ALL IN READINESS FOR ENCAMPMENT AND FAIR

The Best Program in Years Arranged for Next Week—Men and Women of National Prominence Here Wednesday and Thursday.

Saturday, August 30th, Grange Encampment and Fair opens on Grange Park for its 51st annual gathering. Many improvements, more campers each year, better exhibits in all departments, worth-while attractions and the increasing beauty of the grounds prove this is the place to come for pleasure, instruction and entertainment.

The committees are rushing work in every department so as to be in readiness for the great day. Duster and activity are observed everywhere. Men and women of State and National reputation will be present on Wednesday and Thursday. Give them an audience. Exhibits, lectures and demonstrations will be full of interest and information. Go and see and hear. All exhibits will be received on Monday and Tuesday. Competent men and women will have charge of the exhibit buildings and place each exhibit to the best advantage. Able judges and liberal premiums in all departments.

Needlework department will be conducted as heretofore—10 cents paid each article not before exhibited. No antiques received this year. A playground under supervision, has been enlarged for the small children. The Red Cross will have a first-aid tent on Main avenue and also conduct a day nursery where babies and small children will be cared for. All needed supplies can be purchased on Grange Park.

Electric light placed in tents at campers' own expense. When possible, campers should bring oil stoves. Both telephones in administration building. Bands Wednesday and Thursday. The "Filipino-5," a popular musical company, will begin Saturday evening, give free concerts daily. The plays to be presented in the auditorium each evening will be worthy of the support of all. 10 cents and 20 cents admission to auditorium.

Information bureau at administration building. Gates closed Thursday morning, August 28, from which date 50 cents admission will be charged those 14 years of age and over; under 14 years, free. Auto parking, 50 cents—good for week. Sunday, free admission to all.

Wednesday, September 3, is Centre County Veterans' Club reunion. All trains stop at Grange Park. Special trains on Thursday, September 4, only.

Soccer/Football Game.
Arrangements have been made for a game of soccer football between Spring Mills and Centre Hall, Thursday, 2 P. M., on the Park grounds during the Grange Encampment and Fair. The contest will be waged between the best teams of the two places that can be picked up and promises to be interesting.

To Roll Logs Once More.
One of the features of the annual picnic of the Modern Woodmen is held in the Seven Mountains Saturday. It will be an old-time log rolling contest on the Thompson mill dam. Some of the old-timers that used to raft timber down the West Branch of the Susquehanna are expected to take part in the novel contest.

Fall Millinery.
I have a nice line of fall millinery for women, misses and girls, which you are invited to come and see. You may want a new bonnet for next week—come early, while the selection is good. Prices, as usual, are below those of other shops for equal quality.—MRS. LUCY HENNEY, Centre Hall.

REMODELING SCHOOL HOUSE.

New Primary School Building Erected in Rebersburg—Brick Structure Being Rearranged for Miles Township High School.

Some time ago mention was made in these columns of the intention of the school directors of Miles township to establish a first-grade high school in Rebersburg. A short time ago a contract was entered into between the school board and W. S. Williams to erect a primary grade one-room house on the south corner of the present school site and to remodel the four-room brick building to accommodate the high school and some of the lower grades. The work to be done by Contractor Williams is now well on the way.

The new structure will be 25x35 feet, and will conform to Plan A, type 1 of standard plans of the State department. Much of the material to enter into the structure will be that secured from dismantling the one-room school houses in Miles township known as the Wolf school house west of Rebersburg, and the Brungart school house east of that place.

The two-story brick building, which is a pride of all Miles township citizens, will be remodeled so that it will accommodate five instead of four schools.

The wooden girders on the second floor will be replaced with steel girders and these will be supported on steel channel columns. On this floor there will be three rooms, arranged there they may all be thrown together. The first floor will have two rooms. There will be a complete change of windows on the North, South and West sides. Truscon steel window frames and sash will be used, and the windows will be equipped with two tilt bars each.

One of the two inside stairways will be removed and an outer doorway supplied. This will have wire-glass windows on each platform.

For various reasons the work has been held up, but now that the plans have been passed on by the State department and the contract let, Mr. Williams will make all possible haste in pushing the work to completion.

A TOURIST'S VIEW.

