

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Centre county has 348 dogs less in 1924 than in 1923. It now has 3,149.

A new Jewett sedan was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lambert, in Centre Hall.

Miss Elizabeth Royer has resumed her studies in West Chester State Normal School.

The foundation walls for the dwelling house being erected by Harry W. Potter are about completed.

Miss Rebecca Derstine went to Philadelphia, Tuesday morning, where she will remain for an indefinite time.

More and better peaches have been offered for sale in Centre Hall this season than for a number of years.

Mrs. Elmyra Smith, of Hughesville, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles McClenahan, east of Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Long, of Matawana, Mifflin county, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shoop, in Centre Hall.

Ernest Frank and Newton Crawford on Tuesday drove to Baltimore. If they find employment there it is their intention to remain for some time.

Guy W. Jacobs and little daughter, Frances, of Steubenville, Ohio, were at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, for a day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Walter, daughter, Miss Helen, and son Charles, of Millmont, R. D., were guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Bingham, on Sunday, at the Evangelical parsonage.

Mrs. Sue Remer, of Lewisburg, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lanson Burris, in Centre Hall. She is a niece of Mrs. Samuel Burris, who makes her home with her son named above.

Mrs. Thomas Jones, of Scotland, S. D., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, in Centre Hall. She will also visit in State College and points in Penna. Valley. Mrs. Jones, before marriage, was Miss Tammie Haines, of Woodward.

Credential cards for delegates to the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association convention, to be held at Washington, Washington county, on October 8, 9 and 10, can be had by writing to the county secretary, Darius Waite, Bellefonte.

Miss Edna Bailey arrived here from Washington, D. C., where she had just undergone an operation for appendicitis, and is now at the home of her mother, Mrs. Vernon Godshall. She was accompanied here by George Sackles, a friend.

A hunting club from Jeanette and other points in the Pittsburgh district, are improving the Ripka property, on the Decker road, in Seven Mountains, for a hunting lodge. The club has been coming to the Seven Mountains each season for a number of years.

Mrs. John Worley, of Altoona, came to Centre Hall last week to see her brother, Samuel Shoop, whom she expected to find in bed on account of sickness, but was pleased to see him on the street, almost completely recovered from his recent illness. Mrs. Worley is not a frequent visitor here for one living so close to the home of her youth.

The following is from the Yeagerstown items in the Lewistown Gazette: Mr. and Mrs. William Grenoble, of New Bloomfield, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Marion Dell and Mr. Grenoble's father, A. J. Grenoble, and his sister, Mrs. Bertrum Silkman. They were accompanied to this place by Mrs. Betty Orth and daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Jones, and son, of Philadelphia, who had spent the past few days with the Grenoble family in New Bloomfield. They expect to spend a week with relatives at this place.

Shot Wild Cat.

Contractor W. S. Williams, of Centre Hall, shot and killed a wild cat on Monday night, while hunting racoons in the Seven Mountains, not far from his home which he built this year, near Colyer. Mr. Williams dislodged the animal from the tree with fine shot and his dogs finished the cat when he struck the ground. The cat measured about five feet from tip to tip. The bounty paid by the state is $15.00, and the pet is worth about $4.00.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The county W. C. T. U. convention opened its annual sessions at Howard yesterday (Wednesday) and continues over today (Thursday) and evening.

Wednesday evening's session was given over largely to a playlet by members of the Centre Hall Y. P. B. under the instruction of Mrs. F. V. Goodhart. The title of the playlet was "A Lark at Monotuck Hall," the purpose being to show that much of the "patent medicines" now on sale contain such a large per cent of alcohol that much harm results from their continued use. The young people of town rendering the play were Agnes Geary, Louise Smith, Ruth Bingham, Miriam Moore, Emeline Brungart, Aigie Emery, Margaret Luse. Others of the live organization who accompanied them to Howard to witness the performance were Elizabeth Bradford, Myla Spyster, Isabel Bradford. The sessions are also being attended by a number of the members of the W. C. T. U., whose names have not been learned.

