DOUBLE-BARRED CROSS. When the double-barred cross was adopted in 1902 as the emblem of the international fight against tuberculosis, little did its makers realize what the sweep of this great world-wide campaign would be within twenty-two years. In that length of time, tuberculosis has become a war cry of peoples of every language and every tongue from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the North to the South Poles from one end of the world to the other.

SEAL AS A LIFE SAVER. A vital factor in preventing tuberculosis is the Christmas Seal. The Seal carries health and good cheer on millions of letters and packages yearly at the Christmas season and provides funds to carry on this preventive work every day throughout the year.

THREE R'S OF HEALTH. Important factors in preventing the tuberculosis germ getting a hold are good health and a sturdy body. These are best obtained by getting plenty of fresh air, proper sleep and wholesome food.

DEATHS. OSMAN.—Alfred Osman, the last surviving member of the James Osman family, died at his home in Altoona after an illness of a week from pneumonia. Death occurred Monday afternoon and interment will be made in Altoona this (Thursday) afternoon. The deceased was reared in Harris township, and was aged about sixty-seven years. There survives him his wife, who before marriage was Miss Lizzie Messinger, a native of Potter township, and five children, namely: Laird, Roy, Sarah, and Gertrude, of Altoona, and Elsie, of Pittsburgh.

MILLER.—Mrs. Ruth Furey Miller, wife of Levi Miller, died at her home in Pleasant Gap, early Saturday morning, from complication of diseases. She was aged seventy-four years. She was born and reared in Spring township, but with her husband, who survives, for a number of years, lived at Pittsburgh. Interment was made at Pleasant Gap, Rev. W. J. Wagner, pastor of the Boalsburg Lutheran church, officiating, although the deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church. She was the mother of three children, all deceased.

CLOSE.—Eva Madeline Close, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. John Close, of Boalsburg, died from diabetes. She was born at Boalsburg, and in addition to her mother is survived by two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Charles Heverly and Mrs. Albert Phillips, of State College, and Meyers, at home. Funeral services were held at the Reformed church Friday morning; interment at Boalsburg.

EMERT.—George Washington Emert, aged 66 years, 9 months and 23 days, died at his home in Fernmanagh township, Juniata county, the cause of his death being tuberculosis. He was a former resident of Lewis town until four years ago, being an employee of the Mars in Edge Tool Company, Lewistown. He was a son of Jacob and Catharine (Wrape) Emert of Centre county. He leaves his wife, whose maiden name was Mary Dunkle, of Centre county, and the following two sons and one daughter: Guy Emert, of Beaver Falls; Donald M., of Lewistown; Mrs. Herbert Cornelius, of Philadelphia. These four brothers also survive the deceased: Emery Emert, of Lock Haven; William of Mill Hall, and Torrence and Harry Emert, of Salona. Interment was made at Lewistown.

COMFORT.—Elias Comfort, aged 71 years and 15 days, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mildred Albright-Burnham, the cause of death being heart trouble. He was confined to his bed for two weeks. Mr. Comfort was a son of George and Catherine (Breon) Comfort, of Centre county. His wife, whose maiden name was Clara Alice Muser, also of Centre county, preceded him in death 17 years. BOALSBURG. Last Wednesday evening the Rev. W. W. Moyer and his wife arrived at the parsonage with their household goods, and since have been busy arranging things in the places where they think they will like them. The Reformed parsonage has been much improved; painted and papered all through; a gray enameled range put in the kitchen; a furnace installed and the cellar concreted. The repairs are much appreciated by Rev. and Mrs. Moyer. The Rev. filed his first appointments Sunday—in the morning at Pine Hall and in the afternoon at Pine Grove Mills, and in the evening at Boalsburg.

The Reformed Sunday-school set Christmas eve for their Christmas entertainment.

Tuesday evening a kitchen shower was tendered Mrs. Rachel Tate of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Young.

S. R. Rishel had the misfortune of wrecking his car on the Tusseyville road Sunday evening. In order to avoid hitting a horse and buggy that was coming toward him he steered the car into a culvert headlock, smashing the car considerably. Mr. Rishel was not hurt.

DALE, PERHAPS. Governor Pinchot is inclined to appoint County's District Attorney As Quigley's Successor.

It appears Governor Pinchot is inclined to appoint Arthur C. Dale, Centre county's district attorney, to the judgeship. Mr. Dale is the only attorney in Centre county who was favorable to the nomination of Pinchot for governor, the other Centre county attorney having favored Aiters, the result being that Centre county at the primary gave Aiters a majority over Pinchot. Since the election of Pinchot as governor, Mr. Dale has been in close touch with him, and his friendship is serving him in good stead at this time. Unless there is too much opposition, Mr. Dale will be Centre county's next judge.

The popular candidate for appointment is Harry Keller, and early in the campaign it was thought he would be named. Mr. Keller, it was predicted, would be a candidate at the primaries next year against Judge Quigley, had the latter lived.

Ward Fleming, the Philipsburg attorney, is also looking for Pinchot's approval. He looks like a judge, "they" say. Former District Attorney Purst is also a candidate for appointment. The trouble with all of them, except Mr. Dale, is that they opposed Pinchot at the primaries.

There is something else the matter with all Republican aspirants for Quigley's shoes, but it is too delicate a question to discuss now. A Democrat, of course, is impossible with a Republican governor.

SEAL WORKS ALL THROUGH THE YEAR. Woman With Care of Six Children Thanks Tuberculosis Worker For Health Effort.

In an isolated section of one of the larger counties of Pennsylvania lives a woman who has the entire care and support of six children resting upon her.

Recently a worker for the County Tuberculosis Society, whose visits are made possible by the sale of Christmas Seals, on a visit to the community school was asked by the teacher to visit the home of this woman. The worker called, and among other things learned that the woman was the last of her family, she explaining that her parents and brothers and sisters had all died of tuberculosis.

When asked how she escaped, the woman said she had insisted on going out into the open. Shortly after making this visit the tuberculosis worker received a letter from the woman, in which was the following:

"Your visit gave me new inspiration. I went to my corn husking this morning with a lighter heart. I had had for a long time. I had just about lost confidence in humanity and confidence in myself as you could see by the way everything looked. "When I saw there are people who are sick or well, whether they are cold or warm, I received new courage. If you a stranger, care, why should not I their own mother try to do my part. I resolved to start right now to use the little I know about sanitation and wholesome cooking and such like to better advantage than I did before. "I hope you will call on me again. Since I know you are interested in the public health I would like to make your acquaintance. Thanking you for your interest in my children, I remain, Respectfully,

This is just one example of how the Christmas Seal, which decorates letters and packages at the Christmas season, works throughout the year. Day after day experienced workers go about teaching children and their parents better health habits and making their homes healthier and happier. The little Seal means the saving of many lives every year in Pennsylvania.
