

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. W. Gross Mingle, of Philadelphia, is visiting her father, Capt. G. M. Boal, in Centre Hall.

Miss Estella Hosterman, clerk in the local post office, was an over-Sunday guest of friends and relatives at Co-burn.

Mrs. Maggie Kreamer returned Lewistown, where she had been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Kreamer for a period of five weeks.

The Junior class of the Centre Hall High school will present a play in the Grange hall, Friday, March 13th, entitled, "Engaged by Wednesday."

The house purchased recently by D. M. Bradford is being repaired, and will also receive minor improvements before being occupied by the Bradford family.

Miss Beatrice Kramer, R. N., was summoned to the home of J. Reuben Garis, near Greensburg, one day last week, to nurse one of the Garis children who became ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. L. Bartholomew and daughter, Mary Ellen, were over-Sunday visitors at the home of the former's brother, Chas. D. Bartholomew. Their home is in Altoona.

The annual mid-year convention of the Pennsylvania State Adult Bible Class Federation will be held in Harrisburg beginning Monday at 1:30 p. m., closing Tuesday. The meetings will be held in Grace Methodist church.

Both Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Stover, of Millheim, were confined to their bed on account of sickness, the former suffering from abscesses in the head and the latter from tonsillitis. Mr. Stover is cashier of the Farmers National Bank.

Farm stock and implement sales are not nearly as numerous in Centre county this year as during the past few years. This is also true of all sections represented by the newspaper's finding their way to the Reporter's exchange table.

Squire Cyrus Brungart, for the greater part of last week, was confined to his home because of a swollen condition of the left side of the head, due to it is thought to having contracted cold. We are glad to state that he is again found at his office.

To offset opposition overland bus service, railroads in some sections are seriously considering the proposition of equipping overland bus types with wheels suitable to run on rails, and in this way hope to regain lost business where short passenger hauls are made.

An electric sign has been erected to the front of the Fetterolf garage, and another is being erected to the front of the Hosterman garage. The former flashes out the qualities of the Durant products, while the latter when completed will herald the Dodge and Ford.

John Fortney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Fortney, of Tusseyville, a few days ago returned from Punxsutawney, where he visited his aunt, Mrs. Annie Fortney Dunkle, wife of former Sheriff Dunkle. He was met at Centre Hall by his sister, Miss Mary Fortney, and Miss Fohringer.

Frank Stover, of Altoona, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Royer and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Runkle during last week. Mr. Stover has long been employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and has not taken a vacation in ten years. He is a son of the late George Stover, and was reared near Centre Hill. It is sixteen years since he visited the old home site.

While sawing wood with a power circular saw, one day last week, Edgar Timmey, of Centre Hill, had the misfortune to strike his right hand against the saw, mutilating the index finger so badly that amputation of it was made at the nuckle at the Centre County Hospital by Dr. Locke. Mr. Timmey was assisting his neighbor, Charles Miller, in sawing the summer's wood when the accident happened.

Iodine treatment will be introduced in the Lock Haven schools to prevent the development of goiter, the report of the school physician revealing that 125 children were suffering with the disease. The school board decided the consent of parents of all children between the ages of 9 and 16 years would be obtained before the treatment would be administered. Dr. E. C. Blackburn, school physician, has offered to defray the expense of the treatment for the remainder of the year.

From the best information at hand, in case the proposed plans to build the road over Nittany Mountain go through, the detour will be via Lemont. This will put Bellefonte twenty miles distant from here, and will make one hesitate to visit the county seat unless on very important business. This affects not only Centre Hall but all of Penns Valley east of the western Potter township line, and all of Brush Valley. The road between Centre Hall and Linden Hall has not been fit for automobile travel since the auto came into existence. William F. Floray has been assigned to the care of the detour west of here.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Merchant W. A. Odenkirk joined the main line excursionists to New York City, on Sunday.

Another supply of fresh fish and oysters by the latter part of this week. Try these goods; you will be pleased with their quality.—W. H. Bland.

William D. Shoop, who became ill on his way home from Miami, Florida, ventured on the streets for the first time since he is home, on Tuesday.