Sees Penns Valley and Seven Mountains in Tour from State College.

A tourist making a trip by auto over Nittany Mountain, through Penns Valley and across Seven Mountains and then up through Kishacoquillas Valley to Mill Creek, Huntingdon and Water Street, made extended comments which were printed in the State College Times. A portion of his impressions is reprinted below:

Another justly famed locality within touring distance of State College is the Kishacoquillas Valley, the home of a remnant of settlers of the Amish faith. The tour leads through the wild fastness of the Seven Mountains, and includes spots of interest, historically as well as delightful.

Following the Horseshoe Trail to Pleasant Gap, the route again conveys us over the summit of Nittany Mountain to present an unforgettable view of Penns Valley. Passing through Centre Hall, you continue to Old Fort, where we deviate from the path previously followed, leaving the Horseshoe trail and follow the Lewistown-Bellefonte pike.

Crossing the valley, we pass over Sinking Creek, which rises in Bear Meadows and joins Penns Creek at Spring Mills. The small mountain seen to the left of the stream is Egg Hill, which obviously gets its name from its general contour. Half a mile further stumps of virgin timber may be seen. The land was lumbered a year ago, removing one more of the few patches of virgin timber remaining.

Potters Mills, guarding the entrance to the Seven Mountains, is one of the oldest villages in the country. It was named after General James Potter, and now supports a mill, store and tavern, and is located at the point where the road enters the Tussey or Seven Mountains. The number of ranges varies in different places, and the road for the most part goes through gaps.

A scant half mile from Potters Mills there is a public camping ground, maintained by the Department of Forestry. A state forest nursery and the home of the forest ranger may be seen while climbing around one of these seven mountains. Two miles further, still in the mountainous country, we come to the Centre and Millin county line at the summit of Bald Mountain.

On the descent care must be taken while rounding Half Pin Curve, the scene of several disastrous wrecks. The road at the right leads to Stone Valley, but is closed at present, while waiting repairs.

Still further down another forestry camping ground is maintained. Below it is "Pot Lagonier Flat," noted for its summer houses, and then we enter Millroy. This little town was founded in 1809, and was named for General Milroy. It is the terminus of the Lewistown and Millroy railroad. In early days it had a few small factories and was noted for its churches and schools.

Game Hogs Captured.

Clinton county captured two game hogs and fined them, one $100 and the other $20.00. Dean Swartz paid the first fine for dynamiting Bald Eagle Creek and killing game food fish, and Robert Plankin, of Mill Hall, paid the last named fine for having gigger fish in the same creek.

DEFENSE DAY, AT BOALSBURG FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12TH

A Citizens' Mobilization Demonstration, With Basket Picnic, Entertainment and Big Review Before Military Officers—Entire Valley to Meet at Boal Camp for Rousing Patriotic Gathering.

Plans for observing Defense Day in Penns Valley, set by the President of the United States for Friday, September 12th, were formulated at a meeting held at Boal Camp, Boalsburg, last Friday evening. Upon invitation of Col. T. D. Boal, about thirty citizens from various sections of Penns Valley gathered together, and L. Frank Mayes, of Lemont, made chairman of the meeting. To look after the various features essential to making a success of the day, the following committees were appointed:

Publicity—George Fisher, Edward E. Bailey, Robert D. Scheeler, Capt. W. H. Fry, E. D. Zong, E. C. Radel. Speaker—Col. T. D. Boal, Robert M. Smith, W. I. Emery.

Enlistment—H. M. Hosterman, G. A. Crawford, Chas. M. Thompson, S. W. Gramley, Wm. Wolfe, W. L. Campbell, D. S. Peterman.

Entertainment—F. A. Carson, Matthew Goheen, Earl Phillips.

Committee on consolidation with State College—W. H. Stuart, L. Frank Mayes.

To Make It a Basket Picnic.
It is planned that a general good time shall be had for the thousands of visitors who will gather on the Boal estate on September 12th. A band will be there; a baseball game between Centre Hall and State College will be played in the afternoon; the thousands of volunteers who will enroll for the one-day National Defense will pass in review before a military officer as well as the military organization at Boalsburg; men of State and National reputation will speak. The ladies, especially, are invited, and the unique collection of war relics and other interesting objects to be seen at the Boal camp will be open to the visitors during the entire day. Families will come with their baskets and picnics on the grounds.

