Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Zerby, of Girard Ohio, have moved to near Youngstown, Ohio, on rural mail route No. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher are in Sunbury with their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Corman.

The repair shop of Angelo Genna, in Bush Arcade Bellefonte, was broken into Saturday night and $150 in cash, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco taken.

Major Lynn G. Adams, head of the State constabulary, will be in Bellefonte, Friday evening, 14th inst., to address a patriotic mass meeting in the court house.

James C. Reed, of Boalsburg, made a business trip to Centre Hall, on Monday, and while in town found his way to this office where his presence was appreciated.

There are two large thriving mahogany trees in the city of Williamsport. One was planted in 1860 by the late John M. McMinn, and the other by his son, the late C. V. L. McMinn.

The Pittsburgh-Easton flyer, one of the Pennsy crack passenger trains, passed over the local branch Monday afternoon, because of a wreck somewhere in the vicinity of Beech Creek.

George W. Felding, of near Linden Hall, was in town on Monday and was pleased that the roads between that point and Centre Hall were being opened.

Following his sale, the latter part of this month Harry E. Eye will move to Centre Hall and his family will take up their abode in the apartments above the T. L. Smith hardware store.

A real girl baby arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blazier, in Centre Hall, on Monday. The little one and the mother are doing fine according to a statement by the father.

Mrs. F. V. Goodhart entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson and family, Lemont; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Geiss and family, Bellefonte; James C. Goodhart and daughter, Miss Catharine, Centre Hall.

Herbert Garis suffered a hemorrhage of the lungs while on the streets last Thursday evening, and was forced to take his bed for a few days. We are glad to state that the young man has improved and is again able to be about.

Thomas Keefer, of Youngwood, came to Centre Hall the latter part of last week, and on Tuesday returned home taking with him Mrs. Keefer, who had been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Brungart, for several weeks.

Jesse C. McClenahan expects to go to Indiana county this week and procure a house into which to move his family about April 1st. Mr. McClenahan has practically steady work operating his large truck on road construction work. The McClenahan family now occupy part of the Mrs. Lambert home.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher Stahl and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stahl, of Altoona, drove to Centre Hall on Sunday and spent the day at the parental home. The former Mr. Stahl made the first tryout of a new sedan, a Durant, over the roads to his old home and was greatly pleased with its performance. By the way, it is mentioned that "Bud" was advanced in the Altoona car shops and is now found in the finishing department, where the work and conditions are much more desirable.

Miss Ellen Burkholder, a senior in the Centre Hall high school, was the winner of a large bronze medal, offered by an Illinois watch firm, for writing the best short essay on the life of Abraham Lincoln. The medal is three inches in diameter. The head of Lincoln is a reproduction of Douglas Volk's famous painting, "Abraham Lincoln." The sculpturing is the work of Charles Louis Hinton, an artist of note. Both artists are Americans. A space is provided on the back of the medal for the name of the winner.

To date the public sales of farm equipments and farm stock, including horses, have been very satisfactory to the holder. The road conditions are very bad except on state-improved roads, yet the sales have been well attended and the bidding spirited. At the Matis sale, near Old Port, a farm horse was sold for $200; a tractor within less than fifty dollars of its original cost. Other articles sold equally well, the sum total of the sale being $2400. There are several sales of this character scheduled for nearly every day in March in Centre county, and it is cheering to those who are closing out their business to know that there will be no sacrifices.

Their company consists of four sisters who play many musical instruments, sing, dance, recite and offer many other forms of refined entertainment. ROMANCE OF LOST ATLANTIS

Spanish Scientists Announce That Island Has Been Located Off Coast of That Country.

People who like their science well mixed with romance will be attracted to the announcement of the Spanish academy which says that the lost island of Atlantis has been located off the coast of Spain. Details of this interesting discovery are not yet available to the public, but that will leave the curious all the more room for speculation.

The age and vitality of the story that there was once a great and opulent country somewhere west of the Pillars of Hercules which grew to a magnificence passing all description, and then sunk into the sea has caused more than one geographer to think that somewhere back in the misty past there must have been a solid basis for the legend. Nobody knows how old the story is. Homer knew it, and Plato gave the world a description of the place, but every mention of it, however early, is accompanied by the assurance that the date of the submergence was even then in the remotest past.

LESSON IN ROYAL WEDDING

Writer Sees Significance in Nuptials of Union of the Dutch and York With a Comment.

The marriage of the Duke of York and Lady Elisabeth Bowes-Lyon was invested with an exceptional degree of that human nature which makes the whole world kin and with something more. It was a noteworthy reminder of the radical contrast between royalty in Great Britain and in some other lands; for example, the states of Germany under the monarchical regime. In one of the latter, Willis Fletcher Johnson writes in the North American Review, such a marriage would have been impossible; it would have had to bemorganatic, the wife forever doomed to a rank inferior to her husband's and her children debarred from the succession. In Great Britain, though one of the oldest and proudest monarchies in the world, it was not only possible but also was not even regarded as extraordinary, and it was as complete and valid as though the bride had been of royal blood. Before the wedding a subject and a commoner, instantly after that ceremony she was a "royal highness," standing in direct and close succession to the throne as the wife of the heir presumptive. The fine tribute to womanhood was obvious, and no less so was the demonstration of the essential unity between sovereign and people. The best American democrats, who justly boast that any native citizen may become president, must appreciate a kingdom in which a subject and commoner may become queen and the son of a commoner may become king and emperor.

we shall have to take it out in studying Rosa Bonheur's pictures and the skeletons in the Museum of Natural History. Before they know it they will be keeping kind old Dobbin in a cage and charging half a dollar to go in and feed him apples—if there are any apples.—New York Herald.
