

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The Sandy Ridge post office became fifty years old a few days ago and is all aglow over its growth in that half-century.

Mrs. J. M. McWilliams, of Tyone, the latter part of last week, visited her sisters, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart and Miss Nancy McWilliams in Centre Hall.

A. E. Person, of Trenton, a railroad man of large experience, was in town over Sunday with Mrs. Person who came here a few days previous with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Strohm.

Mrs. James Smith, of Akron, Ohio for a week was a guest of Mrs. C. R. Neff, on the farm above Old Port. Mrs. Smith left for her home on Saturday morning.

Three or four deer were seen round the knob north of the top of Nittany Mountain, one day last week. They had been down near the state road, but went back when they saw workmen repairing the road.

Gregg Carper moved from the Meyer farm, near Centre Hill, to the Fisher farm at Penn Hall, owned by Pittsburgh parties. The fitting took place on Tuesday and was the last of the season from farm to farm in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rearick, formerly of New Enterprise, are at the home of Mrs. Rearick's brother, F. V. Goodhart, in Centre Hall. Mr. Rearick is contemplating a trip through the west in the near future.

The Junior class of the Gregg Township Vocational school will appreciate your patronage on Saturday evening of this week, when they will put on their two plays in Grange hall. They promise you an evening of lively entertainment at very reasonable prices.

The Philipsburg Daily Journal has attained its thirty-seventh year. From its appearance as well as from a statement of the management itself, it is learned that the paper is prospering. The Journal carries daily a good line of local and foreign news and is entitled to the liberal patronage it receives.

J. C. McClenahan, of Centre Hall, will make sale of household goods on Saturday afternoon of this week at the home of J. H. Davidheiser, near Pottery Mills. Mr. Davidheiser is making public sale at that time and Mr. McClenahan will offer his goods following the Davidheiser sale. See sale register for list of goods offered.

While on a business trip through New York and Pennsylvania, M. Frank Meehan, of New York City, came to Centre Hall for a few days' stay, and while here visited the last resting place of Mrs. Meehan, who will be better recalled as Miss Laura Strohm. Mr. Meehan conducts a golf service bureau and also solicits for the well known Hotel Red Book, published annually in New York.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Fresh fish and oysters at the old stand, the latter part of this week.—Wilbur Bland, Centre Hall.

Everyone who is fond of music is invited to come to Colyer on Saturday evening, April 12.—G. R. Meiss.

"Son of the Highest" is the title of an oratorio cantata rededicated in the Reformed church, Tuesday evening, under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick. The numbers were splendidly received.

Attaining her fifteenth birthday anniversary, on the 27th ultimo, Miss Agnes Geary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Geary, was tendered a party to which a half dozen of her school mates were invited.

Visitors at the F. P. Geary home during the past week were Mrs. D. L. Geary and daughter, Mrs. N. A. Auman, of Millheim, mother and sister, respectively, of Mr. Geary; T. R. Buck of Berwick, a brother of Mrs. Geary.

Visitors at the Mrs. Annie Homan home in Centre Hall during the week were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robinson, of Tyone; Mrs. Frank Armstrong, of Williamsburg; Mrs. Homan's daughter, Mrs. William Reish, of Boalsburg. The condition of Mrs. Homan shows continues to show improvement.

Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. William Jordan, of Colyer, boarded the train here for Pottsville where they will visit among the members of a hunting party who, for some years have been making their headquarters at the Jordan home during the deer and bear season. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan anticipate a most pleasant trip and will not be disappointed.

Miss Catharine Bradford, a graduate nurse from the Bellefonte hospital, who had been in the Pittsburgh district for several months, came to the Bellefonte hospital and immediate preparations were begun for an operation for appendicitis, which was performed Tuesday night. Her condition to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bradford, in Centre Hall, was reported favorable.

Van D. Meeker, of near Pine Glenn, in Rush township, moved to the James C. Goodhart farm, south of Centre Hall. Two days were taken up in driving the cattle to Centre Hall. Mr. Meeker and Mr. Goodhart have adopted the fifty-fifty plan of farming. The Goodhart farm is highly productive, with excellent improvements.

Since making sale of his farm stock and moving to Centre Hall, Lanson Burris has taken a contract to do some farming on the Goodling-Tomhave farm, west of Centre Hall, and adjoining the Neff farm where he lived as tenant for many years. Several rooms have been furnished by Mr. Burris on the farm and it is proposed by Mr. and Mrs. Burris to stay there a part of the time, but at the same time they will keep up their home here where Mr. Burris' mother will also live.

The following personal is reprinted from the Lewistown Gazette and refers to an aged gentleman known to many of the older residents in and about Centre Hall: Lewis Gahagan and his daughter, Miss Bessie Gahagan, 124 West Market street, Lewistown, left Thursday morning for Philadelphia where they will remain for a few days. Mr. Gahagan, who is 81 years of age, and a Civil War veteran, has not visited Philadelphia since the close of the Civil War, almost sixty years ago.
