50 Years of Success

Fewer Left-Handed Women

Prof. June E. Downey of the University of Wyoming after studying the results of the examination of 400 men and women, selected from the American Psychological Society, has come to the conclusion that fewer women are left-handed than men and that the ambidextrous ones are of superior intelligence. Furthermore, the distinction between left and right is not nearly so strong in most people as their sense of up and down.

Foal's Odd Birthplace

An unusual accident caused a block ade in Berlin (Germany) traffic on one of the most crowded thoroughfares of the city. A mare attached to a heavily laden cart suddenly collapsed, and to the amazement of the hurrying crowds brought a foal into the world. A police man telephoned for a veterinary surgeon, the mare was unhitched, and with its foal was conveyed to a stable in a van.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

IMAGINATIVE ACTIVITY

IN ALL that has to do with masterful effort and extraordinary achievement, there must first be in the mind of the prospective operator an imaginative activity.

In order to write a book or a play, it is necessary, in the beginning of either, to set our imagination to work, going carefully, step by step, over the plots and characters, and picturing them to the limit of our ability as they appear when they make their obnoxious to the public, for whose entertainment they have been produced.

This same principle applies to every form of labor, whether by the hand or the brain, the man or woman possessing the greater power of imagination having a decided advantage over those who constantly have to be told what to do and guided at every turning point.

The artist first visions his picture before he mixes his colors and takes up his brushes; the architect sees in his mind the outward form and proportions of a building or a bridge, prior to making the preliminary sketches.

and so it goes at the start of everything created.

Without imaginative activity the world would soon retrograde.

The force of will, unless it is supported by imagination, rarely accomplishes anything above the ordinary—never pens a poem that will go down the ages, never chisels a statue whose grace and charm excites enduring adoration, never writes a song that millions of people love to sing over and over again long after the hand that wrote it is turned to dust.

The Pyramids, those impressive monuments near Cairo, Egypt, on the west side of the Nile, grew from imagination to imperishable piles which have excited the wonder and admiration of mankind for centuries.

"Where there is no vision," says the Book of Books, "the people perish."

If you are blessed with an imaginative mind, a conscious aiming at a result, give it free rein.

AS TOLD BY Irvin S. Cobb

THE VOICE OF A PROPHET

A COMPANY of a division of colored troops was in heavy marching order awaiting the word to start for the front. It was to be their first actual contact with the enemy. One of the privates had somewhere picked up a copy of the Paris edition of the New York Herald.

"Does dat dar paper say anything about us boys?" inquired a sergeant "It sho' do," answered the private improvising. "It sez yere dat twenty five thousand cuillid troops is goin over de top tonight supported by fifty thousand Frenchmen."

From down the line came a third voice, saying:

"Well, I knows wut tomorrow's edition of dat paper's gwine say. It's gwine say, in big black letters 'Fifty thousand Frenchmen tromped to death by twenty-five thousand niggers.'" there have been many congressmen, senators and governors. John Hubbard was governor of Maine, Lucius F. was governor of Minnesota, Richard B. Hubbard, member of a Virginia family of the name, was governor of Texas, and a Richard D. was governor of Connecticut.

SCHOOL DAYS

In England the name is an old and distinguished one, being the family name of the first Lord Addington, born in 1805, who was the son of a rich Russian merchant, member of an old Essex county family of Hubbard.

Among the Hubbards in this country Chester D. Hubbard, United States congressman from Connecticut before the Civil war, was one of his descendants, as was Joseph S. Hubbard, a celebrated astronomer.

Elbert Hubbard, of East Aurora fame, was a descendant of a George Hubbard, Englishman, who settled in Connecticut in 1620, 15 years before William Hubbard.

Love's Seasons

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I KISSED her when we strolled the field. The meadowlands of May. When kiss and laughter both concealed. The things we dared not say—I kissed her in the spring of life Before I thought of house or wife.

I kissed her in the heat of June When every rose was red. When hearts beat, oh, so wild a tune! By youth's glad music led—I kissed her when she dared to turn Her eyes to mine and let them burn.

I kissed her in the summer night. The night of stars and flowers. When peace and joy and calm delight And comradeship were ours. When comradeship had come to bless Desire had turned to tenderness.

I kissed her when her cheeks ran rain. When sorrow overflowed. And saw the sun come forth again. And roses to the road—And sweetest time of all appears The time I kissed away her tears.

MANY HOUSEKEEPERS TOO ILL TO WORK

How Many Are Finding Relief from Weakness and Pain. Mrs. Brandenburg a Notable Case

MRS. EMIL O. BRANDENBURG 601 57TH STREET, MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN
Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"I was in a badly run-down condition and I would get weak spells and terrible headaches. I felt so badly last year that I could not do any housecleaning. The minute I would lift or stoop it seemed as if I was going to fall to pieces. I told a neighbor how I felt and she said that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was surely the right thing for me. I took four bottles then and in the fall of the year

I took three. I had been treated by a doctor, but he gave me an iron tonic and that did not help me. It seemed that the tonic did not have in it what the Vegetable Compound did. That gave me the strength and ambition I needed and I have gained in weight. This year before I started to clean house I got four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and am taking it right along. I tell all my friends about it and how much good it does me. They can notice it because I have gained in weight. I weigh 118 now and do all my work myself again."
—Mrs. EMIL O. BRANDENBURG, 651 27th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Earl's Recovery

Horace, Nebraska.—"I had terrible pains and backache, so bad that I could hardly move, and I would have to lie down at times. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I was so sick that I thought I would try it. My husband knew it was good as he knew a woman it had helped. It took all my pains away and I don't have any backache now. I do my own housework, take care of a few chickens and my garden, and have a little girl three years old to look out for. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and I will answer all the questions I can, if any one writes to me."
—Mrs. ADA EARL, Box 23, Horace, Nebraska.

Pierce's Old Home

Work upon the restoration of one of the New Hampshire's historic sites is reported from Hillsboro as follows: "A feature of the style a century ago now surrounds the Franklin Pierce home at the Lower Village. This, with the removal of the piazzas and the addition of porches at the side doors, makes the house as it was in the days of Gov. Benjamin Pierce, father of the President, by whom the mansion was erected."—Concord Monitor.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Finds Oil in Madagascar

M. Barrabe, a geologist and member of the French Ecole Normale, has made a geological expedition into Madagascar, and brought back information that will be commercially important. He has numerous specimens of carboniferous sands, indicating that while the coal fields are not as important as those of Indo-China the petroleum and bituminous sands are more important.
