

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

This is only May seventh, and yet the kiddies are talking of Elks' Kiddies' day.

The first consignment of material for the Nittany Mountain road arrived on Tuesday and consisted of two car loads of timber.

A cow belonging to the late W. J. Smith, who conducted a dairy here for a number of years, was sold a few days ago for $160 to Ashbridge Thomas at Belleville.

The application for a bus line between Bellefonte and Tyrone was withdrawn before the time for the hearing before the public service commission.

Nine million trees were distributed from the various nurseries operated by the Forestry Department of the State. Almost half the trees were sent out from the Clearfield nursery.

The Ladies' Temple, K. G. E., at Spring Mills, admitted several new members on Tuesday evening, and after the ceremonies refreshments were served. Nineteen members of the Centre Hall lodge were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher and Mrs. John H. Puff attended the sessions of the missionary convention of the West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church, held in Lock Haven, on Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Fisher is secretary of the body.

R. G. Dunn & Company's representative, John T. Ault, was in town last week gathering data. Mr. Ault is a very genial gentleman, and during the recent world disturbance spent much of the time in various camps in the south giving recruits their initial training.

Mrs. Isabella Kerstetter attained her eighty-ninth year the last Thursday in April. She is an aunt of E. W. Crawford and makes her home with him. Five years ago last December, Mrs. Kerstetter fell and broke her hip, and since then has been obliged to be in bed, taking the care of a child.

H. E. Foust, of Potters Mills, a building contractor, is finding plenty of work in his line at State College. He has under way two dwelling houses, one for Wilbur Leitzel and another for his father, S. H. Leitzel. A three-story porch is also being built on the residence of Harry H. Ishler.

Alvin Floray, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Floray, of near Tusseyville, left by auto for Elgin, Ill., Tuesday of last week, arriving there Friday. At that point he met Charles Miller, who with Mr. Floray, graduated from an automobile school in Kansas City a year or two ago. The young men will do auto and tractor repair work in Illinois.

Theodore Weidensaul, of Columbia, accompanied Rev. Floyd A. Huff, to Centre Hall on Saturday, and while here greeted old friends he knew back in 1879 when he was a clerk in the general store of William Wolf. Mr. Weidensaul and a sister are living in the Union county town named above. He is engaged with a milling firm but is not doing strenuous work.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Lansberry and two children, with Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Smith and son Albert, motored to Palestine, Clearfield county, on Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Lansberry's grandmother, Mrs. Peter Lansberry. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lansberry, Harold Rishelle and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mayor, of Wilkesbarre, also attended the funeral. On their return home they stopped for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Lansberry, near Centre Hall, a brother of Mrs. Rishelle and Mr. Lansberry.

Grover Colyer and friend, Joe Marvin, of Long Island, for a few days the past week visited about Tusseyville, the former home of Mr. Colyer, with his grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Floray, and his uncle, F. P. Floray. The young men were also to Millburg when they visited the Rev. N. J. Dubbs family and Mrs. John O. Diehl. The young men are in the air service, being full-fledged aviators.

Reed Hackett, while at work in the planing mill in Lewistown, had the misfortune to have all of the fingers on one of his hands cut off. The information concerning the accident is very indefinite, but from what can be gathered it appears Mr. Hackett and another man were working at a saw, when a board being handled jammed the saw and broke it, one of the broken pieces striking him with the result named above. Mr. Hackett, prior to going to Lewistown, was tenant on the John H. Detwiler farm, east of Centre Hall, but gave up farming April 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Kryder arrived in Centre Hall on Thursday from St. Petersburg, Florida, where they spent the winter. They will live in Mrs. Kryder's home in Centre Hall, to which place they went at once upon reaching town. The marriage of the couple took place just prior to leaving here last fall for the south, giving the youths no time to give them the usual wedding. This was not forgotten, so on the first night here the callithumpians turned out to drum and "collect." Mr. Kryder was equal to the occasion, and took care for the time being of the coming generation.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The April showers seem to be extending into May.

To date little or no corn has been planted in this section, but there is yet time for moderately early planting.

Earl Grove, son of H. E. Grove, of Centre Hall, who is employed on a dairy farm in the Altoona district, was at his home for a few days. He returned to work on Tuesday.

Rev. C. E. Hazen, pastor of the local Methodist church, filled the appointment in the Lutheran church, Sunday afternoon for Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, the pastor, who was unable to preach on account of having a number of teeth removed.

The Reitz Brothers, of Sunbury, who have the contract for building the road over Nittany Mountain, were in town on Monday and stated that all the road machinery had been loaded for shipment here. To ship a steam shovel from Dalmation, a special permit was given by the Pennsylvania, and was routed, by the way of Williamsport. The contractors say work will be commenced as soon as the machinery can be gotten on the ground.

Big Map of Country, 45 Years in Making, Now One-Third Complete.

Four hundred government topographers are taking the field this month to resume annual work upon the $50,000,000 map of the United States already forty-five years in the making, which the last congress decided must be hurried to completion within the next twenty years.

The American Engineering council, representing twenty-eight engineering societies, said recently that this, the greatest cartographic panorama ever made of the country, is being produced in such detail that it will account for every acre and will even show every farmhouse.

The vast job is only one-third done. Under the new impetus the groups of mappers are pushing into new, uncharted sections. Stories are already coming back from the scouts of the United States geological survey and the United States Coast and geodetic survey of no hardships appearing in the day's work particularly in the mountain divisions.

The map called "The Topographic Atlas of the United States," if spread out in a single sheet would resemble the "big top" of a circus tent, and would cover a solid acre. However, it is being divided into 6,000 sheets for convenience.

Once finished the map will save millions of dollars in exploration work for city planning, land valuation, road surveys, railway building, aqueduct construction and public works in general, according to the council.
