

SUFFERED AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Trouble Caused by Getting Up Too Soon. Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Talleville, New York.—"I thought it would interest you to know what benefit I have derived from taking your medicine. A few days after the birth of my third child I got up too quick. Then just before my fifth child was born I had inflammation of the bladder and displacement. Seeing your advertisement in a Liverpool (England) paper I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and that was the best confinement I had. Whenever I feel run-down I always take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic. We have just removed from Brockville (Canada) so I was pleased when the store ordered the medicine for me and I got it today. I would not be without it for any price and I recommend it to ladies around here because I feel so sure it will benefit any woman who takes it."—Mrs. AGNES WIGNALL, Talleville, New York.

For Children's Coughs and Colds

MOTHERS, DO THIS!
Spread CAMPHOROLE over throat and chest, cover with warm flannel. It soon penetrates, and quickly breaks up a stubborn cough, or cold in throat or chest. Keep a jar handy. No telling when kiddies waken suddenly at night and begin with a choking cough. That's when you need a friend like CAMPHOROLE, the handiest and mightiest remedy for spasmodic croup. It acts quickly, opening up the breathing tubes, and enables the little sufferer to breathe easily and with safety. What a relief for anxious mothers! No sickening drugs to upset and weaken their delicate stomachs. It is far better than Camphorated oil, and does not stain. Once you try CAMPHOROLE, you'll then realize how good it is for Croup, Cough, Colds, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Sore Throat, Asthma and Catarrh.

TO INSURE PUBLIC AGAINST AUTOS

Compulsory Liability Insurance Bill Drafted.

BUDGET REPORT IS READY

Pinchot Will Submit Recommendation to the General Assembly—Pinchot Has 22 House Votes.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Compulsory liability insurance on all automobiles in Pennsylvania is provided in the tentative draft of a bill, for presentation in the present general assembly, by the joint commission appointed by the last legislature to recommend some methods of protection for the public against reckless motor car drivers. The proposed measure has been agreed upon by the commission, after a number of public hearings and correspondence and conference with automobile clubs, insurance officials and others interested in the legislation.

The measure drafted is now being printed for public distribution. It is planned to be introduced by Senator Clarence J. Buckman, of Bucks county, chairman of the legislative commission, within the next few weeks, but it is understood that the members are willing to make any changes urged as desirable before the bill is called for final passage.

$2500 For One Death.

The commission which drafted the bill includes, in addition to Senator Buckman, Senator William D. Mansfield, of Allegheny county, and Representatives Edward Hays, Philadelphia; Samuel J. McKim, Allegheny, and Charles F. Armstrong, Armstrong. Enforcement of the proposed measure, which would take effect January 1 next, is provided by registration of all motor cars in Pennsylvania with the State Secretary of Highways. Registration is to be granted, however, only upon satisfying the Highway Department of the financial ability of the car owner to meet damages to the extent of $2500 for one person injured or killed, of $5000 for more than one person injured or killed, and for $1000 additional for damages to property. In the registration of more than one car protection to the public is made mandatory to the extent of $4000 for each motor vehicle, in addition to the rates for individual autos, with a maximum liability of $20,000 for a number of motor vehicles thus licensed.

Budgeteers Silent on Report.

State budgetary and welfare officials decline to say whether any percentage of increase had been agreed upon for appropriations to be recommended for the coming two years.

There have been reports current here the last few days that a 10 per cent advance had been decided on wing to some vigorous protests made by legislators as to the experience of institutions in their districts with what was allowed last time, but this could not be confirmed.

Nelcher could the report that people connected with a number of hospitals on the state list had been assured the deficits incurred in the operations of two years would be cared for.

About half the hospitals receiving state aid are declared to have used up their money.

Budget officials said the policy would not be announced until the governor himself told the legislature, but the report of advances especially where institutions demonstrated they could not make ends meet on what was allowed have been persistent.

The only thing on which the administration officials have been giving comfort is that the appropriations to be recommended will not be reductions from 1923.

Pinchot Has 22 House Votes.

Governor Pinchot can get some comfort out of the prevailing political situation. If the worst comes to the worst and the Grundy-Vare combination shows too much ruthlessness, the executive has a neat little block of votes than he can use in the legislature. This group does not consist of the 58 votes cast in the caucus for Goodnough. It is closer to 22, but at that, the number is not to be sneezed at. There could come a emergency when they would hold a balance of power.

