brothers and sisters: James, John and George, all of Lemont; Mrs. W. H. Thompson, of Chester county, and Maud, at home.

GLENN.—Thomas Glenn, the senior member of the firm of Glenn and Neidigh merchants at State College, died at his home at State College on Monday. Interment took place at Boalsburg Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Glenn was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Glenn, of near Boalsburg. His early life was spent in Bellefonte where he clerked in various stores, finally locating at State College. He was twice married, and is survived by his second wife; also, by his parents, a brother, Hamill Glenn, at Pine Grove Mills, and a sister, Mrs. Shirck, of near Boalsburg.

GINGERICH.—Mrs. Henry Gingerich died at her home near Linden Hall on Tuesday after an illness of some weeks duration, due to a light paralytic stroke.

The deceased was the daughter of Samuel H. Stover, and was born at Rock Springs. Later the family moved to Boalsburg.

She is survived by the following children: Earl, Rome, Rosella and Arlene, the latter a trained nurse, at home; Mrs. Samuel Kreamer and Mrs. Jacob Haffel, of State College. Mrs. Sarah Garbrick, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. George Kapp, of Boalsburg, are surviving sisters of the deceased.

McWILLIAMS.—J. Milliken McWilliams died at Tyrone after an illness extending over a number of weeks, December 27th. He was a son of W. E. and the late Sara Anna McWilliams and was born at Pine Grove Mills, September 15, 1875.

He did valiant service during the Spanish-American war in the Marine corps and later was a postal mail clerk.

Immediately prior to his health failing he was engaged in the manufacture of ice cream in Tyrone.

A wife, whose maiden name was Miss Caroline M. Keinzel, and a son survive him, as does also his father and these brothers and sisters: J. H. and W. H. McWilliams, of Johnstown; Mrs. F. V. Goodhart and Miss Nancy McWilliams, Centre Hall, and Mrs. Ralph Musser, Rock Springs.

The highly decorated and illuminated Christmas tree was in evidence locally more than ever heretofore. In a number of homes there were elaborate trees, usually where there were children, but in this like in all other things there were exceptions. The Homan garage sported a beautifully decorated and lighted tree in its business office window. The tree revolved and the colored lights were intermittent.

Miss Ruth Grove visited relatives in Altoona several days last week.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Orvis Weaver has been ill during the past week at her home in Centre Hall.

Miss Flora Love and Mrs. M. A. Kirk, of Bellefonte, were entertained last week by Mrs. W. Frank Bradford. Miss Vianna Zettle spent a few days with her brother, Reuben Zettle, a carpenter in the Johnstown district, last week.

Chester Hess, of the Sunbury district, was a guest of his sister, Mrs. M. C. Drumm, for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Slutterbeck, of Tusseyville, were in town one day last week and favored the Reporter with a call.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Stahl, of Centre Hall, spent the Christmas season with their sons and daughter, in Altoona.

Mrs. Mary E. Christine, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Crowl, of Elysburg, spent Christmas at the T. L. Moore home in Centre Hall.

At an early Christmas morning service in the Reformed church, Sunbury, of which Rev. E. Roy Corman is pastor, a gift in the sum of $100 was presented the pastor.

Miss Catharine Ruble, daughter of Mrs. Sallie Ruble, was home for the Christmas season, and her sister Estella accompanied her to Altoona where she visited her aunt, Mrs. Brandt.

Daniel Daup, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ertel, Guyer Grove and family, and Samuel Bitner and family, enjoyed a sumptuous Christmas dinner at the Charles Leister home at Centre Hill.

Prof. L. O. Packer, connected with the Pittsburgh schools, spent the Christmas season with his family in Centre Hall, returning to the Smoky City and work on the first day of the New Year.

1923 went out most beautifully. The last day of the old year was like an ideal April day. The sun was dazzling bright during much of the day and the air was warm, balmy. Good bye, old year.

A touring car, a special sport Maxwell, was sold to Claude E. Wert, of near Tusseyville, by Merchant C. P. Ramer, of Tusseyville. It is a very pretty car and one Mr. Wert may well be proud of.

The Oak Hill Limestone Company recently received an order for 80,000 tons of limestone. This order in addition to the smaller local orders will make the quarry a busy place for at least a year.

Miss Verna Hannah, who had been in Youngstown, Ohio, in the capacity of an instructor of telephone operators is now at Pottery Mills with her grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Blausser, where she will remain at least for the winter.

O. A. Jamison, of Monroe, Wisconsin, arrived in Centre Hall just before the holidays. He made the trip in a new Ford coupe and was accompanied by a friend, Maynard Biesemer. They are stopping with Mr. Jamison's sister, Mrs. V. A. Auman.

The day following Christmas a young couple from Lewisport were married at the Lutheran parsonage in Centre Hall by Rev. M. C. Drumm. They exacted a promise from the minister that he would not reveal their identity, and therefore we cannot give you their names.

Christmas was spent by Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Lingle with their son, James B. Lingle, wife and baby daughter, on the Emmadine Farms out from New York City. It was a joyful occasion, made so by the cooing of the little Miss Lingle, who bids for her share of attention from the grandparents.

Michael Delaney, John Delaney and Thomas F. Delaney paid a visit to their father, Daniel Delaney, at Greensburg, at Christmas time. The elder Delaney is seriously ill from dropsy at the home of a daughter, Mrs. James Clark. He is in the seventy-fifth year of his age, and although having been a robust man all his life, his family is apprehensive of the outcome of his present illness.

C. Nevin Hockman, the poultryman, moved to Centre Hall last week and is now located in the Bartholomew flat. Mr. Hockman came here from Zion and will engage in operating the Bartholomew incubators when the season opens in the early spring. He also expects to continue hatching chicks at Madisonburg where he has been conducting a plant for several years.

Mrs. Frank D. Lee, of Centre Hall, Thursday noon of last week, suffered a light paralytic stroke. She was unconscious for a time, but rallied under medical treatment and is now on a fair way to recovery. Miss Derner, a registered nurse from State College, is in charge of the case. The many friends of Mrs. Lee trust that she may speedily be restored to full health and strength.

Among the Reporter's numerous callers last week was A. P. Vonada, tenant on the George Getzell farm near Spring Mills. He announced sale for March 5, and after that time will occupy a home purchased in Georges Valley. Mr. Vonada has been accustomed to doing things on a large scale, but under present conditions thinks he can accustom himself to doing things on a less scale well.