Defense Day at Boalsburg.

An ideal day for out-door activities resulted in an outpouring of Penna. Valley people to Boalsburg, last Friday, in celebration of National Defense Day. The big estate of Col. T. D. Boal was practically turned over to the visitors for the day. The interesting collection of relics of the World War—German camouflaged artillery pieces, airplane motors punctured by rifle balls, and innumerable smaller articles of warfare, were seen for the first time by many of the visitors.

A field had been put in shape for the playing of two baseball games, but delay in starting made it necessary to call the first game between Lemont and Hecla Park at the end of the third inning, when the score stood 4 to 4.

The parade of citizens then took place. A silk flag was hoisted to the top of a mast, during which The Star Spangled Banner was played by the Lemont band, followed by the national salute fired from a one-pounder.

The crowd then seated itself on the greensward before a speaker's stand under a spreading oak. Ex-Judge Ellis L. Orvis made a few remarks appropriate to the purpose of the day, after having first introduced Chaplain Metzger, of State College, who offered prayer. The chief speaker of the day was Colonel Jennings C. Wise, of Washington, D. C., who asked for a more charitable feeling toward America's allies in the World War, England and France. He believed that before a league of nations could be made practicable, a "league of understanding" must first be formed.

Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick closed with the benediction.

Kilnefelter—Homer.

Samuel Kilnefelter and Miss Ruth Homer, a daughter of Harry S. Hornor, both of Colyer, were united in marriage in Lewistown on Monday.

SNOW SHOE YOUTH KILLS HIS SWEETHEART

John Pinchock Shoots Margaret McDowell and Surrenders to Officers.

John Pinchock, aged 20 years, of Clarence, near Snow Shoe, shot and fatally injured his 16 year old sweetheart, Margaret McDowell, Thursday afternoon of last week, according to police.

According to the confession which police say he made, the two were standing near a garage when suddenly Pinchock pulled out a revolver, pressed it against the girl's heart and fired.

A neighbor attracted to the scene by the shot, picked up the fallen girl and took her to the Bellefonte hospital but she died before reaching there. Pinchock accompanied the pair to the hospital.

Later Pinchock went around to the district attorney's office and gave himself up. In the confession, which it is alleged he made, Pinchock refused to assign a motive for his crime, exclaiming that he did not know why he had done the deed.

There had been no quarrel between the pair and the police are mystified to account for the motive of the slaying. Friends of the two were shocked when they learned of the tragedy.

The body was taken to Snow Shoe where interment was made.

orated the Pleasant Gap Water Supply Co., who furnish water for the village of Pleasant Gap and supply Whiterock Quarries, as well as numerous farmers nearby.

In 1911 he was elected County Commissioner and re-elected in 1915. His record as County Commissioner is beyond criticism, it being one of the most successful and satisfactory terms in the history of Centre county. Mr. Noll has had the experience and knows the needs of Centre county, and has the ability to represent the entire county in the General Assembly as it should be represented. He is a practical business man of no mean calibre, who has a mind of his own and would be a strong barrier against all schemes that are devised by political crooks and public parasites of all parties to rob the taxpayers by various methods, now more or less in vogue.

Mr. Noll has most emphatically declared himself in favor of Law Enforcement, and will, if elected, squarely represent the people without regard to partisan or personal interests. He is progressive of a kindly and generous disposition, honest and upright in all his dealings; (the poor man's friend). The voters of Centre county will make no mistake in electing him to represent them in the Legislature at Harrisburg.

Will sell stock and implements with the farm, possession given immediately. Must sell on account of health. Terms to suit purchaser. Write or call on Joseph Frock, Millmont, Pa., R. F. D. 1.

HOW NOVELIST SPENDS CASH

Sir James Barrie Evidently One of Those Who Believe in "Doing Good by Stealth."