The governor has been mentioned as a possible candidate for United States senator. He has had ambitions along that route for many years, but never got very far. A split up in the Republican party made him governor, thus advancing him, but he has not improved his chances in a senatorial way during the last two years.

Under ordinary conditions the Grundy-Vare deal can expect little from Governor Pinchot. Vare deserted him because the wet interests demanded it. Grundy deserted him in the speakership fight. On the other side, the governor's attack on Andrew J. Mellon is not likely to be forgotten. Senator Pepper and Governor Pinchot are more friendly, but there is the barrier of organization that must keep them apart politically. The same with Baker. And as for Max Leslie, his views on the governor are not voiced in whispers. The same feeling is held by many county leaders.

Rust on Cereals Cause of Damage

Two Varieties Found on Wheat Caused by Fungus Organisms.

There are several kinds of rust on cereals. Two of these rusts are most commonly found on wheat; namely, orange leaf rust and black stem rust. Both are caused by fungus organisms and the "seeds" by which they spread are called spores. These spores germinate, forming a germ tube which enters the living host plant and produces a spot which later breaks through the epidermis. This is called pustule.

Leaf rust has a widespread occurrence. Its pustules often are found on the leaves of wheat when the plants are young. They are of an orange yellow color, hence the name "orange leaf rust." The round spores can be recognized by means of a microscope. Though this rust causes some damage, it does not cause serious losses.

Rust on Stems and Leaves.

Stem rust is common on both stems and leaves. Its pustules can be told from those of the leaf rust by their reddish color and the torn paper-like edges of the pustules. The red spores of the summer stage are oval in shape. The red or summer stage develops rapidly under favorable conditions, spreading the rust from field to field. The spores are so light that they may be carried long distances by the wind. Moisture does not cause rust but furnishes favorable conditions for the spores to germinate and multiply.

The common barberry, (Berberis vulgaris), is an important factor in the spread of stem rust. There are a few other species of barberry which may take stem rust and spread it to grains and grasses.

Barberry Starts Spread.

An infected common barberry will start an early spread of stem rust. Several cases have been observed where local epidemics have started from such sources.

The Japanese barberry is harmless and should be destroyed.

Look out for early appearances of both leaf and stem rusts on grains and wild grasses. Send specimens and record of location of early stem rust on grain or wild grasses to the botany department of the State Agricultural college.—E. A. Lungren, State Leader, Barberry Eradication, Colorado State Agricultural College.

Winning Pig Litter Was Given Run of Pasture

The lucky farmer in the ton-litter contest of Indiana was W. F. Parks. His ten pure-bred Poland-China pigs tipped the scales at 2,774 pounds.

Here is how he fed the sow and pigs. The mother got corn, some tankage and a little skim milk, and the run of a mixed clover and timothy pasture, while she carried her litter.

After farrowing, a thin slop of bran and shorts was fed for three or four days. Corn was added on the fifth day and tankage when the pigs were a week old. Feed was gradually increased until the sows were getting a liberal feed by the time the pigs were two weeks old.

Pigs were started to eating on a slop of shorts and skim milk, and were fed by hand in a "creep." Corn was added a couple of weeks before weaning. After weaning the pigs were fed corn, shorts and skim milk and had the run of a clover pasture.

"The pigs did exceptionally well from the start," said Mr. Parks. "One big reason was because I kept the sows and their litters out of the old hog lots. The pigs were always thrifty and healthy; none of them were runt. It pays to keep young pigs where there is no danger of them becoming infected with parasites and disease."

Work of Corn Borer

The corn stalk borer spends the winter in the tap root of the old corn stalk, where it is protected from winter weather. In the spring the adult moth or "miller" develops. Eggs are laid on the growing corn. Injury is caused by the larva or grub. This worm bores into the corn stalk, stunting the plant, and causing it to break down before the ears are mature. In some localities injury is severe.

