Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Helm and three children, of Harrisburg, were visitors at the W. F. Colyer home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Garis and family motored here from their home in Luxor last week and spent some time with relatives here and at Pleasant Gap.

Domer S. Ishler, rural mail carrier on Route Two from Centre Hall, was recently thrown from a horse and since has been unable to run over the mail route. Substitute Harry C. Reish has been making the regular trips.

Miss Edith Schlegel, of Fleetwood, Berks county, is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. R. Keener, at the Reformed parsonage. Miss Schlegel is a school teacher by profession, and while she had been here before, this is her first stay of any considerable length.

Hon. William J. and Mrs. Kepler and daughter, Miss Catherine of Pine Grove Mills, were in town Monday evening, the ladies spending the time with friends while Mr. Kepler attended a session of lodge. Miss Kepler has been located in Washington, D. C., during the past six years, and for three years has been doing Red Cross work in the National capital.

Among the western tourists who are in the valley are Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Lee, their son Clifton and daughter, Mrs. Blaine, and the latter's husband, Vertel Blaine, all of Freeport, Illinois. Mr. Lee is a son of the late James Lee and with his parents at one time lived in Centre Hall. Before coming here the party visited Mr. Lee's mother, Mrs. S. R. Kump, in Lock Haven, Mr. Lee, almost thirty years ago, with three companions—Bruce Goodhart, Robert Goodhart and Al. Homan—left the valley for the "west," which was then anywhere west of the Pennsylvania state line. Mr. Lee and Mr. Goodhart both located in Stephenson county, Illinois, permanently, while the others returned to old Pennsylvania and are now living in Altoona. Mr. Lee took up railroading with the New York Central. The party expect to remain here for some time visiting among friends and relatives, who are many.

DEATHS.

MILLER.—Samuel B. Miller, one of the oldest residents of Bellefonte, died very suddenly Thursday of last week while seated in a chair at his home. He was born near Hicksville, Ohio, and during the Civil war served in Company C, 10th Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He was for seven months a prisoner at Andersonville. Forty years ago he came to Bellefonte and engaged in farming.

FUNK.—Catharine Funk, wife of L. Calvin Funk, died at her home on Lemont, Monday morning, after being confined to bed for a period of about a week. Interment will be made today (Thursday) at Millheim, after services are held at the home.

Group Visit to Pastor.

On the evening of July 5th the members of the Trinity Reformed church, Centre Hall, agreeably surprised their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Keener, by making a "group visit" to the parsonage on the occasion of their first wedding anniversary. Good things to eat were brought in a seemingly endless stream and soon a delicious repast was being enjoyed. The evening was spent in hearty fellowship which caused the evening's close to come altogether too quickly. Those present were: Miss E. Jane Aikens, of Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boozer, Mrs. D. A. Boozer, Mrs. D. M. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bradford, Mrs. Mary Dauberman, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Delaney and children, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Ministerium Meeting.

The local ministerium met at the Presbyterian Manse Monday afternoon, July 7th, with Revs. Bingham, Drumm, Kirkpatrick and Keener in attendance. Rev. Daubenspeck, of Millheim, was a welcome visitor.

The president gave an interesting report of the County Sunday School convention recently held at Port Matilda.

The ministerium takes this opportunity of expressing its appreciation and conveying hearty thanks to all those who, in any capacity, made possible the successful operation of the Community Daily Vacation Bible School of a few weeks past. Indeed, the whole community is indebted for the work done in the school.

The mountain portion of the main street is being patched with oil and stone. The whole of the street to the station, should have attention. The edges of the built up section are breaking away, and to preserve this, a straight line should be made on both sides the street and the surface built up with stone and oil to this point. If this is not done, the innumerable breaks will continue to enlarge and within a year there will be great destruction and much additional expense to again build up the larger areas.

A daughter was recently born to Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Dale, of State College. The Dales are well known here, where the head of the family practiced his profession prior to locating in the college town. Congratulations, as a whole.

From the Bleachers.

Bellefonte had a bunch of rooters at Saturday's game all primed to pipe in at every opportunity time. There were several lads quite original and frequently gave the home fans occasion for hearty laugh.

Crawford, the pitcher, was not properly groomed for diamond work. All he did all day, up to the time of the game, was shovel coal from a coal car. While that is honorable labor, it's not grooming for baseball.

We must give it to Miss Lenora Foust that she is some gate-keeper. When she sets her eye on a tightwad, he just must dig down in his jeans or see the game over the fence.
