

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

John H. Puff, of Centre Hall, was a guest, over Sunday, of his son, LeRoy Puff, in Tyrone.

Col. W. J. Bryan is due in the central part of the state on a speaking tour in December.

Morris A. Burkholder is driving a new truck, an indispensable carrying vehicle on the farm today.

Contractor W. S. Williams expects to turn over the new High school building to the school district this week. The steam heating plant was tested out last week.

A new Flint touring car has been purchased by J. Cloyd Brooks, farmer on Rhoneymede. The Flint is an exceptionally fine car, both in appearance and in stability.

Rev. M. C. Drumm and family expect to depart for Middletown Tuesday of next week. Rev. Drumm preached his last sermon on the Penna Valley charge last Sunday.

William Bower, one of the Reporter's prompt-paying subscribers from Potter township, was a caller at this office Friday to put himself in good standing for another year. Thanks.

Mrs. H. L. Ebright and daughter Bettie, on Sunday returned from Thompsonstown, where they spent some time in a cottage on a camping site. Mr. Ebright drove there on Saturday to meet them.

Miss Doris Hazel, of Youngstown, Ohio, cousin of Miss Stella Hosterman, is a guest at the R. M. Smith home in Centre Hall. She is a daughter of Edward J. Hazel. She will remain in Penna Valley among friends for several weeks.

State school appropriation in the sum of $1500 was received on Monday by the local school board treasurer. This is on the basis of $3900 per annum under present ruling, but an increase in appropriation will be forthcoming with the next biennial.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Spicher, of Wilkinsburg, have been among friends in Centre county for a week or more. While at Centre Hall they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Neff. Before reaching here they stopped in Johnstown, Altoona and Bellefonte with relatives.

The prospects for an apple crop in Pennsylvania are but 39 per cent of normal. Last year at this time the outlook was 53 per cent. normal. The potato crop prospects throughout the state are improving. Throughout the United States, it is predicted, the production of potatoes will be about the usual amount.

On reaching Meadville, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Booser left the party they were touring with and went to Youngstown, Ohio, where they remained for a day or two, returning home on Sunday. In Youngstown they visited their daughter, Mrs. H. L. Kline and Mr. Kline. The others of the touring party to Niagara Falls reached home on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Brungart and daughters, who have been off on a two weeks' trip, expect to reach home today (Thursday) according to messages received here by friends. They went west as far as Ashtabula, Ohio, and Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, was the most northern point reached. Of course, Buffalo and Niagara Falls were also points of interest visited.

During the past week a few more "fronts" were put into presentable condition, and this makes the neglected places look all the more so. There are a few places along the street that seem to be regarded as "no man's" land, but it would appear that some one in the immediate neighborhood ought to permit his pride to run over the ownership boundary and spend a bit of time in improvement. It is remarkable how well property owners have responded in this matter during the past two months. There need to be a few more join us.

Mr. and Mrs. James Buck and Oaks Goodman, of Harrisburg, drove to Penna Valley on Sunday to view the old home surroundings of Mrs. Buck, who before marriage was Miss Lucy Wilkinson, of Pottery Mills. On their way home the party stopped at Sunset Club house, where Mrs. Buck when a child went to school in the old log school building that stood on the southeast corner formed by the Decker road and the State highway intersecting. Mr. Buck is a retired Pennsylvania railroad engineer, and is proud of the fact that he is eighty years of age, but looks twenty years younger.

"What's the Matter With the Farmer?" is the title of an editorial from the Philadelphia Record reprinted in this issue. Driving through the country one sees many farms so much neglected that it makes one feel that something must be done to maintain this most important vocation. We have passed through great panics heretofore, but at no time in the past were farm homes in this valley so neglected as now. Homes, the pride of the owners for years and marks in the community of thrift and good management, today are no better than that of the proverbial Peter Tumbledown. The editorial, not in any sense political, should be read by every one—not only by the farmers.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Bruce D. Rowe, of Newark, N. J., arrived in town Wednesday morning for his annual vacation.

Margaret and Edith Rudy are visiting their aunt, Mrs. E. T. Kellerman, in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Annie Homan and daughters visited among relatives at State College this week.

