On Monday evening at the Presbyterian Manse, Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick very delightfully entertained about 20 members of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. It was the set time for the regular meeting of the organization and after the program was completed, dainty refreshments were served, each member receiving a novelty as a favor, which with a card bearing the name of the member for which it was intended, also a number and a brief fortelling of incidents of the individual's life, lay on each plate. The evening was most pleasantly and as profitably spent.

Wednesday evening, April 1st, Lenk Dell Wiggins, State Superintendent of the Y. P. B., will be here. A meeting and suitable program is being arranged for that occasion.

State Highway surveyors are again surveying the road over Nittany Mountain, and are said to be "relocating the route" at some points, one of them being within the borough limits. The Reporter has nothing definite on the move now on, but it can say that the less nosing-in that is done the better. The State Highway bean bowl, so far as it applies to Centre Hall, can easily be upset by officious officials.

The Homan Garage added a large towing ambulance to its already complete outfit. The car will be used in connection with the Highway Emergency Service, Incorporated, which service is advertised in this issue, also for the general trade.

Max Herr is driving a new Ford truck.
