GOVERNMENT PAYS BIG DIVIDEND ON INSURANCE.

Over Two Billion Government Insurance in Force—Service Men May Reinstated Lapsed Insurance.

Liberal dividends have been paid on all types of permanent insurance. To date more than $5,000,000 have been distributed among policy holders of converted Government Life Insurance. Over $2,000,000,000 of Government insurance is in force. The total number of death claims which has been awarded is 150,789, which represents $1,423,094,911.63 of insurance. 4,720,900 men and women have applied for Government insurance.

Thousands of people, realizing that Government insurance is the cheapest, safest and best on the market, are inquiring each day how they may obtain it.

All ex-servicemen and women who carried Term (War Time) Insurance may reinstate and convert it, if they are in good health, by the payment of one monthly premium on the Term Insurance and the first premium on the converted insurance.

Special reinstatement privileges have been arranged for those who are not in good health, providing they are not permanently and totally disabled, and their disabilities are the result of service.

Government insurance may be carried in its Term Form until March 3, 1926, or may be converted at once. A choice of six different plans is given. These policies contain many splendid features which can not be duplicated elsewhere at such a low premium rate. This low rate is possible because all administration expenses are borne by the Government.

Most insurance companies limit the disability benefits to age 60, there is no age limit to these benefits in the Government Insurance nor is there extra charge.

Liberal guaranteed values (cash surrender value; paid up insurance; and extended insurance) are provided at the end of the first year. A loan of 94 per cent of the cash value may be obtained after the policy has been in force for one year.

Full information and literature will be mailed upon request to the Insurance Division, U. S. Veterans' Bureau, 20th and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

Cross Burners Fined.

The following is reprinted from the Lewistown Gazette:

Floyd Goss and Charles Reahm, of Lewistown, and Samuel Maury, of Ephraim, Pa., were fined $25 each and the costs, a total of $90, at a hearing before William W. Wheeler, justice of the peace, of East Granville township, Tuesday evening. The three men, in company with Guy and Dyson Kline, of Burnham, were before the Justice's Court charged with disorderly conduct and malicious mischief in connection with the burning of a cross in front of the grocery and meat market operated by Earl Tomlinson in Kline Extension, Burnham, on the night of May 9.

All five of the men charged with participation in the burning of the cross are employees of the American Railway Express company here.

It was the claim of Mr. Tomlinson that the disorderly act was a detriment to his business. This was aggravated by the wearing of a hood or cowl by one of the participants.

M. A. Davis, county detective, worked up the case and brought the men before the justice's court where there was insufficient evidence to convict Guy and Dyson Kline, the latter agent for the American Railways Express company, who paid the entire fines and costs for his employees.

Tomlinson, in his complaint, alleges an element of spite entered into the demonstration which was likely to injure his business and the action was brought to discourage similar action by others.

It is alleged one of the five wore robe and cowl.

The Marions Hold Jobs.

Governor Pinchot took care of both Pa and Ma Marion. The former, E. C. Marion, is a building and loan inspector, while Mrs. Leah Cobb Marion has been given a berth on the state board of motion picture censors. Mrs. Marion has long been a W. C. T. U. leader and prominent in Republican politics.

Watts, the Poet.

Some time ago C. S. Watts, Kansas City, Kansas, in poetry gave an order to the Kerlin Poultry Farm for baby chicks, and now in verse he makes acknowledgement of their arrival thus:

The chicks got in last night on five
And every one of them alive;
Altho some were a little weak,
Food and drink they seemed to seek.

I gave them water, hard boiled egg;
You should have seen em "Shake a leg,"
They sure enjoyed their lunch at ten,
They took me for a mother hen.

At noon today they're still alive,
And in the water try to dive;
White as snow and three days old,
To me they're worth their weight in gold.

'Tis quite a trip for little tots,
From Mr. Kerlin's down to Watts;
'Tis fifteen hundred miles or more,
And not one dead—not even sore.

I'll care for them from day to day,
And bring them up the Kerlin way;
This winter when the eggs are high
Plenty to sell and none to buy.