Mobilization of the Citizens.
In order that the object and purpose of Defense Day may be fully understood, it will be stated that the date, September 12th, is the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel. In lieu of extensive field exercises which for economic reasons can not be held during the present calendar year, the Secretary of War has decided to initiate for continental United States a mobilization demonstration which will serve as an occasion for assemblages and ceremonies involving public manifestations of loyalty and practical patriotism.

There are two main objectives of the mobilization demonstration, namely, patriotic demonstrations and a test mobilization. The object of the demonstration is to depict the progress of mobilization, the dependency of units on the community to which allocated and the contribution in personnel that would be expected from each community in the event of a national emergency.

Enlistment of the Citizens.
During the next two weeks enlistment forms will be circulated throughout entire Penns Valley, from Woodward to Pennsylvania Furnace, and all males of military age—16 to 45 years—will be asked to enroll for the One-Day National Defense. The most extreme pacifist can find no excuse for not signing an enrollment card. By so doing, every good citizen is but renewing his fealty toward his country, the Stars and Stripes. Those who put in a physical appearance at Boalsburg on September 12th will be given a certificate suitable for framing.

All the secret organizations in the valley will be invited and the churches will be asked to make announcements from the pulpit, so that the widest publicity possible may be given the affair and contribute toward its greatest success.

Nothing can be better termed 100 per cent. Americanism than this mobilization demonstration, and those who have charge of the arrangements for Penns Valley's demonstration, want to see it go over big, with every man and young man a loyal booster for his country and his flag.

The demonstration is purely a citizens' matter, with the military forces of the country occupying a rear position. Nothing savoring of militarism will be exhibited; it is a peaceful program, depicting the contribution in personnel that would be expected from each community in the event of a National emergency.

Tent at Grange Picnic.

A tent will be erected on Grange Park for headquarters for the Defense Day movement and will be in charge of a local committee, assisted by a member of the State constabulary. Cards will be distributed from this point during the week of the Encampment and Fair, and enlistments accepted.

So remember the date—September 12th—and the place—Boalsburg—and do your individual bit toward making Defense Day a rousing patriotic demonstration such as Penns Valley has never before experienced.

The plays to be given in the auditorium each evening of fair week will furnish clean, wholesome amusement and since the prizes given will go toward Grange hall furnishings, we bespeak crowded houses and lively interest in each evening's performance.

The "Filipino-5" who will appear on Grange Park, come well recommended and the concerts given by them daily and free to all, will be well worth the price of admission, 50 cents, to Grange Park. The Fair association is paying a big price for this attraction.

CENTRE COUNTY ATTORNEY WEDS FINE YOUNG LADY

Arthur C. Dale and Miss Helen O'Neal Happily Married—Will Reside in Bellefonte.

Arthur C. Dale, of Bellefonte, who was elected District Attorney of Centre county last fall, and Miss Helen O'Neal, of Johnstown, were married Wednesday morning of last week in the Franklin street Methodist church, Johnstown, the ceremony being witnessed by a number of relatives and friends.

The bride was attired in white broadcloth with fur trimmings and wore a beaver hat. She carried pink rose buds, Miss O'Neal, her bridesmaid, wore a gray velvet dress with hat to match. Her flowers of pink roses were fashioned corsage.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Clement Dale, of Bellefonte, and is a graduate of the Bellefonte Academy and the University of Pennsylvania. He received his law degree in one of the Ohio colleges and has since been practicing in Bellefonte. He was elected District Attorney of Centre county last fall. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, having joined while a student at U. of P. The bride is a graduate of the Johnstown High school, the University of Pennsylvania and State College.

After their honeymoon tour of the New England states they will take up their residence in Bellefonte.

Sunday School Camps.

If anyone is inclined to be pessimistic about the future leadership of the Sunday Schools of Pennsylvania, a visit to their four camps would forever banish pessimism and make an optimist out of that visitor. For at these camps have been gathered the choice young ladies, and young men from practically every county in Pennsylvania. Camp Kanastota, in which the Centre County Sunday Schools have a financial interest, is located mid hill and dale and clear sparkling waters, about two miles from Spruce Creek, and is of easy access by train and auto. Camp Kanastota is used at different periods for boys, then girls, then adults. In the boys' camp this year were 163 boys and more than a dozen instructors, the average age being 18 years. Then followed a most enthusiastic girls' camp of 173 girls of an average age of 16 along with some thirty instructors and counselors. The adult camp held during the last several weeks had 130 present.