John H. Welby, of Lemont, was in town on Tuesday, having come here to visit his old friend, James H. Smetzler.

James H. Smetzler, who has been suffering from the formation of a blood clot in one of the veins of his foot, was taken to the Centre County Hospital on Wednesday for treatment.

Birthday Surprise Party

To prove that the "impossible" could be done, George W. Sharer was taken by complete surprise Saturday evening at his farm home east of Centre Hall, where a crowd of neighbors and friends came in on him to help him make a merry occasion out of his birthday anniversary. Mr. Sharer was somewhat "fussed," as the young folks say but soon regained his composure and entered into the joy of the occasion. Of course, no small part of the celebration was the refreshments that went with it, which consisted of ice cream, cake, sandwiches, pickles, etc.

Those numbered among the present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reish and children, Virginia, Ralph; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hisey and children, Harry and Allen; Mrs. George Smith and children, Kenneth, Annie and Marie; Mrs. Samuel Reish and granddaughter Mary; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooks and children, James and Lilae; Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney and children, Margaret, John Thomas and Ray; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharer and family, Maybelle, Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob P. Flowers for the Highways

Pennsylvania highways are to be officially flowered by a state wide planting program, to be started in 1925. Engineers of the Highway Department are to make requisition for shrubs and vines necessary to cover disfiguring banks, and road construction scars. The present estimate is 300,000 vines—wild roses, matrimony vines, honeysuckle, yellow foraythorn, shrub dogwood, spirea, snowberry, Japanese barberry, and libert iris. Ten grasses and clovers will be used, some of them being really beautiful bloomers, like the Alsike and white clovers, and the entire State Highway system is to be parked with those natural beauties.

Colleges to Fare Well

In a lengthy conference behind closed doors, on Tuesday, the Senate Committee on Education, of which Senator Barr of Allegheny, is chairman, practically agreed with representatives of the University of Pittsburgh, University of Pennsylvania and State College to grant all their requests. In a return the three educational institutions accepted the demand of the Senate that each of the fifty members of that body is to receive three free scholarships each year.

Heretofore it has been a custom for each educational institution receiving appropriations from the State to give each Senator one scholarship. Recently Senator Barr presented a resolution, which was adopted by the Senate, requiring each institution to grant three.

Giving the Dairy Cow a Square Deal

News Bureau of Animal Husbandry

There are now 25,375,000 dairy cattle in the United States. Of these, says a recent report, only about one-half are cared for in a manner to enable them to return a fair profit to their owners.

Many a milk cow has been accused of being a "harder" when the owner had only himself to blame. Unlike human beings, dairy cows never shirk intentionally, and frequent tests reveal that seemingly unimportant details in the care of milk cows have startling effects on milk production.

If you are considering drying up any of your milk herd because you believe them to be unproductive, fill in the questionnaire below for your own satisfaction. If you can write YES as an answer to all of the questions, it is safe to assume that, if your cows are not diseased, they are getting a square deal and therefore ought to repay you generously.

Are you feeding them a properly balanced ration?

If not, or if you are not quite sure of what makes up a properly balanced ration for milk cows, get in touch with your county agent. It will pay you to do this.

Are the stables kept clean—especially during the months you keep the milk cows in?

Clean stables and good ventilation are essential if the cow is to give full returns. Clean gutters, clean bedding and lots of pure air are important.

Has your milk herd access to all the fresh water they will drink? If not, give it to them. Water is cheap, and they will repay you with more and better milk.

Do you keep the cows clean?

Filth adhering to flanks and udders takes money right out of your pocket. Impurities are absorbed into the system. That means more feed or less milk. Milk from a manure-caked cow is unclean, and, on a strict interpretation, against the law. In just a few minutes, you can clip the udders, flanks and underlines of the cows. Thereafter, it is only a matter of seconds to wipe off all clinging foreign matter with a damp cloth. Farmers and dairymen who follow this practice say it increases milk flow and enriches the milk. And the cow is certainly more comfortable and contented.

Are you giving your cows a square deal?