Kerlin's food and cottage cheese,
A little scratch feed, cooling breeze,
Good pure water, lots of sun,
KERLIN LEGHORN—watch 'em run!

SUMMER SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

School at Dickinson College Open to All Denominations—Course Greatly Varied.

The fourth annual summer school of Religious Education, promoted by the Board of Sunday Schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will be held at Dickinson College, Carlisle, July 7-18.

The courses of study will include Bible study, week-day and Vacation Church Schools, Religious Dramatics, Recreation and Culture, Church Music and Worship, Study in Sunday School Administration, Principles of Teaching, Pupil Study, Psychology of Religion, Camp Fire, etc. There will also be special courses for Cradle Roll Beginners, Primary, Juniors, Teen Age, Young People and Adult workers. Epworth League methods, etc.

The faculty is superior to any of previous years. Rev. H. C. Wilson, D. D., is Dean; E. C. Keboch, registrar and business manager; J. V. Thompson, counselor of young people's section.

There will be a special young people's section for students 17 to 24 years of age, or those from junior high school grades up. The total program for young people will be presented and demonstrated through the organization of a young people's department of the church.

Students will live in the college dormitories and eat in the college gymnasium dining hall. There will be over 300 students in attendance.

A registration fee of $4.00 will be charged and must be paid in advance. Mail same to E. C. Keboch, Registrar, 211 Dauphin Building, Harrisburg, Pa. Room and board for 11 days will cost $16.00. Total cost $20.00 plus carfare and a few books.

Sunday School Boards, or schools or classes are sending delegates. The school is open to all denominations. 300 is the limit to registrations received.

Missionary Convention.

The missionary women of the Northern Conference of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania met in annual convention Wednesday and Thursday of last week, in the Lutheran church, and executed the program published with scarcely a change. The sessions were presided over by Mrs. George E. Fisher, of Selinsgrove, who has long taken an interest in mission work and child life, and is now teaching in the Selinsgrove public schools. Thursday evening's session was given over to Rev. C. H. Brosius, of Williamsport, a returned missionary from Africa, whose subject was "Our African Mission."

The delegates and representatives of the missionary societies and various branches of these societies in attendance are noted below:

- Society Delegates:—
Aaronsburg—Mrs. Musser.
Belleville—Mrs. Woodring.
Boalsburg—Mrs. Sweeney.

Dog Attacks Boy.

A collie dog, vicious on several previous occasions, attacked a son of Edward Loughner and before he could be freed, bit him repeatedly. The dog was killed and the brain was sent to a laboratory for investigation to ascertain whether or not the brute was suffering with rabies.

It appears the dog attacked the boy, aged about fourteen years, while in the cellar. The lad tried to evade the brute, and on leaving the cellar other members of the family gave assistance. The commotion stirred to action a hound, which pounced on the collie and while the two dogs were scrapping the boy and other members of the family ran into the house. The collie was then shot and the hound tied up to await developments.

Within a year or two, the collie had severely bitten Mrs. Loughner, mother of Edward Loughner, and lacerated the boy's face with his teeth in one of his bad temper fits.

The Loughner family live on the old Bible place, on the road leading east from the "Red Bridge," this side of Potters Mills.

The grist mill at Wolfs Store, below Rebersburg, changed hands, the present owners being Klinger and Young. The former comes from Shamokin and the latter from Bellefonte. The mill property for almost forty years was in the hands of D. B. Weaver, and for twenty years was operated by Weaver & Son. The mill dam, badly wrecked by high waters in the spring, is being repaired.

Two weeks ago mention was made of a farmer in the vicinity of Orangeville, Illinois, advertising for sale alfalfa by the acre. A report of the sale, which was by public auction, indicates the one cutting of the crop sold for $10.00 to $17.00 per acre. The gross income from this crop is all a farmer could desire.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO DR. SPARKS.

Servants Hold in College Chapel Saturday Morning—Body to Be Cremated—Final Resting Place Not Decided.