While Soil Still Freezes

The seeds of poppy, cornflower, cosmos, summer cypress, larkspur, snapdragon, snow-on-the-mountain and sweet alyssum may be sown on well-prepared ground just before winter for early spring germination, or on fall prepared ground very early in the spring while the soil still freezes at night, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Cracked and Dirty Eggs

Cracked and dirty eggs are worth only a little more than half as much as clean fresh eggs with sound shells. Keep the nests filled with clean straw, sawdust, or hay, and avoid the loss from cracked eggs. By keeping the flock indoors in muddy weather, the number of dirty eggs can be reduced.

Self-Feeders Pay Well

The present price of corn makes it especially profitable to use a self-feeder for hogs. In addition to the more economical gains made by providing a balanced ration, the feeder avoids the loss of grain which always occurs during wet weather, if fed on the ground.

Bluestone Used for Sheep-Worm Control

Government Demonstration Attracts Many Sheepmen.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A demonstration of the bluestone or copper-sulphate treatment of sheep for the riddance of stomach worms attracted over 70 sheepmen in Wapello county, Iowa, according to a recent report to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Experimental work in the practical control of stomach worms is being carried on by the department at Queen City, Mo., where about 2,000 sheep on a dozen farms have been made available by the owners for the use of the specialist in charge of the investigations. The problem of stomach-worm control has been under investigation the last eight years at Vienna, Va., and the copper-sulphate treatment is the most satisfactory means of preventing losses from stomach worms yet discovered.

After two years of experimenting at Queen City, Mo., Dr. E. M. Nighbert states that almost complete control of the stomach worms of sheep in the Middle West can be secured by the copper-sulphate treatment, and that slight expense profits in the production of mutton, wool, and breeding stock can be greatly increased by the treatment.

Sprouting Oats in Bags Is Most Practical Plan

This time of year when green food is dry and fibrous, sprouted oats is almost a necessity for laying stock.

Two quarts of dry seed oats is sufficient for 100 hens. Place this in a thin muslin bag, made pillow-slip fashion and soak all night in a pail of water, tepid preferred. In the morning hang up behind kitchen range with drip pan below.

Each evening for five days, place a bag of the required amount of oats soaking; once daily dip in tepid water, shake and stir thoroughly to prevent heating. On the fifth day the first bag is ready to feed.

One good-sized pinch per hen is plenty. Sprouted or germinated oats should be fed in troughs or on clean boards as they are damp and collect dirt if fed in litter. Wash the bags in hot soapuds and use over and over.

Sprouted oats is one of the finest of green feeds if fed sweet and clean. Never feed if moldy, sour or smutty. Do not overfeed; feed regularly each day. They help keep the birds in good condition and make hatching eggs more fertile and hatchable. Commence feeding to chicks when they are one month old, feeding a tiny bit at first and increasing each day.

Protein Feed Lacking

Few farmers who are raising poultry on a comparatively large scale have enough buttermilk or skim milk so that they can supply the protein needed in a ration made up of farm-raised grains by feeding these products in the way mentioned. They must, therefore, have access to protein in other forms if they would secure profitable egg production, especially during the early fall and winter months.

Thinning Sweet Corn

Three stalks to the hill is a good average number of stalks when growing sweet corn. Some varieties will grow from three or four grains as many as a dozen stalks. The weaker ones should be pulled out. Otherwise the yield will be reduced to small ears, or none at all. Three healthy stalks to the hill should average two to three ears to the stalk.

Sod in Orchards

Where the orchard has been in sod for several years the plowing should be shallow, so as not to tear up the small feeding roots which always come to the surface in sod orchards. Two years of clean cultivation will send the roots downward and there will be no danger of disturbing them. Afterwards the orchard should be kept in some kind of cover crop and in clean cultivation.

FARM NOTES

The good farmer is known by his rotation.

A dairy barn doesn't need to be costly to be clean.

Label your products. Of what avail is pedigree if its possessor is nameless?

There is no short-cut to ease in farming; but there are ways of making farming easier.

Farmers winter-feeding fat stock know that keeping them always just a little hungry keeps them on the gain.

Dullness is one of the most universally despised qualities, yet we sometimes see sharp persons tolerating dull tools.

While there is still snow on the ground, it is a good time to sow grass seed and up to the first of May. Sowing on the snow is now regarded as an excellent method, the melting snow carrying the seed down to the earth swelled by the moisture and ready to germinate at the first warm spell.
