

REBERSBURG.

John Houser, who spent a week at home, left on Monday for Millburg where he is employed at concrete. Scott Stover accompanied by Stover Minick spent a day in Bellefonte on special business. Lester Hosterman and family left for Maple Park, Illinois, where Mr. Hosterman will be employed in a creamery. Calvin Crouse who was on the sick list for the past three months is at present confined to bed. The other day Victor Brungart received word that his father, Newton Brungart, of near Levisstown, is ill with pneumonia.

Business was at a standstill for a few days last week owing to the heavy snow blizzard; all the roads in the valley were blocked and traveling was almost impossible. On Friday the snow plow with eight horses attached to it cleared the roads and by Saturday noon the roads were again in traveling condition. We must say in behalf of our mail carrier, Robert Beily, that he faced the blizzards for several days and delivered the mail from Coburn twice a day to this place almost on schedule time.

Impassible roads and cold weather did not prevent St. Peter's Reformed congregation from carrying out their Washington Birthday program. This consisted of a social at which a program was rendered to the great pleasure of all those in attendance. It consisted of songs, monologues, recitations and mind tests. There were seventy-six present. After the singing of "America" it was announced that Gen. George and Martha Washington had arrived and they were introduced by the pastor; the audience arose and gave three cheers. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Cummings acted in this capacity, dressed in the costume of the days of Washington. The military dress was real, with sword and plumed head wear. It being the property of J. H. Brungart, Mr. Brungart was on hand with his Victrola and thrilled the congregation with its music. The entertainment was arranged by the social committee of the C. E. S., consisting of Messrs. J. N. Moyer, W. J. Kridler and Mrs. Emma Cortman and Flora Limbert. The affair would have been very incomplete had it not ended up with good eats. Through slips handed to each person present, family groups were formed consisting of man, wife and son and daughter. These were given a large tray around which they gathered and ate ice cream, cookies, candy and coffee. It is putting it mild to say every one present enjoyed the evening greatly and that those that could not be present missed a great time.

Kilne Limbert left for Lancaster where he will be employed for the summer. Mrs. (Rev.) Solley of New Jersey was called home on account of the illness of her father, Jared Kreamer. The second grade school of this place gave a very interesting program on Friday afternoon consisting of recitations, songs and dialogues and plays. All did their part well which was very highly appreciated by the audience and especially by parents of the children. Rev. M. U. Herman preached his last sermon Sunday evening before leaving for Conference. Hope he will again be returned to this charge.

GEORGES VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ripka spent Sunday at the F. W. Zettle home. James Foug was a Bellefonte visitor on Saturday. Mrs. J. W. Gobbia, who has been housed up with rheumatism all winter is not improving. Rev. Haney preached his last sermon before Conference, on Sunday, at Locust Grove. Every one is in hopes that he will be returned to Spring Mills again for at least another year. Mrs. H. M. Lingle is on the sick list.

SPRING MILLS

Everybody who has an ice house is busy storing away the frozen crystal; it is about 12 inches thick. Charles McCool will move into the Rote (Benj. Gentzell) house this week. Mrs. Adam Pinkle will have sale of her farm stock on Saturday, March 1, and move into the house vacated by McCool, which she bought from C. P. Long. The roads are drifted shut everywhere; horses are in demand everywhere and automobiles are resting. Joseph Bitner, who had been quite ill, is recovering. Quite a number of our people are attending court. Claude Feidler is taking Dr. Braucht out with two horses in a sleigh. Ralph Shook is carrying mail for George Wolf; he has two mules hitched in a sled to get over the route.