Hundreds of friends and admirers of the late Dr. Edwin Erle Sparks crowded the college chapel Saturday morning to pay final tribute to the former president of the Pennsylvania State College whose sudden death ended a career of unequalled service to the institution. Every activity in the college and town ceased at 11 o'clock when the college bell tolled while a procession of honorary pallbearers moved with the casket into the auditorium.

The academic cap and gown worn for the last time by Dr. Sparks at the college commencement only five days before his death, was the only ornament on the casket as it lay surrounded by great masses of floral tributes from the college alumni, faculty, trustees and friends of the man who led Penn State through its great expansion period from 1908 to 1920.

Dr. John M. Thomas, who succeeded Dr. Sparks as president of the college in 1921, in eulogizing his predecessor at the services, said:

"The Pennsylvania State College, the community of State College, and indeed the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania unite today in a tribute of honor to the memory of a great man of whom the first thought in every heart is his kindness, his geniality, his genius for friendship."

"Dr. Sparks was a scholar to whom was awarded the high recognitions of the academic world. He was a lecturer and public speaker whom few could equal and none surpass on an occasion congenial to his talents. He was a college administrator who guided this institution in the days of its most notable advance."

"But above all Dr. Sparks was a kindly friend, a man of deep tender human sympathy, of insatiable desire for fellowship, a man who loved above all else the good will and good cheer of his fellow men."

The casket containing the body of the former president was kept sealed on the day of the funeral, but the morning before hundreds visited his campus residence for a last glimpse of the body, which will be cremated according to Dr. Sparks' wishes. The final resting place for the ashes has not been selected as yet by the family. Dr. Sparks' parents are buried at Middletown, Ohio.

Attending State Normal.

A number of young people from various sections of Penns Valley are attending the Central State Normal School, at Lock Haven, and are taking a course prepared to fit them for teaching public school. Among those who are now at this institution whose names have reached this office are the following: Harriet Frazier and Paul Weagley, Spring Mills; Mildred Duck, Martha Yearick, Sara Snyder, George Sweeney, Russel Reish, John Reish, Potters Mills; Linae Brooks, Centre Hall; Mary Zerby, Tracy Smith, Anna Zerby, Nona Wagner, Spring Mills; Russel Bohn and Paul Durner, Boalsburg.

Fire at Lock Haven.

Friday at noon a fire broke out in the cleaning establishment of Elmer Gibson on the first floor of the Columbus hotel, in Lock Haven, and before it was gotten under control the flames consumed it and several other minor buildings. Mr. Gibson was at work when the explosion burst, and as the fire was pretty badly burned, as was also Piker Frazel, an onlooker, Ben Probst an aged man living at the hotel, was overcome from smoke and heat.

More Girls Than Boys Born.

More girls are being born than boys this year according to the department of vital statistics. And there are more children being born this year than in any year since the war.

Only two boys are born this year to every three girls, the department announces in its bulletin which states that 109,573 babies were born in this state the first four months of the year.

The "Fourth at Colyer."

July Fourth will be celebrated at Colyer in the good old-fashioned way—with plenty of fireworks music, etc. G. R. Meist, the Colyer merchant, has engaged the Potters Mills orchestra, and the evening of the Fourth will be made a merry one for all who attend. There will also be ice cream, cake and fruit on sale. Go to Colyer on the evening of the Fourth and have a good time.

Penna. Not Karoondinda Creek.

This was decided by the state geographic board meeting at Harrisburg. One of the many requests received by the board for using the Indian names of streams, mountains and townships in the state, was from canoeists and asked that Penna Creek, which rises in Penna Cave, near Centre Hall, and flows into the Susquehanna near Selinsgrove, appear under its former Indian name of "Karoondinda." Requests of a number of sportsmen's canoeists' clubs that old Indian names of streams, mountains and other topographical features be restored by placing them in parentheses after the names now commonly used on maps were refused by the board for the reason that confusion would result in giving two names to the topographical feature.

