

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Homan, of Cleveland, Ohio, have been at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Strohmeler, for the past week.

Mrs. Isabella Stump, of Millheim, last week visited her daughter, Mrs. S. J. Rowe, and Mrs. Jeremiah Stump, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scholl, of Reading, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaeffer, of Fleetwood, visited Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Keener over last week-end.

"Junata Terrace," a new section across the river from Lewistown, is comprised of 250 brand new homes ready for occupancy, and have already been rented.

Jefferson Slick and Isath Emery, early Thursday morning left Centre Hall by auto for Youngstown, Ohio, where they will visit for at least a few days with the former's sister, Mrs. Bruce Auman.

The total receipts from the Elks' Halloween carnival and dance were $1,220. After the expenses have all been met, which will include the prizes given by the Elks, there will be left approximately $600.

Franklin Runkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Runkle, of Centre Hall, was at his home for the first time in three months. The young man is employed in the railroad car shops in Altoona, and has been since early last spring.

Two wild ducks killed with one charge of shot is a record made by George Goodhart, while hunting on the Red Mill dam, the middle of last week. The birds were unusually fine and were the only two on the pond at the time.

The time for the Farm Products and Poultry Show is December 5th and 6th, in the Armory, Bellefonte, and it is time now to begin making selections for exhibits. The show will be limited to potatoes, corn, wheat and oats, poultry and eggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Lansberry and two little children, Pauline and Ernie, of Mill Hall, and Mr. Roy Baylett, of Milton, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Smith, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. D. Geiss Wagner, of Centre Hall, spent the past week with her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) H. S. Alexander, at Bellefonte. Mrs. Mae Gramley, of Spring Mills, accompanied Mrs. Wagner, the trip being by auto, with Mrs. Gramley at the wheel.

Miss Helen Bartholomew expects to accompany Miss Elizabeth Bartholomew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Bartholomew, to Philadelphia, next Thursday, to consult Dr. McCluney Radcliffe, eye specialist, in the interest of Miss Elizabeth's eyes.

The State Highway over Nittany Mountain is in much better condition now than heretofore at the approach of winter. Of course, we can not expect too much from a road bed of this kind, and it is likely that by spring there will be a pretty general breaking up of the surface.

The box social at the Earlstown school house, Miss Martha Yearick, teacher, was largely attended on Friday evening. The receipts were above the expectations of the promoters, and will be applied to the purchase of athletic outfits of various kinds needed in such a school.

Ammon R. Burkholder and family have changed their place of residence from Phillipsburg, New Jersey, to Flemington, that state. Mr. Burkholder confines his work with the railroad company that long employed him, his change of residence being only for the convenience of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Carson, of Potters Mills, had the pleasure of witnessing the State-Penn football game on Franklin field, Philadelphia, on Saturday. They left their home in a car on Friday morning, returning Sunday. While in the city they were the guests of W. L. Finley, a friend of the Carson family.

Tusseyville school, Harvey Flink, teacher, sold sufficient candy among school patrons recently to net the school nine dollars in cash, which will be used to purchase drawing material and supplementary books. The scholar selling the most candy was George Donahy, and as a premium he received a half-pound box of sweets.

J. W. Wolf, daughter, Miss Emma Wolf, and the latter's friend, Al Knipe, all of Ardmore, drove to Centre Hall on Friday in Mr. Knipe's Buick sedan. Mr. Wolf returned home on Monday, but Mr. Knipe and Miss Wolf continued their visit here among friends. Mr. Knipe, who is a realtor, is spending considerable time in the woods and has been successful in bagging pheasants and other small game.

While tearing down an old stable, preparatory to enlarging the Booser garage, J. Shannon Booser came near having a serious accident. For second floor joists the old stable had heavy joists, and while the young man was sitting on one of them to loosen the hinges of a door, the supports collapsed, leaving him and three of the big timbers drop to the ground floor, a distance of about ten feet. Luckily the landing was done without injury.

Maybe it froze up, or perhaps from the results of cold feet, the speed trap in the borough was not open during the last two Sundays. The writer has reason to think that the information of how the trap was operated got to the State Highway Department and that the department did not look with favor on the methods employed. And now that he trap is closed, let us use all the means possible to create a local sentiment to drive sanely. Traps, such as was conducted here, never check speed, in fact, it was considered a bad day when no business was done. One of the ways careful driving can be best brought about is by example. If our local people drive slowly, the stranger will invariably follow in the same manner.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

While removing the rafters from an old barn on what is known as the Sweetwood farm, on Egg Hill, a pair of flying squirrels were chased from their nesting place. The place is now owned by J. G. Dauberman, who with John H. Knarr, was razing the structure.

The farm owned by Misses Anna and Caroline Valentine, near the Valentine place, this side of Bellefonte, was recently sold to Frank Beezer, tenant on the farm for some time. The Misses Valentine will close their home in the near future and spend the winter in Bermuda.

Governor Charles S. Brough, former governor of Arkansas, who lectured Tuesday night as one of the regular numbers of the lecture course conducted by the local High school, is being classed with lecturers Governor Glenn and Mr. Gray, the two outstanding men called here to give a message.

The Spring Mills Creamery Company, of which T. M. Gramley has long been the leading spirit, advises that it will close down its plant, December 1st, and offers its plant at private sale. The plant, from its beginning, has been a paying proposition and under the management of Mr. Gramley largely extended its business, so that the owner may retire with both the respect of his patrons and the assurance of an easy day from a financial viewpoint.

PATH CLEARED.

Henry Cabot Lodge is dead. Woodrow Wilson is dead and the Democratic party has suffered overwhelming defeat in two successive Presidential elections.

Does there now exist any excuse which would prevent the United States from joining the League of Nations? (The above is reprinted from the Lewistown Gazette, Republican in politics.)

Kessler's Return from Second Buying Trip to New York City

DUE to the large sales and increased demand for Ladies' Coats, it was necessary for me to make a second trip to New York City to replenish our stock. We believe these Coats to be the finest values we have ever offered, and are convinced that when you see them you will instantly recognize their actual worth. They are developed of the finest all-wool materials, and mated with workmanship of the highest order. To secure such Coats at the height of the season for a figure so unusually low, is an opportunity rarely to be found.

Every Coat Is Really Gloriously Fur Trimmed

Great, sweepingly big fur collars; enormous flaire, or melon, or puff, or muff style fur cuffs. Perhaps border down both fronts; perhaps borders around whole hems; every coat is of deluxe coating, soft as plumage seude.coating, with their fashionably dull surfaces; or the sheer Bolivia family with their fashionably brilliant faces.

AND AS TO COLORS—Cranberry and Ox-blood Red, Shutter and Cedar Green, Kit Fox and Bunny Grey, Penny, and Deer, and Rust, and Kaffir and Cinnabar, and Casarole Brown, Black with contrast fur or Black with Black Fur.

The Dresses, too, Are Exquisite

Every new material and color. A Special on all Wool Flannels, combination stripes and plain