In addition to Camp Kanastota, the State Sabbath School Association is also operating Camp Caledon, a girls' camp, at North Girard, Pa., on the shores of Lake Erie, with an attendance of more than two hundred this year.

Three Brothers in Trouble.

Officer Bob Mingle, of State College, arrested three brothers, Paul, George and Arthur Gentzel, all of whom are alleged to have stolen automobile tires, tubes, tools, etc. George and Arthur were working together and are blamed for breaking into Shreck's garage at Lemont and stealing tires, tubes and tools, while Paul was arrested a day later upon information furnished by two men from Elysburg, between Shamokin and Danville, who came to State College and told the officer who they suspected of stealing a tire at that place. They described the tire and officer Mingle located the tire which answered their description on the car of Paul Gentzel, George and Arthur, while Paul is resting peacefully in the State College borough lockup awaiting the arrival of the chief of police from Sunbury.

Accidental Shooting.

While loading a rifle, the weapon was discharged, the ball striking Harry Schlegel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schlegel, of Madisonburg, passing through both his legs. The ball entered the right leg near the hip and the left leg midway between the hip and knee, coming out a bit above the knee. The youth in whose hands the gun was when discharged was Andrew Rishel. The boys, both about twenty-one years old, were out hunting ground hogs, when the accident happened.

The young man was taken to the Lock Haven hospital after the wound was dressed by Dr. G. S. Frank. There it was found that no bones had been shattered, but that a nerve, termed the left sciatic, had been severed. By the aid of the x-ray particles of the shell were removed.

At the entrance to the Seven Mountains on the State Highway from the Millroy side, C. E. Aurand is building up a resort for pleasure seekers he has dubbed "Happy Jim's Place." A swimming pool has been built with concrete walls and the water flowing over the breast of the dam built across the creek will ultimately furnish power for an electric light plant. The natural formations are beautiful. From an elevation on the west side of the road and creek may be seen the towering rock and a solid wall of rocks extending high on the mountain side not noticed by the tourists from their cars. There are also numerous freaks of nature visible, among which stand in bold relief on a large rock the numerals 609. When Mr. Aurand has completed the improvements he has in mind, the place will be one sought by many.

SPRING MILLS

Mrs. Margaret Whitt, of Sunbury, spent a few days here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Muffinger; she left for her home on Monday.

Mrs. Herbert Blank and two children were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Haugh. They left for home on Monday.

The I. O. O. F. band festival was a success. The net proceeds were about $100.00. The State College band furnished the music during the entire evening and was very satisfactory and enjoyed by everybody present.

Bruce Morris and family of Philadelphia, spent their vacation at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Myers.

TOOK TWO OUT OF THREE.

Locals Defeat State College and Split With Bellefonte During Week.

In a five-inning twilight game at State College last Thursday evening, Centre Hall defeated "State" by a 6-3 score. Batting Krumrine freely in the last inning and amassing four runs, the locals were returned winners.

At Centre Hall, on Saturday afternoon, a double header with Bellefonte furnished many thrills for the spectators. The first game was a walk-over for the visitors who won, 14 to 3. Harshberger started for Bellefonte but was taken from the game when Bellefonte had the game well in hand. Montgomery, who followed, was touched up rather freely, but good support kept down the scoring.

The second game was as much unlike the first as day is unlike night. Incidentally, it was the locals' first victory over the 1924 pennant winners this season. Centre Hall, with Newton Crawford in the box, started to mow the visitors down in on-two-three order. Smith got a hit in the first inning, and this was all Bellefonte could do up until the seventh, the last inning, when Dietrich was lucky in being called safe on a rap to short. A bit of unsteadiness immediately following caused a bad throw which allowed Kline to score with Bellefonte's only run. On the other hand, the locals went after Lose with a vengeance, collecting ten hits which were turned in to six runs. Of all the innings, the sixth was the best for the locals, when they hammered out six hits and scored four runs.

