Tuesday morning, Boise Brown, of Tusseyville, left for Pittsburgh where he expects to enter upon one of several offers of employment. He expects to further fit himself for a higher position by taking a course in a night school in that city.

On his way to Bellefonte, Monday evening, Frank P. Phillips, of Pottery Mills, stopped with the Reporter long enough to say that he had sold Brown Shank, of Centre Hall, a new Ford coupe, and a second hand touring car to Edward Zerby. Mr. Phillips was on his way to attend a banquet given to Ford salesmen by Mr. Beatty.

Byron W. Garis and sons were awarded the contract to build the retaining wall, porch piers, and chimney and fire-place at "Sunset Club" in Seven Mountains. The Garis have had large experience in doing this kind of work, and have promised to do their very best on this particular job, owing to the fact of its prominence along a much traveled highway.

The Eastern Star held an important meeting Monday evening in the Odd Fellows hall, their regular meeting place. There was initiation and other matters of import transacted, some of them growing out of the fact that a similar organization will be formed at State College within a few days. The local Star is yet young, but has had rapid growth since its discovery in the Masonic field.

Mrs. Mary E. Johnson Dead.
 Mrs. Mary E. Johnson (nee Grenoble) was born Sept. 1, 1898. She died in Yeagertown at the home of her sister, early Friday morning, aged 25 years. She is survived by her husband, Joseph Johnson, of Philadelphia, a son William Irvin, her father, John Grenoble, of Yeagertown, two sisters and three brothers. Funeral services were conducted at the home of her sister in Yeagertown Monday morning and continued in the Reformed church at Aaronsburg, conducted by the pastor of the deceased, Rev. J. S. Hollenbach, assisted by Dr. Rupley.

Lightning Strikes Steeple.
 The steeple on the Methodist church, Phillipsburg, was struck by lightning on Easter morning while the edifice was filled with worshippers. But for the assurances of the pastor, Rev. R. S. Oyster, there would have been a stampede after large quantities of plastering fell from the ceiling.

The Phillipsburg Journal says the steeple was given a terrible wallop. Viewed from the First National Bank corner it looked as if some monster had taken it into his mighty hands and twisted it into a big corkscrew.

Three oiling trucks were driven from Harrisburg to Bellefonte, on Tuesday, to be used in oiling state roads in this section as soon as weather conditions permit. Heretofore it was necessary to wait on oilers kept in the east, and this very much delayed work here. One of the oilers piloted by Shannon Booser.

Not many people hereabouts will remember of Lewis Hess living with his family on what is now known as the Speicher farm, west of Old Fort, who about 1867 located on the Brockerhoff farm beyond Old Fort and later went to near Penns Cave and from there to Phillipsburg, but the survivors of the 148th Regiment, Company G, will have no trouble recalling Frank Hess, a son of the farmer named above. The latter, now living in southwestern Texas, drifted into Centre Hall beginning of this week, calling on his buddies of 1861-65, among whom were B. D. Brisban and Alfred Durst. Mr. Hess is almost eighty years of age, but storms through the country like a young cyclone.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine
 Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Tonic and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

Responsibilities

The public are more than users of telephone service.

They, and no one else, provide the money necessary to conduct the business, and look to the business to pay adequately on that investment.

The public tell us what to do, when to do it, and where to do it.

They tell us how much service they want, and when and where they want it.

We take these figures and find out what it will cost to install the telephones, along with the central office equipment, wires, cables and buildings needed.

Then we must go to the public for the new money necessary to finance these additions.

The telephone using public pay us for their service, and they must pay us enough so that we can pay back to the same public, as investors, a reasonable return on the money they put into the business.

Or it might be summed up this way: Telephone rates must be adequate to enable us to make a reasonable return on the money invested in the business. Otherwise the public will not invest the new money needed to give the tremendous amount of new telephone service which is required by the people of this State.