Mrs. William Turner, of Philadelphia, is a guest of Mrs. Anna Hemp-hill, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Calvin Osman, of Glen Iron, returned home recently after having visited for three weeks in Williamsport.

The Greengrove Evangelical church, north of Penn Hall, is being repaired by John Dunkle and the pastor, Rev. E. E. Haney.

Harry W. Potter and Miss Nancy McWilliams motored to Pittsburgh on Saturday and witnessed the Pittsburgh-New York baseball game.

A Kessler just returned from New York City with a new line of Fall merchandise and invites you to inspect the goods. Read the new adv.

Arch Moyer has been added to the force of mechanics at the Homan garage, in Centre Hall, to take care of Mr. Homan's constantly increasing business.

A double header with Bellefonte will be played on Saturday afternoon, on Grange Park. The locals have failed to take a single game from Bellefonte all season, but with two chances in a single day, it is possible we may cop one. Go out and see.

Mrs. Maria Wagner, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. William Bitner, at Tusseyville, attained her 85th birthday. She has been rather delicate in health, but was able to go out to a dinner at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. John Neff, on her birthday.

Miss Mildred Shultz, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. K. Shultz, of Lehigh, was recently awarded a scholarship in Temple University, Philadelphia. The young lady is pursuing a musical course, specializing on pipe organ.

The fourth lot in the Balfroot addition to Centre Hall was recently sold to Harry W. Potter, and from what can be learned will be immediately improved. The first lot in this addition, which is an extension of West Church street, has now an almost completed house on it.

This (Thursday) morning Mr. and Mrs. James S. Stahl will leave for Philadelphia for an indefinite period. Mr. Stahl's object in going to the city is to secure the benefits of a specialist for a malady from which he has been suffering for a considerable length of time and is growing more and more severe.

At a recent special session of the joint council of the Penna Valley Lutheran Charge, the president of the body, T. M. Gramley, of Spring Mills, and John Wert, of Tusseyville, were named a committee to secure a minister for the charge, which is now vacant.

The Pennsylvania Mutual Fire Insurance Association is in session at Gettysburg since Tuesday afternoon. The meetings are being attended by George Mitchell, of Lemont, and Frank M. Fisher, of Centre Hall, representing the Centre County Mutual Fire Insurance company in the capacity of president and secretary. The gentlemen are accompanied by their wives.

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Haney, at the Evangelical parsonage, Spring Mills, recently entertained C. W. Haney and family, of Queens Run, and Victor Haney, of Millinburg. The latter in September will engage in teaching in the Junior High school, in Curwensville, in the branches of mathematics, history and health. He is a Central State Normal graduate and has been making a success in the school room.

A P. O. S. of A. camp was organized in Boalsburg Tuesday evening with thirty-six members. Frank Ishler, of Linden Hall, was elected president. Judge Albert Johnston and Charles B. Helms, the latter the State secretary, were unable to be present. Addresses were made by Hon. W. I. Swope, of Clearfield, and State Organizer Yensley. The camp promises to be a flourishing one. The meetings are being held in the Malta Hall.

Mrs. Edward Bohn and little son, Musser, of Akron, Ohio, are guests at the home of Mrs. Musser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Musser, near Centre Hall. Mr. Bohn, who is employed by the W. E. Wright company, wholesale dealers in grain, coal and mill feeds, expects to join the family early next month, when he will have his annual two weeks' vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Limbert and two children also accompanied them. The former is a sister of Mrs. Musser. They made record time, leaving Akron at 9:00 p. m. they reached Centre Hall at 3:00 a. m.

Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Runkle, son Stuart, and Mrs. Jennie Sterling, a friend of the family, all of Philadelphia, landed in Centre Hall on Sunday. Since early in July they had been on an auto trip through the New England states, spending considerable time in the northern section of Maine. Going they kept close to the coast, but on reaching their terminus in the north they cut over New Hampshire and Vermont into New York. They were much pleased with the scenery in all the New England states, and were fortunate in making the 2,000 mile trip with practically no car trouble. After a few days here, they left for their Philadelphia home, where Dr. Runkle enjoys a large practice in his profession.