Sir James Barrie who wrote "My Lady Nicotine" and so many of the world's most beautiful stories, was an intimate friend of the heroic explorer Scott, who perished in the Antarctic after reaching the South pole. The author believed in the sailor and helped to finance his last tragic dash for the South pole. When his effects were examined amid the frigid and ghastly Antarctic stillness, the relief party that arrived too late found a letter for Barrie among the dead man's effects. Only Barrie knew what it unfolded. Since that time he has been a second father to the orphaned boy. Speaking of little Peter Scott, the author of "Peter Pan" said, "That little chap has given me a hard task. I must send him a new poem or a freshly conceived fairy tale every week." One of Barrie's favorite adopted sons, the original of David in "The Little White Bird," was killed in action near Ypres. As a memorial to him Barrie established and supported a hospital in France until the end of the war. His name was never associated with it and hardly a dozen people in England knew of this benefaction.

ALWAYS STUDYING THE SKY

Work Has Been Made Much Easier Since the Introduction of Celestial Photography.

There continues the discovery of asteroids or minor planets, especially with the aid afforded by celestial photography. Among a vast multitude of stars crowding on a photographic plate one, perhaps, will be seen to have drawn a short, thin line on the plate during its hours of exposure. The astronomer knows at once that it is either an asteroid or a comet. Subsequent observations soon decide the point. Only the more interesting ones are afterward observed with attention, but once discovered they cannot be ignored, and the rapid growth of the flock becomes an embarrassment.

Eros, which at times approaches the earth nearer than any other regular member of the solar system except the moon, and Asteroid No. 588, which at aphelion is more distant than Jupiter, as far as their orbits are concerned, remain the most interesting members of the entire group and are kept under constant observation whenever circumstances permit.

Medical Efficiency.

Dr. Leroy C. Crummer of Omaha attended the medical convention in this city. He was describing the 100 per cent efficiency methods in vogue among the newer Western physicians. "A patient of mine visited one of these doctors," he said. "After he shook hands with the chief he turned him over to an assistant, who took his history. Next he was hustled into the office of an X-ray specialist. From there he passed to a laboratory technician, then to a blood expert, and finally to the nerve clinic."

"When he returned to the chief doctor he was curtly told the pile of reports showed that there was nothing the matter with him."

"How about my bill?" queried the patient.

"On, you must see my accountant for that," replied the doctor, ushering him out.

"Well, really, doctor, I should like to pay you personally," replied the patient, "for then I would have the satisfaction of knowing that you did at least one thing in my case."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Conquering Yeaser.

"After fifteen years of incessant guerrilla warfare, he had conquered his wife; there was something in the number of 'yes's' with which he could point a conversation that had won him the victory. 'Yes—yes—yes—yes,' he would say. 'That was the summer of ninety-one or ninety-two—yes—yes—yes—yes.' Fifteen years of yes's had beaten Mrs. Gilbert. Fifteen further years of that incessant, unaffirmative affirmative, accompanied by the perpetual flicking of ash-mushrooms from 32,000 cigars, had broken her. To this husband of hers she made the last confession of married life, which is more complete, more irrevocable, than the first—she listened to him."—From the "Beautiful and Damned," by F. Scott Fitzgerald.

Garden Annual Coming Back.

The Russian Statice, Statice Suworowii, is an old-time garden annual which has been neglected for many years but is again coming back, and strangely enough is an easily grown garden annual. It differs from the sinuata type in having long, branching spikes closely set with tiny rose pink flowers. The leaves lie flat upon the ground, somewhat resembling a plantain seed spike until the flowers expand and the branches develop. It is a very unusual appearing plant and very decorative for cutting, especially when arranged with the loosely branched lavender varieties.—Exchange.

Really Seemed a Miracle.

My strangest and never-to-be-forgotten affair happened when my boy, aged seven, fell from the third floor when the porch railing gave way. He landed on his feet, got up and walked away uninjured. Neighbors seeing him fall say nothing but a miracle saved him.—Chicago Journal.
