Summer Resort for Woodward.
Willard and Wesley Hosterman and Edgar F. Stover, accompanied by their families, all of Buffalo, New York, visited their old home at Woodward. The trip combines business with pleasure as they contemplate rebuilding the old Woodward mill dam, back up the waters of Pine Creek with the ultimate result of making a summer resort as it would afford a most delightful place for boating and fishing while the water power would supply electricity not only for their own uses but for the town of Woodward.
The three gentlemen are successful business men; and as the old home town has lost none of its attractiveness they feel that the venture might not only prove a profitable investment to them but result in great benefit to the quaint old town where they were born and spent their "early days."

DEATHS.
OSMAN.—A telegram from the superintendent of the State Hospital, at Danville, received here Tuesday morning, announced that Alfred Osman, an inmate of the institution, had died there Monday afternoon. The deceased was born and reared in the vicinity of Centre Hall, and was the son of the late Uriah D. Osman. He was a bricklayer by trade and engaged at that work in various cities through the east and west. Before entering the State hospital he had spent considerable time about Centre Hall and had become unable to work, and finally melancholy. He was never married. There survives him his only sister, Amelia, wife of Horace Zerby, Salt Lake City, Utah, and a half-brother, T. Milton Osman, of the same place. The body was shipped to Centre Hall, where interment was made. Undertaker Goodhart took care of the body, as previously arranged for by the half-brother named.

SHEESLEY.—Jackson A. Sheesley passed peacefully into the great beyond at his home at Woodward. Mr. Sheesley was in feeble condition for some time. He was aged 51 years, 10 months and 6 days. His wife died on June 21 last, but he is survived by ten children, as follows: Mrs. Isaac Overdorf, of Jersey Shore; Mrs. Wm. Miller, of Loganton; Mrs. Wm. Haines John, and Clayton, of Woodward; Adam, George, Reuben, Edward and Harry, all of Union county, besides thirty-six grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren.
Funeral services were held from the home of Wm. Haines, at Woodward, on Friday afternoon and continued in the lower Evangelical church. Interment in the Woodward Union cemetery; services by Rev. C. B. Snyder.

Deaths in Centre County.
Isaac Hinton Wyland, formerly of Bellefonte, died in Detroit, aged 74 years.
John Henry Rider, aged 62 years, in Bellefonte.
Saul Knarr, near Beech Creek, aged 86 years.

School House Sold.
The Cold Spring school house, in Seven Mountains, was sold at public sale Saturday afternoon to W. F. Bradford, representing the Sunset Club, whose property surrounds it. The building and land were sold separately, the former for $74.00 and the latter at $25.00. The only bidders were Donald Gettig, of Bellefonte, and Mr. Bradford. It was Mr. Gettig's purpose had he become the owner to convert the building into a cottage.
The school house in question was built about 1876 by John Decker. The land, one-fourth acre, was cut from a tract owned by the Allison's, and now again becomes a part of the original tract.

The Musser Murder.
There are apparently no new developments in the Musser murder case. The three prisoners, Harry Musser, Herbert Heaton and Seymour Stover, seem to be content in confinement in prison. It is generally thought that before the September court opens, attorneys for the prisoners will institute habeas corpus proceedings with a view of ascertaining the line of evidence obtained by the county prosecuting attorney, Arthur Dale.

Teacher Elected for High School.
Miss Anne B. Osler, of New Cumberland, has been elected a teacher in the Centre Hall high school, which completes the faculty for the 1924-25 school term.

The first Brungart family reunion will be held September 6, at Brungart's Church, east Brush Valley. Abdel Ross Wentz, Ph. D., D. D., of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary, department of Church History, and an authority on German settlements, will give an address. There will also be read and exhibited a recently completed historical and genealogical record dating from the arrival of the first Brungart in America.

1,130,000 Motor Vehicles.
Approximately 1,130,000 passenger and commercial motor vehicles have been registered the first seven months of this year, compared with 1,064,000 for the entire year of 1923. Revenues for the automobile division exceeded $24,000,000 for this period compared with $15,800,000 for the entire preceding year.
Half rates for registration became effective Friday, and Benjamin F. Eynon, registrar, said that more than 1,000 applications have been filed under the reduced registration fee.

Old Age Pension Act Dead.
The old age pension act passed by the last legislature was declared unconstitutional by the Dauphin county court on Monday.
The decision, handed down by President Judge William M. Hargest, sustains actions brought by more than forty plaintiffs, who contended the act was in conflict with the organic law of the state. It was based on the constitutional provision providing that "no appropriations, except for pensions or gratuities for military services, shall be made for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes or community, or to any denominational or sectarian institution, corporation or association."

STATE'S HIGHEST MOUNTAINS NAMED
Somerset County Has Highest Elevation in Pennsylvania, According to List Compiled by Col. Henry W. Shoemaker.
Somerset county leads other Pennsylvania counties in the altitude of its mountains, according to Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, McElhattan, one of the State's leading conservationists, in an article in a Department of Highway's bulletin entitled "Facts Motorists Should Know." He cites a number of mountains ranging in altitude from 3,200 feet to 1,000 feet.

In Somerset county, Colonel Shoemaker named Negro mountain, 3,200 feet; Big Spring Summit, 3,169 feet; Laurel Run Summit and Peck's Peak, 3,135 and 3,129 feet respectively, and Old Fort Hill Summit and Mount View School Knob, 3,100 feet. Several others above the 3,000 foot height are named. Martin's Hill, Bedford county, has an altitude of 3,075 feet, while Indian Creek Summit and Panther Rock Hill, Westmoreland county, and Clay Run Summit and Sugar Leaf, Fayette county, have altitudes of 3,000 feet.

Other mountains ranging at or above the 2,000 foot height are found in Potter, Clinton, Susquehanna, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Wyoming, Franklin, Centre and Fulton.
"The mountains are the state's greatest heritage that makes for courage, clean living and lofty aspirations," Colonel Shoemaker said. "We must preserve the trees that grow on them as our most logical watersheds and for their beauty and the birds and animals that inhabit them for their economic value and charm."

Hall's Catarrh Medicine
Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Tonic and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions. All Druggists. Circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.
