

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Today (Thursday) is Fire Prevention Day.

Trespass notices printed on heavy white cardboard, for sale at this office.

The rain storm last week did much damage in corn fields knocking stalks to the ground in sizable areas.

A child's pocket book was found Saturday night by W. J. Smith. The owner may call at this office for it.

Mrs. Grace McCool, of Spring Mills, is at the home of her father, A. C. Ripka, in Centre Hall, assisting in household duties.

We failed to mention last week that Ernest Frank is the new clerk in G. O. Benner's store, at the station, succeeding Chester W. Grove.

Miss Marguerite Krape, of Coburn, recently completed a course in nursing at the Bellefonte hospital, and is now engaged in private nursing at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Slack recently moved into their new home erected this summer at Coburn, where Mr. Slack is assistant to Station Agent W. L. Campbell.

Miss Sarah Snyder, who holds a position at the Pennsylvania Village, Laurelton, was at her home at Potters Mills, over Sunday. She was accompanied by a young lady who also holds a position at the institution named.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mitterling left for Baltimore, Md. the latter part of last week, where she was joined with her youngest daughter, Miss Carrie Mitterling, on a trip to Chicago, Ill., to visit Chas. A. Mitterling and family.

Rev. Noah E. Yeiser, D. D., district superintendent Penna. Anti-Saloon League, with headquarters at Erie, was in this section the latter part of last week arranging for future meetings in the district of the organization he represents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Keener and little daughter, Miriam, of Fleetwood, were recent guests of Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Keener, at the Reformed parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Keener are the parents of Rev. Keener, and Miriam, aged four years, is a sister.

Miss Mary Fortney, a winsome little Miss, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Fortney, of Tusseyville, brightened our printshop for a brief period Tuesday afternoon. Vivacious and glowing with the bloom of good health, she is the type of girlhood pictured by the artist attempting to present the sweet country lassie.

A Durant coupe (special), a Star roadster and two Star touring cars were driven from Elizabethtown, New Jersey, Wednesday, by J. I. Fetterolf, the Durant dealer, Paul Fetterolf, Daniel Daup, George Fetterolf and Frank Smith. The trip down was also made in a Durant, the party leaving here Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin M. Shunk came to the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jere Shunk, in Centre Hall, on Monday for a few days' visit. The young people were recently married, having only last month returned from their wedding trip. Mr. Shunk is an extra fireman and lives in Sunbury. He was recently slightly injured and is now recovering.

The bungalow being built by Harry Potter is well under way, although the carpenter force under F. V. O. Housman, of Millheim, only began work on Wednesday of last week. The structure is of very pretty design and conveniently arranged on the interior. There will be a spacious fire place in the main living room, and breakfast room off from the kitchenette with permanent seats and table.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

O. F. Funk has completed the building of a new garage on his lot.

The Mrs. R. D. Foreman home is being repainted by Magnus Duck.

Mrs. Mary E. Christine, of Elysburg, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. L. Moor.

Misses Carle Gentzel and Marlon Finkle, of Spring Mills, were in town Saturday afternoon.

October 17 is Community Day at Spring Mills, and that is an occasion you will not want to miss.

Sunday afternoon cars passed through the main street of Centre Hall at the rate of over 200 per hour.

Many of the local men employed on the State roads during the summer and fall have been laid off indefinitely.

The Y. P. B. of the W. C. T. U. met at the home of Miss Louise Smith and were handsomely entertained, on Monday night.

During the latter part of last week and the beginning of this week, Geo. H. Emerick was confined to the house from sickness.

Concrete walls are being constructed for the enlargement of the storage garage of D. A. Boozer. A heating plant will also be installed.

Mrs. Samuel Shaffer and daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Brown, both of Rebersburg, for a week were guests of Mrs. William F. Rishel, at Farmers Mills.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks, at the home of the father's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cloyd Brooks, near Centre Hall, on Friday.

