

THE CENTRE REPORTER

THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1924

HEBERSBURG.

Samuel Blerly is concreting the front of his garage.

Lester Minick bought a new Ford dump truck which he uses to deliver his concrete building blocks.

Calvin Crouse, who has been housed up owing to illness is able to be outdoors again for short periods of time.

Mrs. Venes Moyer, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Hubler, is confined to bed with a severe attack of lumbago.

Our road supervisor has a crew of men employed crushing stone which will be placed on the public road leading from this place to Smulton.

One day last week Mrs. Hubler, widow of Philip Hubler, while walking across her porch tripped on a board and fell in such a way as to fracture an arm and receive a scalp wound. Mrs. Hubler is an aged lady and suffers great pain.

Charles Brungart, who this spring moved to Nitany Valley on the Rickett farm, we are informed, is a patient in the Lock Haven hospital and is being treated for blood poison in his arm. The report is that his case is considered serious.

Quite recently Clayton Weaver of near Wolfs Store bought a building lot from Mrs. Samuel Shaeffer in town. He expects to erect a dwelling house on it some time this summer.

Last Wednesday night Samuel Mowery suffered severe hemorrhages, and for four hours the blood flowed from his nose, sometimes in streams. Dr. Frank was summoned and stated that he arrived just in time to save Mr. Mowery's life.

Last Wednesday while William Bair was hauling stone to the stone crusher which was in operation along the public road between this place and Smulton he fell off the wagon and fractured a bone in his ankle. Dr. Frank adjusted the fracture.

POTTERS MILLS.

We noticed that Potters Mills news was missing in the Reporter last week. Hello, scribbles, were you away from town?

Anyone wishing to rent a home call on C. R. Foust at the Beal home.

Miss Catharine Wagner of Tusseyville, was seen in town Sunday.

William Smith and family were callers at the Michael Smith home.

Mrs. Anna McClenshan was a caller among old friends and relatives on Saturday.

Mrs. Lulu Koonsman is putting out some nice fancy work; also tatting and sewing.

James Foust, from Georges Valley, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ennist. Also Mr. and Mrs. George Craig of Burnham.

Mrs. Henry E. Foust was called to the bedside of her sick mother, at Fruittown, one day last week.

F. A. Carson and H. L. Ebricht went a-fishin' one day last week, but we did not notice any big fish hanging around the car, nor did we even hear a good fish story.

A number of ladies from this place made a trip to Spring Mills on Tuesday for the purpose of placing new furniture in the M. E. parsonage.

SPRING MILLS

Samuel Condo is adding a large porch to his residence.

Miss Marion Corman accompanied her sister, Mrs. Keller, to Altoona on Sunday.

R. U. Bittner, of Avis, spent a short time with relatives and friends.

Mrs. (Dr.) H. S. Braucht, son Dean Braucht and wife, and Mabel Musser spent Sunday at Howard.

Quite a number of children are sick with colds.

Mrs. Ada Finkle is visiting her son

at Millinburg.

The intermediate and primary grade schools, taught respectively by A. L. Duck and Miss Mabel Musser, closed on Tuesday.

A son was born to Rev. and Mrs. Harry Sherman at the M. E. parsonage on April 25th.

Paul Grove will move from Lewis-town in the near future and start a automobile repair shop in his father's building near the station.

John Rishel is very ill with pneumonia; Malvern Grove is dangerously ill with the same disease; likewise a little son of Mr. and Mrs. Tibben Zuber.