Two Chevrolet touring cars were delivered during the past week by the local agent, W. A. Homan, one to Earl Ross and another to Dr. Gearhart, both of Linden Hall.

Y. P. B.'S 33RD CONVENTION.

Eighty-four Young Ladies Spend Week in Harrisburg With Proff.

[By Agnes E. Geary.]

The 33rd annual convention of the Young People's Branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Pennsylvania met at Harrisburg between the dates June 9-16. The delegates from the local union were Ruth Bingham and Agnes Geary. The total number of delegates and guests present was 84. They were entertained at the Harrisburg Academy. The week was spent very enjoyably in study, instruction and recreation.

To Miss La Rue M. Chorpennig, the state general secretary of Clearfield, a large amount of credit is due for making the convention a success. Mrs. Maude B. Perkins, of Syracuse, N. Y., the national Y. P. B. secretary, gave the delegates instructions in law enforcement and government. Dr. Sina Stratton, the state superintendent of moral education, was another interesting instructor. Miss Ada Matswaka, a young girl from Tokyo, Japan, was a guest. She is spending the summer studying and in a year or two will return to her home and organize a Y. P. B. there. A number of state officers of the W. C. T. U. were present and helped to make the convention very enjoyable.

Statistics showed that State College and Centre Hall were the only active branches in Centre county and that the amount of work done by these two locals, considering their small membership, is remarkable. Centre Hall tied with Knoxville, Tiooga county, for honor local in the music department and they also received a prize for the work done in the evangelistic and Sabbath observance department. The local branch should surely aim to reach a higher goal than ever before in 1925.

The mornings and evenings of the convention were spent in transacting business and receiving instruction, while the afternoons were times for recreation. Some interesting features were a visit to the State Capitol, library, and museum; trips to Gettysburg and Hershey; a visit to the executive mansion, and meeting Mr. and Mrs. Pinchot, and the Golden Jubilee banquet. All the delegates claimed to have had a delightful time, and they will surely go back to their local work with new ideas, new inspirations, and higher goals for the ensuing year.

Rural Leader School.

Arrangements have been completed for taking care of 150 rural leaders who will gather at the "Rural Leadership School" which is scheduled for the week of August 21 to 27 at the encampment grounds of the Centre County Pomona Grange at Centre Hall.

Circulars have been sent out to the local granges and other farm organizations to send their delegates to the school. The purpose of this week of lectures and demonstrations is to train community leaders in formulating and conducting community programs, plays and other social activities. A printed program containing the list of speakers and other details is being printed and can be obtained by writing to the Farm Bureau office at Bellefonte or to Miss Sara Neff, secretary of the committee at Centre Hall.

Eagles Buy Piano.

A new Foster upright piano was purchased by the lodge of the Knights of the Golden Eagles and was placed in the hall on the third floor of the First National bank building, on Friday. The instrument was procured from Harter, the musical instrument dealer, in Bellefonte.

Hospital Meeting.

At a meeting of the new hospital board the following officers were elected: George Hazel, president; J. Laird Holmes, vice-president; R. L. Mallory, secretary; E. R. Owens, treasurer. Adolph Fauble and W. H. Noll tendered their resignations and H. S. Moore and Calvin Troupe were elected to serve in their places. The latter was a member of the former board and was immediately made chairman of the building committee.

Festival at Linden Hall.

A big festival will be held at Linden Hall Saturday evening of this week, by the baseball club of that place. All the delicacies of the season will be on sale. You are invited to attend and bring your friends along.

Still Operator Eludes Capture.

News of a still being operated near State College coming to the ears of the authorities Officer Mingie did a little sleuthing around and finally located the plant on the John Haugh farm, tented by R. E. Patterson for some few months past. Together with Enforcement officer Howell, he and Deputy Harris Holmes, Fred Resides, George Fulton and Ernest Hoy, prepared to make a swoop on the place and capture the operator and seize the still. Patterson was away from home when they arrived at the place and they lay in wait for him, but in some manner he wised up to what was going on and jumping in his car he beat a hasty retreat. The officers gave chase, but a tire went flat and the chase was off. Returning to the house they secured the still together with about 140 gallons of mash and a small quantity of moonshine.—State College Times.