As a result of the two victories during the week, Centre Hall came within half a game to State College, holders of third place in the standing. The league closes on Saturday, when Centre Hall finishes at Bellefonte with a double header.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

Last week traffic jam largely toward Lewistown; next week all cars will lead to Centre Hall.

Mrs. H. S. Heckman and sister, Miss Tracy Kremer, of Johnstown, are at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Eliza Meyer, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Salome Spkyer, of Alexandria, a short time ago came to the home of her son, Chester A. Spkyer, in Centre Hall, where she will visit for a short time.

A silver dollar bearing the date of 1799 is in the possession of A. M. Harter, the Coburn lumberman. On the outer rim are the words "One hundred cents—One Dollar or Unit."

Miss Emma G. Lemen, one of the State Sunday-school workers who has been at several gatherings in Centre Hall in her official capacity, has resigned. Her place will be filled by Miss Elmie G. Rodgers.

Elmer Smith, who for several years has operated a sawmill near the head of Philips creek, recently sold the mill to Cleve H. Vonada, of near Spring Mills, who is now putting it in Haines Gap, near Woodward.

Mr. and Mrs. William Riley, Mrs. Laura Stewart and son Paul, from Larrington; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McMaster and family, Miss Kathryn Rubie and Franklin Rubie, of Altoona, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Salie Rubie, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Wetzel, of Milton, formerly of Millheim, entertained at dinner in honor of their daughter, Mary. At this time Miss Wetzel's engagement to Orval Yarrison was announced. Covers were laid for twenty-four guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spayd and daughter, Miss Nina, and the latter's friend, Miss Louise, of Bellevue, Ohio, drove to Centre Hall, arriving Saturday evening. They will remain here for a week or more and are being entertained at the homes of Mr. Spayd's brother, A. H. Spayd, and sister, Mrs. Perry H. Luse.

John D. Meyer, the Tyrone banker, accompanied his mother, Mrs. Eliza Meyer, to Tyrone on Sunday, where they attended the funeral of Hon. A. G. Morris. On Tuesday Mr. Meyer and S. H. Heckman, of Johnstown, went to Buckwood Inn, Delaware Water Gap, where they will remain for a week, which time will be spent exclusively in playing golf.

Mrs. Louisa Topper and daughter, Miss Mabel, of Mitchell, South Dakota, visited Aaron Thomas, an uncle of the former, in Centre Hall. Miss Topper and her mother made the trip east in a car and will drive through various sections of the East before returning home. Mrs. Topper is a daughter of the late George Y. Stover, of Haines township.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart and Miss Foreman drove to Altoona Thursday evening of last week, where they remained for the night with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodhart, and the next morning they all left for Canfield, Ohio, the home of Miss Foreman. They remained with the Foreman family until the beginning of this week.

Prof. E. R. Gehr and family were back to Spring Mills last week and found much pleasure to again greet their many acquaintances about the place. He was a large factor in putting the Gregg Township Vocational School into the high position the institution now holds, and as director of the Vocational School at Imperial (Allegheny county) he is making himself felt in the same way. Gehr is a real school man.

Spring sales are already being announced and among them is that of John H. Breon, tenant on the Dr. Allison farm at Spring Bank, near Millheim. According to a statement of E. M. Smith, the auctioneer, Mr. Breon proposes making a clean sweep of his farming implements and equipment. Mr. Breon, it is understood, will locate in or near Centre Hall, provided he can secure a suitable property.

Danile Auman, a Millheim painter, was thrown from a ladder in a peculiar way and received a number of bruises and a thorough shaking up. He was perched on an extension ladder when the round connecting the two ladders gave way. In making the descent a hook holding the paint bucket caught a round, causing an abrupt stop, and this threw the painter from the descending portion of the ladder with the result noted above.

The 1924 Grange Encampment and Fair premium book is being distributed and a copy may be had by applying to the secretary. Its fifty-odd pages contain a brief history of the Grange Encampment and Fair, program for the 1924 gathering, information of a general character, as well as complete rules and regulations regarding exhibits and premiums paid in various departments. Cash premiums are liberal and should prove an inducement to owners. Business firms throughout the county carry advertising in the booklet.
