LOCAL AND PERSONAL

State College and Centre Hall High school ball teams will meet for the first time this season on Grange Park this (Thursday) afternoon.

Ten or fifteen members of the local Temple Knights of the Golden Eagle attended a meeting of the Bellefonte lodge on Friday evening, the occasion being conferring degrees on a class of new members.

The out-of-town people who attended the funeral of Mrs. A. P. Krape, on Monday afternoon, are noted below: Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Ruhl, Charles Ruhl, Mrs. Mark Schnure, Miss Romie Snyder, Millburg; Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Basor, Mrs. Fille Basor, Mrs. Motta, Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. John Ritzman, Thompsontown.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Breon, of Reading, and Mr. and Mrs. William Breon, of Irwin and Mrs. Lynn Platt, of State College, were called to Centre Hall on account of the serious illness of their father, John H. Breon. The former Mr. Breon is a contractor and builder, and the Westmoreland county man is employed in the Westinghouse plant.

The fog house, erected about thirty years ago by Joseph Decker, located at the Decker school house, on Monday was rolled back about thirty feet to make room for the new front to be erected later. The work was performed by Aaron Thomas, the veteran house roller, assisted by H. E. Shreckengast and Samuel Shoop. The place is being enlarged by the "Sunset Club," an incorporated body.

Edgar Miller, of near Tusseyville, on Saturday began to regularly serve as assistant cashier in the First National Bank, at Centre Hall. He is a young man of fine qualities and heretofore has been engaged in teaching public school. Mr. Miller succeeds Miss Nancy McWilliams, who had been in the bank since it first opened, not quite two years ago. Miss McWilliams quit the bank to make a home for her father, in the McWilliams home, at Rock Springs, above Pine Grove Mills. She filled her place in the bank most admirably, and the bank officials and customers very much regret her retirement.

They Did Wallop Millheim.

Smarting under the defeat of two weeks ago at Millheim, the Centre Hall High baseball team adopted the slogan "Wallop Millheim" for the return game, which was played Tuesday afternoon on Grange Park. In a contest containing all the good, bad and indifferent elements of baseball, the local high school gave Millheim an unexpected wallop, but not until local fandom saw an 8 to 1 lead overcome by the visiting team and forced ahead to a 9-8 score, in the 8th inning. However, the "wallop-Millheim" idea was so rooted in the minds of the Centre Hall boys that they came back in the same half of that inning and put four runs over the rubber, and held the score at 12-9, emerging a glorious winner and holding the lead in the school league with five games won and one lost. Millheim scored the only victory over the locals this season, hence the keen, but friendly, rivalry.

The game abounded in errors, and Newton Crawford was entitled to an easy victory. He pitched masterful ball, his speedy shoots being too much for the visitors. However, his teammates were decidedly off in fielding, and many easy chances were turned from A's to E's in the box score. But Millheim, too, was a rank offender on several occasions, all of which served to keep the game interesting and made the final outcome all the more cheerful. "Connie" Snyder deserves much credit. When tension was at the snapping point he came through and helped big in the victory. Harold Durst was also a shining figure at bat and in field.

Centre Hall gathered 15 hits off Cable and Haines; Millheim, 6 off Crawford.

From the Bleachers.

One of the things most needed by high school baseball teams is a coach who thoroughly understands the game. Bad coaching, or rather lack of coaching, cost both teams heavily in Tuesday's Centre Hall-Millheim game.

The rules of the game must also be mastered by the players. There should be no argument on points covered by well defined rules. Avoiding of such incidents adds to the pleasure of the fans and keeps the players in better spirit.

The spirit of the players in Tuesday's game was fine. It was a bloodless game, but the carnage was close to the skin.

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a tonic and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions. All Druggists.