Frank Phillips, sub-agent for Beaty Motor Company, recently sold a new Ford touring car to John Horner, Chester Grove, clerk in the Honner store, purchased a second-hand touring car through Mr. Phillips.

Bellefonte Wins from Locals.

Bellefonte, leaders in the league race, defeated Centre Hall last Thursday evening in a 7-inning game, at Bellefonte. Score, 6-2. Gross and Weber were the opposing twirlers, and Gross pitched the better game, yielding six hits to seven by Weber. Errors, as usual, proved the undoing of the locals. The infield work was ragged, and assisted Bellefonte in running up the score when it should have been nothing more than a tie score, so far as earned runs were concerned. Centre Hall scored two earned runs after two were out in the 3rd. Lynn Ross drove a beauty to left field for three bases and scored on Keller's short rap. A Crawford's second hit of the game scored Keller. A timely punch in several instances would have brought home the bacon, for many runners were left on bases when batters failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Millheim Again Wins from Locals.

Millheim made it four out of five games played this season, when they defeated Centre Hall at Millheim on Saturday afternoon. Score, 6-1. Ray Miller proved the same old puzzle and held the locals to four widely scattered hits. Time and again Centre Hall had men on bases, only to be let die there because the necessary punch was lacking. The locals are occupying the cellar position in the race, but local fandom is trusting they will soon tighten their belts and head upward. There is no decided weakness on the team; in fact, individually the club is as good as any in the league, but there is an apparent lack of team work, and it is this one factor that either wins or loses games. Just now it is losing games for the home team. Better team play will put the locals on the long end of the score more frequently. May it come soon.

Freeing Church.

The Evangelical church in Centre Hall is being freed by R. E. Salesbury, of Tyrone. The Sunday-school room was completed last week, and looks decidedly pretty, the colors blend in most harmoniously and the design neat and churchly in appearance. The woodwork will also be painted and a new carpet laid. This will again put the church edifice in first-class condition.

Bubb—Behrent.

A news dispatch from Allentown stated that prior to the commencement exercises at the Park Bible school, two of the students, Walter F. Bubb, of Centre Hall, and Miss Adeline E. Behrent, the valedictorian of the graduating class celebrated their graduation by getting married. Rev. George B. Kulp, of Battle Creek, Mich., performed the ceremony. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bubb have decided to engage in evangelistic work.

Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise was held on E. Gertrude Loughner, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Loughner, in honor of her eighteenth birthday. The following were present: Pearl and Edith Floray, Sara Snyder, Grace Snyder, Elsie Sweetwood, Sarah Sweeney, Mary Fortney, Kathryn Wagner, Ruth Noll, Gladys Noll, Lenora Foust, Grace and Ruth Grove, Vesta Blauser, Gertrude Loughner, Alvin Floray, Myels Snyder, George Sweeney, John Fortney, Andrew Jordan, William Hanna, Roy Noll, Paul Lingie, Henry Blauser, William Confer, Hoover Noll, Edward Loughner, Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. C. C. Findlay, from Derry; Mrs. Isabella Findlay, Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Noll, Jr., Dean Noll, Grace Noll, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Loughner, Donald Loughner.

Encampment and Fair News.

The committee, Grange Encampment and Fair, will meet at Centre Hall on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 1st, and plan further for the success of the big gathering.

The pageant, "The Third Season," presented so beautifully at Pittsburgh last November by Centre County Granges, served to advertise more widely the Encampment and Fair.

Evening entertainments of the cleanest and most wholesome type are assured through the plays of real dramatic merit, which will be presented by a number of Granges from various parts of Centre county.

The secretary, Miss Sankey, will be in Centre Hall the week beginning Monday, June 30th.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

Tyrone Bread, at the Star Store. 8c loaf.

Mrs. J. M. Coldron spent a few days at State College with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Royer.

Six farm tractors were unloaded at the Centre Hall station one day last week by D. W. Bradford.

