On the Wrong Track
A young lady was given a position in a public library and the first applicant for a book sent her on a quest that had not ended when the superintendent happened along. "How about the new girl?" asked that functionary of the clerk at the desk. "Has she had any previous library experience?" "I fear not." "Why did you surmise that?" "This patron has asked for the Arabian Nights and she is still looking among the Ks."

THE SHEEP

"Baa-a-a," said Mrs. Sheep. "Baa-a-a," said Miss Sheep. "Baa-a-a," said Mrs. Black Sheep. "Baa-a-a," said the other Sheep. "I shall be the leader," said Sheepy Sheep. So they all followed Sheepy and they went through a gate and into a lovely meadow beyond. One after the other—they all followed Sheepy. After they were in the meadow they ate for a while and then they decided they would sit down and have a rest. "I don't just know why I want to rest," said Mrs. Sheep. "I haven't been very busy working today! In fact, I never am very busy, but I do like to rest." "Ah yes," said Miss Sheep. "I, too, like to rest." "Baa-a-a," said Mrs. Black Sheep. "I enjoy a pleasant rest." All the other Sheep agreed that they thought it was delightful to rest. "I think it must be a habit," said Mrs. Sheep. "Sheep have always had this habit," said Miss Sheep. "It's not up to us to change the Sheep ways," said Mrs. Black Sheep. All the Sheep said: "Baa-a-a, Baa-a-a, it is not up to us to change the good old ways of Sheep." "We are so gentle," said Mrs. Sheep. "We are rather timid though we can become very tame and friendly after we get used to some one." "We have to know our friends well though. We aren't great on picking up friends quickly." "No, we must know our friends quite a long time." "Yes," said Miss Sheep. "we don't make friends quickly, but that, as you say, is because we are so timid." "We're shy," said Mrs. Black Sheep. "We're shy, baa-a-a," said all the other Sheep. And Sheepy Sheep said: "Baa-a-a, baa-a-a, baa-a-a, baa-a-a, we're very, very shy, baa-a-a, baa-a-a, baa-a-a, baa-a-a—" "Some creatures are always busy," said Mrs. Sheep. "But we know how to get along and hardly do a thing. Of course we give good wool and so we are useful and we do our part. But we ourselves are never to be found working hard, or even working at all." "No," said Miss Sheep, "we're never to be found working hard." "You couldn't find many who were as happy doing as we are." "We can sit still for hours." "We look one way or we look another but nothing interests us enough

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Should Use Swamp-Root

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing, be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement

No Time to Stop

A woman, who lives near Sullivan was reading from a magazine an article on the proper way to rear boys to make good husbands. She gave a little sigh. "I've spoiled my boys for husbands," she said. "I've kept their socks darned, their shirts laid out, cooked the kind of food they like best and done everything like that." Her oldest son looked up with mild interest. "Well, mother," he said "surely you're not going to stop it now, are you?"—Indianapolis News.

Woman Novelist Led

Maria Edgeworth is regarded as the inventor of the novel with a purpose, of which kind "Castle Rackrent," which sent her name into immediate fame in 1800, is a typical example. Her success with her Irish novel had much to do with turning Sir Walter Scott to the writing of prose fiction.

Her Neighbor's Advice Helped Mrs. Frick

MRS. ADA FRICK
PERRYBURG, OHIO

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am," said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments,— "if you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience
PERRYBURG, OHIO—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. ADA FRICK, R. "We take life very easy."
"That is why they say people can put themselves to sleep by thinking of us as we go through a gate, one after the other."
"There is something restful and peaceful about us."
"There is certainly nothing exciting about us," said Mrs. Sheep.
"But people love us and we have many friends and we are happy and contented in our own gentle fashion."
"Why should we go dashing about when we don't care about it? No reason at all."
"Baa-a-a, baa-a-a, baa-a-a, baa-a-a," said the other Sheep. "No reason at all."
"Let us lie in the meadow and be happy. Let us take a nap, nappy. Or let us stay wide awake. And think what a picture we make As we sit in the meadow, baa-a-a. And now we must bid you 'ta-ta.'"

A Social Error

Donald had fidgeted at the table, fussed to go out to play again, and had been a rather naughty boy, so it was with a little sigh of relief that his mother said he might be excused. At the sound of the clatter of the dishes that announced the taking out of the plates preparatory to the serving of the dessert, Donald came in. The big shortcake, smothered in luscious berries and whipped cream, he eyed with delight, and coaxingly approached his mother, saying: "Mother, may I be excused?"—Exchange.

Peaks in the East Have Famous Names

Up in the White mountains of New Hampshire rises what is known as the Presidential range. There stands Mount Washington, whose bleak summit is higher than almost any other mountain east of the Rockies. Near it rise the weather-beaten peaks of Mount Adams, Mount Jefferson, Mount Madison and Mount Monroe.

There is another Presidential range more complete than this hidden away between the covers of the New York telephone directory. Among the 765,000 telephone users of New York city may be found the surname of every man who has ever held the office of President of the United States. All are there—Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and every other, down through Jackson and Lincoln and Grant to the present day. Many another famous name appears in the pages of New York's telephone book, but it is rather remarkable that the roster of the presidents should be there without a single break.

Easy to Perceive

"There," said Sherlock Holmes, "sits the loneliest man in the world. Unmarried, unloved; no brothers or sisters, no little children to call him uncle; not even a landlady's child to smile at his return."
"Wonderful," gasped Doctor Watson. "How do you know all this?"
"Elementary, my dear Watson," replied the great detective; "he opened a package of cigarettes and threw the picture card away!"
