Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

LIKE BROWN LEAVES

THOSE high resolves which we made only yesterday are today scurrying hither and thither, like blown leaves in a romping November gale.

Twenty-four hours ago we were very serious; this morning, in anticipation of a day's pleasure, we are decidedly frivolous.

We do not care to spoil the day with sober thoughts.

We are young and the years lie before us. We can "settle down" to the steady motion of the treadmill when we find we have to do it, but not now, while the horizon is unclouded by a cloud and all the surroundings about us are bright and inviting.

Thus speak the thoughtless, doomed in later years to be blown about like dried leaves that have been bitten by the frost and torn from the lashing boughs of their mother-tree by the gales.

We cannot always cling to the mother-breast or sleep beneath the roof-tree of our father.

Some day we must face the cold winter alone, possibly in no condition to adapt ourselves to the change; rudely awakened, perhaps, to find the merciless storms beating about us, whipping and driving us at will like withered leaves, to be trodden under foot.

Through the Glad Eyes of a Woman

By Jane Doe

WHAT EVERY WOMAN LOVES

SHE loves to be told once in a while that the older she gets the prettier she gets.

She likes to realize that her efforts to make one dollar do the work of two are thoroughly appreciated.

She adores being called "baby" or "lovey-dovey," even when she is over fifty.

She also adores being bossed occasionally and ordered to do things which she simply loves doing.

(For instance, making her husband apple-dumplings or kissing him behind his left ear.)

She loves to be told she is getting shabby, and that her husband is getting fed up with the sight of her best hat and would like to see her in another.

She likes to be told that none of her photos do her justice.

She adores having her husband refer to "My Wife" every time he commences a conversation.

She loves to know he carries her miniature in his watch and has a lock

So now, while we are young, let us store our minds with useful knowledge and strengthen our bodies by taking good care of them.

Let us look upon the heaps and clusters of the blown leaves of humanity in the parks of the great cities, along the wharves, in the drab alleys, being swept along by the passing winds, knowing not where they are going or what shall be their end.

In the springtime they were clinging to their mother-breast and sleeping until late in the morning beneath the roof-tree of their father. Now they are alone. The rigor of winter is too much for them to endure.

They are untrained, unskilled; their minds are empty; the passing throngs shun them, leaving them alone with their own bitter reflections—blown leaves, useless and forsaken.

THINK WHAT YOU ARE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THINK what you are! However weary, Your task how small, your task how great.

However dark the day or dreary, Think what you are—the world must wait Until the thing you have begun Is bravely dreamed and rightly done.

Think what you are. However lonely, However much yourself you doubt, Some task is yours, your problem only. For you to take, and work it out. Each day the world's new labors start, And in that world you have a part.

Think what you are. You were the nearest

To take the task that now is yours, To work the hardest, see 'ie clearest.

To work so well your work endures, Your hands today will bless or mar The world around. Think what you are!

MEN YOU MAY MARRY

By E. R. PEYSER

Has a man like this proposed to you?

Symptoms: Looks studious, has a good clerkship and is studying law at night. He is as persistent as a ticket seller, and gets little time for fussing. Not much on clothes but always looks presentable.

He is a human schedule. Prescription for the bride: R. Have a correct clock. Remember the daylight saving and standard time changes things a bit.

Absorb This: BEING ON TIME IS NO LIGHT SAVING.

NICE THINGS TO SERVE

WHEN something out of the ordinary is wanted for an occasion a salad dressing which is most dainty and attractive, too, is—

Normandy Salad Dressing.

Mash a small-sized cream cheese, adding during the process two table-spoonfuls of cream to soften and one table-spoonful of lemon juice.

Tuna Fish and Shrimp Salad.

Take a can of tuna and enough shrimps to add color to the salad, shred the fish and cut the shrimps into small pieces, adding chopped green pepper, and diced celery.

Peach Salad.

Scald, peel and chill peaches, using a whole one for each plate; cut them into quarters and remove the stones.

ries and maraschino cherries, and to each cupful of the mixed fruit add a table-spoonful of blanched almonds, shredded. Mix with Normandy dressing and place inside the peach quarters.

Normandy Salad.

Take fresh ripe pears. Peel and core, then fill with the Normandy salad dressing. Set into nests of lettuce, top with dressing and a bit of sweet red pepper cut into strips.

MEMPHIS MAN GAINS 40 LBS. ON TANLAC

Jenkins Gives Medicine Credit for Recovery.

"Tanlac knocked out my troubles and gave me such a fine appetite and digestion that I have put on 40 lbs. of good, solid weight," declared W. A. Jenkins, popular street railway conductor, 1007 Kirkland St., Memphis, Tenn.

"For several years stomach trouble, malaria, nervousness, dizzy spells and sick headaches kept me all out of gear. I couldn't eat right, my sleep was all broken and it was all I could do to keep on the job.

"Since taking Tanlac I eat everything, sleep good and feel fine all the time. I have found Tanlac is the very thing for keeping my system toned up and in trim. Tanlac has also relieved my mother of stomach trouble. It's the best ever in the way of a medicine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Pigeons as Telephones

With every outgoing tourist car that invades the little-known parts of the national park around the Grand Canyon of Colorado now go a pair of homing pigeons. These are the only feasible means of communication in an emergency, for there is no telephone or telegraph service in that part of the country.

Lake Replaces Camp

Butte Valley, Cal., once a well-known mining camp, is now at the bottom of a 1,500-acre lake. A dam constructed by an electric service company at the outlet of the valley has been completed after eight months' work and the water impounded by this dam has submerged what is left of the old mining camp site.