A carp measuring 23 inches in length and weighing fourteen pounds was caught in the Juniata river, below Tyrone.

Dr. Rieker located in Millheim having come there from Mill Hall. He is a graduate of the U. of P., Philadelphia, veterinarian department.

Mrs. Ellen Stuart and grandson John Gilliland, of State College, were guests at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs, in Centre Hall, returning home Monday morning.

W. R. Bierly, a native of Rebersburg, who for several years conducted a law book store at Philadelphia, has sold out his business in that city and has gone to Harrisburg where he will edit the Quarterly Digest of Pennsylvania.

There is scarcely an end to new auto cars one now sees on the road. Among others about here who have fitted themselves with new turnouts are I. M. Arney, who drives a nobby Flint touring car, and Richard Brooks, who sports a touring car of the Oakland quality.

The last coat of paint is being applied to the Odd Fellows building by Magnus Duck and helpers. The appearance of the structure, which accommodates not only the Odd Fellows lodge but the Oriole grocery, pool room and residence for B. D. Brisbin, is very much improved.

The Kerlins' Grand View Poultry Farm of this place recently added to their present flock of pedigreed English-American S. C. White Leghorns seven hens. Three of these birds have trap-nest records above the 300-egg mark. They are 291, 297 and 225. Four full sisters of the 225-egg hen were also purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Neese, of Millheim, autoed to Centre Hall Thursday evening of last week and while in town Mr. Neese found time to call on the Reporter. He is operating the planing mill for Walter Fetterolf, and the mill has been doing a good business and has orders booked to keep it going for some time.

The iron, plank and timber in the bridge over the Juniata river, at Lewistown, was sold to various parties, the total proceeds being $5,545. The iron sold for $17.60 per ton to Whitaker & Diehl, Harrisburg. The plank and timbers were sold at auction by the span; the price ranging from $55.00 to $103 per span.

The Millfin County National Bank moved into temporary quarters in Lewistown where it will do business until the new banking building is erected and equipped exclusively for banking purposes. The structure will be of stone. The bank was located in the building to be razed for a period of thirty-four years.

Peter Gleixner, of Benazett, Elk county, spent a week with his son Edward and family in Centre Hall. On returning home on Saturday he took with him Catharine and Ollie Gleixner, granddaughters, who will spend some time with the grandfather and other relatives Mrs. Gleixner accompanied them as far as Northumberland where she stopped for a day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Musser, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Musser and Miss Ruth Smith, Wednesday of last week started on an auto trip to Akron, Ohio, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bohn and Philip Musser. Mrs. Bohn and Mr. Musser, in the Ohio city, are daughter and son, respectively, of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Musser. They will return the latter part of this week, provided the plans carry out.

"Rusty," the black shaggy-haired dog brought to town twelve years ago by John H. Knarr, and for a number of years given a home and protection by C. E. Flink, was struck by an auto to Thursday evening and killed. He was given a respectable dog burial by Mr. Flink. "Rusty" was a well known character about town and was the friend of everyone—big and little—who had a kind word or pat for him.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Phillimore, of Leona, New Jersey, are on their annual trip through Pennsylvania and passed through Centre Hall on Friday, stopping only long enough to greet a few friends. While the couple live in New Jersey, in a home just built for themselves and a daughter who is also married, Mr. Phillimore's business place is in New York City. From here Mr. and Mrs. Phillimore went to Vintondale to visit John H. Krumbine, a brother, who is a, badly crippled with rheumatism that he is obliged to use a wheel chair.

Mill Creek, at the extreme west end of Kishacoquillas Valley, is recouping its treasury again by fines collected from motorists who happen to drive over fifteen miles per hour through that borough. The business men of the town are much opposed to the action of the council owing to the fact that it is being shunned by many heretofore customers, but the council, which is termed a one-man affair, goes on grabbing a fine whenever it can. An autoist who stopped in the town for gas asked the pump man the name of the place and on learning it was Mill Creek, cancelled the order for gas and drove on.
