Child Labor Amendment.
Approval was given by the Senate to a constitutional amendment which would empower the Federal Government to limit, regulate or prohibit the labor of children under 18 years of age. It previously had been approved by the House and now goes to the States for ratification.

The vote was 61 to 23, or five more than the necessary two-thirds.
Under the amendment Congress would have the power of regulation, but the enforcing power would be vested in the Federal and State Governments. The vote of three-fourths of the States is necessary for ratification. The measure is being stoutly opposed by many organizations, whose chief objection is that the age limit is too high. Other objections are on general principles.

BILL BOOSTER SAYS

"DON'T BE A SCISSORBILL! HE'S A STIFF-NECKED OLD GUY WHO SAYS 'WHAT WAS GOOD ENOUGH FOR MY OLE GRANDPA IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME!' PROGRESS HAS STEAM-ROLLERED OVER THE NECK OF THE SCISSORBILL FOR YEARS, WHICH IS WHAT MAKES HIS NECK STIFF!"

Missionary Convention.
The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Northern Conference of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania of the Lutheran church will meet in Centre Hall June 18th and 19th. Among the speakers will be Rev. C. H. Brosius, of Williamsport, returned missionary from Africa, who on Friday evening, the last session of the gathering, will speak on "Our African Mission."

Rev. J. F. Harkins of State College, will preach the conference sermon. Mrs. George E. Fisher, of Selinsgrove, will preside at all sessions. Mrs. Fisher is president of the missionary society of the Synod.

Receives Medal for Heroism.
John W. Saxton, the well known young Tyrone Division operator at Unionville, who so gallantly distinguished himself as a hero at his tower, June 8th of last year, when he snatched a two-year-old child from death in the face of the fast approaching Lehigh Express at the risk of his own life and limb, was one of the twenty-seven Pennsylvania System employees to be presented with the Company's bronze medal for the performance of extraordinary acts of valor by President Rea at Broad Street Station a few days ago.

The facts of Saxton's heroic act bear repetition at this time. He heard Lehigh whistle for the crossing at Unionville station, and at the same time saw little Andrew Jackson Robinson, son of John Robinson, track foreman at Unionville, waddle up on the truck and stop. He realized that it was too late to pull the board on the engineer, so he rushed from the tower and snatched little John off the track just a fraction of a second before the heavy express thundered by. It was a deed of pure, unadulterated heroism, and Saxton richly deserves the great honor that has been bestowed upon him.

BOALSBURG.
The Maltas were successful with the festival though started at a late date. Everything was sold and in good time; the gross receipts were $102.

A very large crowd of people were here on Memorial Day evening; some think more than ever. The Lemont band furnished the music. Lloyd Claycomb of Altoona was the speaker.

H. M. Hosterman is attending the sessions of grand lodge of the I. O. O. F. this week.

The I. O. O. F. will decorate the graves of their departed brothers on Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

Rev. S. C. Stover moved on Monday to his new field of labor at Berlin. C. U. Wieland and wife and son Robert and wife and little daughter motored from Orbisonia Friday morning in a new Chevrolet. Robert and family were guests of Mrs. Hazel Meyer. They returned home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Edna Irvin, the representative to the Assembly of the grand lodge of the Rebekahs is attending the meeting this week.

Many former citizens spent Memorial Day here. Among them were: Mrs. Belle McIntire and family, of Altoona; Lee Brooks and family of Spring Mills; Emory Gettig and family, of Altoona; Irvin Johnston and wife, of Pittsburgh; David and Reuben Stuart and their families, Samuel Kaup, John Fisher and wife, Miss Blanche Rowe, Mrs. Andrew Gregg, Keller Mothersbaugh and some of his family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Weaver, J. H. Weber, Harold Coxey and family, J. Harry Kuhn and family, Fred Brouse, Cyrus Wagner, and others.

Dr. Dunlap 30 Years a Minister.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Dunlap, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Reading, celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of his ordination as a minister. Dr. Dunlap is a native of Centre county and last year held the services on Grange Park during the Encampment and Fair. Mrs. Dunlap, before marriage, was Miss May Rhone, of Centre Hall.