Chester Grove, who had been employed as clerk in the G. O. Benner store, has taken up farming and next spring will have complete charge of the Royer farm, at Earlstown, when Mr. and Mrs. Royer move to Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney attended the funeral of Ira Gunsallus, at Eagleville on Tuesday. The deceased, who was an uncle of Mrs. Delaney, was well advanced in years and living retired. A wife and ten children survive him.

While on an automobile trip to the old home surroundings in Snyder county, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hasser, and Mrs. Hassers sister, Miss Anna Fry, all of Manchester, N. H., stopped in Centre Hall for a brief time with postmaster R. M. Smith, a distant relative. Mr. Hasser is the owner of the Hasser business college in Manchester.

On Saturday the five Harpster sisters met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Miller, in Dubois, and remained there over Sunday. The ladies are Miss Lizzie Harpster, Mrs. Catharine Moore, and Mrs. (Dr.) G. H. Widder, of Harrisburg, and Mrs. Homer Barr, of Boalsburg, and Mrs. Miller. It is not a frequent occurrence for the five to be together. The three brothers, Isaac, Charles and Claude, are located in the far West. It is 31 years since the Harpster family left Centre Hall.

C. William Boozer attended a meeting of the Shriners, at Altoona, on Friday. A close second to the pleasures of his day was to see Babe Ruth, who with his team-mate, Bob Meusel, played in Altoona that day, the former with the Altoona Shog team and the latter with a team of Shriners. "Babe" did not disappoint the crowd, for on his first trip to the plate he caught the first ball pitched and sent it over the fence on a home run journey. Meusel, too, gave the fans cause for cheering by hitting a circuit clout.

The PINK LABEL this week.

TUSSEYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. John Stoner are the proud parents of twin boys.

C. P. Ramer and family spent Sunday in Mifflin.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rossmann and son, of Mifflinburg, visited among friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Jordan, Emily and Floyd Jordan, and Stewart Jordan, accompanied by Greely Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. William Jordan, attended a surprise party at the home of B. P. Rickert, of Woolrich, in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Harold Ream. Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Williams, accompanied by Mrs. Robb, mother of Mrs. Williams, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday at the home of S. T. Swartz.

Mrs. E. S. Krader, of Port Clinton, Schuylkill county, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. P. Floray.

A birthday party was held last Wednesday evening at the F. P. Floray home in honor of Alvin Floray, who that day attained his majority. Thirty-seven invited guests were present.

The time was spent in playing various games, and delightful refreshments were served. The young man was the recipient of many useful gifts. Recognizing the need of more complete information pertaining to the agriculture of the state the 1921 legislature passed an act requiring the assessors, when making the triennial assessment, to gather such data relating to the acreage of the principal farm crops, the number of livestock, and other facts pertaining to the agricultural resources of the state as the Secretary of Agriculture might require. The Act becomes operative this year. The Department already has the question made up in convenient book form and ready to be distributed to the assessors by the county commissioners.

Eggs when egg prices are high!

WHY do you get the best price for eggs in the cold months? Because eggs are few. Hens and pullets are using all their feed to maintain bodily health—not to make eggs. And yet, if they could get the last ounce of nourishment from their feed, your birds would lay when eggs mean money!

Yeast-fed birds are the best layers of winter eggs

MORE eggs! There is only one way to get them: Make it possible for your birds to turn the feed they now waste into eggs.

You can do it. Thousands of successful poultrymen have done it.

Fleischmann's Pure Dry Yeast, added in small amounts to the daily poultry feed, makes it easy to digest and assimilate it, easy for the fowls to turn it quickly into bone, tissue, energy —and eggs! No longer will a large part of the feed pass unused out of the bird's system, a total waste. Every ounce of nourishment will be extracted, comfortably, naturally, and your egg profits will soar!

Fleischmann's Pure Dry Yeast is now for sale right here in town. Stop in for a free booklet that tells how this remarkable food adjunct can make your birds produce eggs when egg prices are high. And take home a package—a week's feeding will show you its amazing value.

NEW!

This trial package for $1. So you can thoroughly test for yourself the amazing results of Fleischmann's Pure Dry Yeast, a special trial package is now ready—you can buy it for $1. Enough yeast for 100 hens for a month and a half! Ask your dealer for it today.
