Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Kreamer of Lewisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. I. Bartholomew and daughter, Mary Ellen, of Altoona, were recent guests at the C. D. Bartholomew home in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Ada Finkle, of Spring Mills, widow of Adam N. Finkle, has been seriously ill during the past six weeks and is not improving. She is suffering from a complication of diseases.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dutrow and baby, on Tuesday morning left for Bellevue, Ohio, by auto, at which place they will visit Mr. Spayd's brother, James E. Spayd. They expect to be gone for two weeks.

Mr. and Mr. Roger T. Bayard, of Tyrone, were in Centre Hall for a few days, returning home on Monday. Mr. Bayard has long been connected with the Tyrone Herald, which paper has been doing its bit in the boosting of Tyrone and environs.

Miss Anne Osler was called to her home in Columbia, on Sunday, on account of a sudden illness of her father. It was thought that he suffered a paralytic stroke. Monday his condition was somewhat improved, permitting Miss Osler to return in the evening.

It is probable that Charles W. Slack will resume farming next spring after having lived in Centre Hall for a number of years. His son, Fred Slack, who has been tenant on the place and has been most successful, is desirous of locating on a farm nearer a public school. He has several desirable places in view.

J. Russell Condo, J. C. Condo and Dr. H. S. Braucht were among others from Spring Mills who were in Centre Hall Monday evening. The former paid his respects to the Centre Reporter. He is one of the public school teachers at Spring Mills, having taught the 7th and 8th grades for several years.

On their return home from visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Slack, in Mifflinburg, a car in which were riding Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Stover and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kerstetter, all of Coburn, was sidwiped by a car near Hartleton. The Coburn car was not injured to any great extent, but the Jewett sedan, driven by a Mr. Wagner, was pretty badly used up.

Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Bingman, daughters Misses Mary and Beulah, and son, of New Kingston, came to Centre Hall beginning of the week to be present at the commencement exercises of the Centre Hall High school. Miss Ruth Bingman, a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Bingman, was one of the members of the senior class to graduate.

Rev. D. R. Keener, pastor of the Reformed church, has been ill during the past week, and Sunday was unable to fill his appointments on the charge. He had been selected by the senior class of the High school to deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening, and on Memorial day had one or more addresses prepared, but was obliged to secure a substitute for all appearances.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Slack and baby are now living in Mifflinburg, having moved there from Coburn a short time ago. Mr. Slack holds a clerkship in the P. R. R. station at Mifflinburg. On leaving the Williamsport P. R. R. offices he was sent to Coburn, where he erected a dwelling house and had only occupied it a brief time when he with a number of others on the branch were shifted to other points.

Many of the people who go to the mountains for recreation do not seem to realize that they are on property other than their own, or at least have no compunction about appropriating anything in sight they may wish. On Sunday, John H. Detwiler taught one of this kind a part of the alphabet when he found he had pulled from the roots a young tree Mr. Detwiler had planted early in the spring and made a growth of about three inches. The stranger parted with $2.00 very cheerfully, because the lesson was cheap.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Elmer M. Miller purchased a new Chrysler touring car through the C. P. Ramer agency, at Tusseyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher C. Stahl and family of four fine boys, motored from their home in Altoona, Saturday, spending over Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Mary Stahl.

Go to hear and see the reproduction of "A Modern Cinderella," by members of the Y. P. B. You will be well repaid for your time and expense.

The Centre Hall region was again visited by a fierce storm on Tuesday toward evening. A portion of the roof on the E. H. Grove farm barn was blown off. B. W. Ripka was very much alarmed and was fearful of his barn being blown over. They were in the barn at the time and sought shelter elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bauer and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Philip Shoemaker, of Linden Hall, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Bradford, parents of Mrs. Bauer. The gentlemen are both accountants in the office of the Republic Casualty Company.

The latter part of last week Mrs. John H. Weber returned from New York City, where she was with her daughter, Mrs. B. S. Dunham, and family, for ten days. Mrs. Dunham underwent a very serious operation and was obliged to remain in the hospital for a number of weeks. She is now at her home and is recovering. After school closes she and her sons expect to come to the Weber home in Centre Hall.

"Thick Head" Mountain was fired, intentionally or otherwise, Sunday afternoon, and before the flames were extinguished Monday night a considerable area was burned over. About 150 men fought the flames Monday night. The fire originated in the region where the Bellefonte, Milesburg and Pleasant Gap hunting camps are located. The section burned over was owned by the State.

Claude K. Stahl, of Philadelphia, was with his mother, Mrs. Mary Stahl, west of town, from Saturday until Monday. He reports Miss Elsie Geiss, in whose apartment house he lives, as well and doing a splendid business, and that her sister, Mrs. Verna Miller, purchased a home on Columbia avenue, which will be occupied by Mrs. Miller and several other ladies.

The prospects for a hay crop are most promising and there are many fields that are a most perfect delight to look over. Two of the most perfect sets of clover to be seen in a long ways travel are on the farms of B. W. Ripka, at Centre Hill. The soil is gravel and the growth of the clover unusually rank for this time of the year, and nothing but clover—not even dandelion blooms—is visible.

The Gregg Township, Vocational School, is doing its good share in furnishing young people to seek education higher than is afforded in their home community. Among the graduates this year who will enter Normal schools or college in the fall are Violet Hagan, daughter of William Hagan; Mary Long, daughter of Geo. W. Long; Walter Herring, son of H. B. Herring, Esq.; Nona Wagner, daughter of Jasper A. Wagner, who will enter Pennsylvania State College; Ethel Musser, daughter of Frank Musser, to West Chester State Normal; Orle Wagner, daughter of Jasper W. Wagner, and Madeline Finkle, daughter of the late Adam N. Finkle, to Central State Normal, Lock Haven.

Mrs. Mabel Erdley, of Milton, was one of the Reporter's callers on Saturday. She reports her husband to be confined to the Danville hospital where he has been since October 7th, suffering from paralysis. On their return from Granger Encampment and Fair, last fall, to their home, the auto truck in which they were traveling was struck by a car with such force as to throw both Mr. and Mrs. Erdley from the truck over an embankment at the Milton approach to the Lewisburg bridge over the West Branch of the Susquehanna river. At first the injuries were not thought to be serious, but later it became necessary to remove him to a hospital. His condition is very serious at times.

Electricity will soon supplant steam power in the Centre Hall Roller Mills owned by Bradford & Co. Five motors, with a combined power of seventy-five horsepower, will be installed. This will permit the operation of the rolls, the feed mill, hoisting, etc., independently.

Monday night a mail plane from New York landed on the new aviation field, below Bellefonte. The field was brilliantly lighted and the sight of the big plane gliding to the ground was one of delight to the several hundred spectators who waited long for the event.

Fred Brown, who was one of the men adding in fighting fire on "Thick Head" above Colyer, captured a baby deer Sunday forenoon. The fawn is but a few days old and had not Mr. Brown dashed through a column of fire, it would have been destroyed immediately. Permission has been given Mr. Brown to keep the little animal until it is able to take care of itself, and he is giving it the best of attention. Like a baby, the fawn is fed warm milk at night, and is receiving every possible attention.