Missionary Society Officers.

At the meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Central and Susquehanna Synods held at Sunbury, the merger of the two bodies was effected. The organization is now known as the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania. The officers elected were, president, Mrs. George E. Fisher; recording secretary, Mrs. S. H. Korman, New Bloomfield; statistician secretary, Miss Ollie Woodward, Nook; treasurer, Miss Martha Dimm, Selinsgrove. The vice presidents of the Juniata and Northern conferences of the old Central Pennsylvania Synod, Mrs. Anna McDonald, Reedsville, and Mrs. S. W. Smith, Centre Hall, were retained. The next meeting of the body will be held in Williamsport.

Centre County W. C. T. U.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Centre County W. C. T. U. was recently held in Howard at which it was decided to hold the next annual county convention in that place, September 17th and 18th.

Mention was made at the meeting of the very generous support given the Bellefonte hospital by the Bellefonte W. C. T. U., which has long maintained a room in the hospital and in addition gave the returns from a cantata, $400, to the $100,000 fund.

Prize essay contests, as usual, have been held in the public schools of the county and the Bellefonte Academy and High school. Announcement of the prizes awarded for these will appear in the county papers after commencement.

State College Union reports a great increase in membership and general interest. Bellefonte, Phillipsburg, Rebersburg, Centre Hall and other unions throughout the county likewise show gratifying progress. A new union, organized at Wingate, was reported, as was also a flourishing L. T. L. for the children. The Y. P. B. (Young People's Branch) at State College and Centre Hall have done fine work.

The first night of the County W. C. T. U. convention at Howard in September is to be Young People's night, at which time a gold medal contest by the L. T. L.'s will be held and a playlet given by the Centre Hall Y. P. B.

Much interest in the soldiers and sailors department is manifest throughout the county. A number of afghans and sunshine bags have been made, by Centre county unions and sent to the disabled world war veterans and many more are being made. The U. S. Veterans Bureau calls the work of the W. C. T. U. of "inestimable value" while the War and Navy Departments have frequently expressed their appreciation.

Klansmen Barred from Jury.

The most striking rebuke administered so far to the Ku Klux Klan in Kentucky has just been inflicted in Laurel county by A. T. W. Manning, circuit judge of the district, which embraces several mountain counties in which the Klan has a strong foothold.

When prospective jurors were called Judge Manning asked each if he was a member of the "order known as the Invisible Empire of the Ku Klux Klan," or was in any other way connected with the order to the extent that he considered he owed allegiance to the Klan.

Two of the panel men admitted they held such views and promptly were relieved of service. After their places had been filled, Judge Manning, before a crowded courtroom, quoted the Constitution, setting forth the doctrine of freedom to all, regardless of race or religion.

"The law makes these guarantees, and the law of the land cannot be enforced by juries which are schooled in religious and racial hatred against classes of fellow citizens," declared Judge Manning.

"There is no place on a jury for a man whose oath to a secret organization is superior to an oath in Court."

"State" Wins in 10 Innings.
"State" and Centre Hall battled for an extra inning Saturday afternoon on Grange Park, the college town lads getting over the winning run in the 10th. Score, 10-9. It was an interesting game—the kind that fandom enjoys because of its tense moments, when a "break" means so much for one side or the other.

There were two outstanding figures in the game—Lynn Ross for Centre Hall, and Gilliland for State College. Ross established a place for himself in the immortal hall of fame. He did the mightiest thing any player can do at the most critical moment; the same thing the illustrious Babe Ruth could have done no better; i. e., hit a home run with the bases full. It came in the seventh when Centre Hall was dragging on a 9-3 score. Ross found H. Emery, S. Ross and Gross on the cushions when he stepped to the plate. Pitcher Myers slipped momentarily and out the heart of the plate. There was a resounding whack and the ball traveled with the speed of a comet to deep left field, close to the foul line. Four runs counted. Two more tied the score. Then the advent of Gilliland from center field to the pitcher's box. He silenced the bats thereafter; there was no more scoring, not even a hit, while the versatile "State" player won his own game in the tenth by lashing out his fifth hit of the day, bringing the winning run over the plate.
