Bettie Harper, of Ardmore, is being entertained by her little friend, Helen Martz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Martz, at Linden Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Frank and the son, of Baltimore, Md., were in Centre Hall over the National holiday. They drove here in a car.

Miss Flora Love, of Bellefonte, spent her week's vacation away from the printing office in Centre Hall, her former home town, visiting among friends.

Although in the eighty-seventh year of his age, George Kimble, of Williamsport, enjoyed a visit to Centre Hall at the home of a niece, Mrs. S. I. Hennigh.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McWilliams, the former a Johnstown house decorator, were guests at the home of Mr. McWilliams' sister, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, over the Fourth.

A Dodge car was driven home from Pittsburgh by Prof. L. O. Packer, and a few days later was dealt in on a Buick six touring car, which is now being handled by him.

Clyde E. Bradford improved his home in Centre Hall by building in it an open stairway. F. K. Carter did the work. He is planning to make additional improvements.

Margaret Harsinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harsinger, of Bellefonte, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith. She and her friend, Isabel Bradford, were entertained for most of the time at Sunset Clubhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Hosterman, of Lancaster, were in Centre Hall recently for part of the day and were busy heartily greeting old acquaintances. It is Mr. Hosterman's old home town and he makes one feel when he returns that there is yet here something worthwhile to him.

Miss Anne Osler, who was on the faculty of the local high school during the school year just passed, was in Centre Hall for a day or two prior to going to State College to attend summer school to further prepare herself for teaching. She has been elected to teach in her home town, New Cumberland.

Beginning of July William S. Brooks celebrated a birthday anniversary. In the evening a number of friends and relatives gathered at his home in Centre Hall to do him honor. Mr. Brooks is a remarkably well preserved man and not a bit afraid of work, although he has long ago performed his honest share of it.

In a recent issue of the Reporter, mention was made of the serious illness of Miss Elsie Rearick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rearick, of Milroy, where the young lady is a school teacher. It is now learned that she has been removed to the Getzinger Memorial Hospital, at Danville, for treatment.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick and son Jack, of Centre Hall, accompanied by Mrs. Kirkpatrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Haugh, of State College, after attending the wedding of Mrs. Kirkpatrick's brother, at Lancaster, went on to Philadelphia where they were guests of Rev. Kirkpatrick's sister, an instructor in Girard College.

On account of them not being able to take care of themselves in their home in Centre Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Slack were removed to the home of a nephew, Warren Slack, at Potters Mills, where they are now living. Mrs. Slack has been unable to walk, due to the fracture of the hip one, for several years. Both are well advanced in years.

Rev. M. S. Derstine and daughter, Miss Marguerite Derstine, and the latter's fiancé, Richard Eorbs, all of Williamsport, were guests recently of Mrs. John H. Puff, in Centre Hall, sister of the former. The party left Mrs. Derstine in Lewistown and went on to Penn State College, of which institution Mr. Eorbs is a graduate. He is now employed by a power company in Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Shaulis were one couple in a party made up of five cars in which were residents of Houppie and Johnstown, who drove to Penns Cave, camped there over night and returned home next day. Mr. Shaulis is an over-seas man, and later graduated from Penn State. While a student he visited the writer on several occasions and formed friendships with various young people here. He is now engaged in farming and fruit growing.

Farmer C. T. Crust, east of Centre Hall, met with a misfortune that will interfere with his getting away with the greater amount of farm work to be done at his season of the year. Mr. Crust fell from a load of hay onto the barn floor, cracking the edge of the pelvic rim and also shattered one or more ribs. Dr. H. H. Morrow was called and gave relief. His condition is very favorable. Neighbors flocked together and put up the hay crop. Last year Mr. Crust suffered an injury to his hand and year before to an eye, and then like now, neighbors came to his rescue.

Bartholomew, and nieces, Elizabeth Bartholomew, Mary Helen Bartholomew, Edith and Doris Moltz, and Miss Gertrude Rubie. The battlefield was the chief attraction. Mr. Bartholomew having been one of the boys who engaged in the conflict with the South.

Harold Alexander, of Centre Hall, a Penn State graduate, returned to Philadelphia after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Alexander, for a short time. He took with him his sister, Margaret Alexander, who will remain with him for a week or more. Mr. Alexander is employed in the engineering department of the offices of the Bell Telephone company, who have been his employers since graduating.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Eden and Mrs. Eden's aged father, Henry H. Carr, accompanied by C. F. Deininger, all of Harrisburg, motored to Centre Hall and were entertained at the Henney home over the Fourth, returning to the Capital City Monday morning. This was the Eden's first visit to this section and they were delighted with the beauty of the scenery and the hospitality of our people.

Frank M. Fisher, secretary of the Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance company, and George Mitchell, of Lemont, a director in the same company, are attending the State convention of mutual fire insurance companies now in session at Honesdale. The trip is being made in Mr. Fisher's new Jewett sedan. The gentlemen are being accompanied by their wives, and are expecting to return here on Friday evening.

F. V. O. Housman and W. E. Breen, both of Millheim, recently visited Sunset Club house to look over the stucco work on it. Mr. Breen is building a home in Millheim and is contemplating finishing the exterior in stucco. The structure, Mr. Housman who is the builder, says, is ready for inside plastering. Contractor Housman is now working on a double dwelling house being erected for William E. Berriges, on East Beaver Ave., State College.

While operating a grapple hay fork for Cloyd Brooks, west of Centre Hall, Ellsworth Frazier, son of Charles Frazier, of near Rebersburg, employed by Arber Cummings, narrowly escaped a most serious injury. The fork on descending was taken hold of by the young man, and as he did so the fork opened, causing the operator to lose his balance and fall from the hay wagon. One of the points of the fork struck him in the back, close to the back bone, and while it penetrated the flesh to a considerable distance, a few days later the injury had healed and caused no harmful results.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rowe and little son motored from Atlantic City, N. J. last Friday, to the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rowe, in Centre Hall. Mrs. Rowe and son will remain for some time in Centre Hall and will also visit at Clearfield with relatives. Mr. Rowe was obliged to return to Atlantic City on Sunday to look after a number of large plumbing and heating jobs which he has in progress. Mr. Rowe's friends are pleased to note his success in his line of work. He has gone into business for himself and in a short period of time has taken on a large number of really big contracts that require his constant attention. We would say that "J. L." has "arrived," and the Reporter is delighted to tell the world.

A pool table has been installed in the Masonic club room.

The Linden Hall Literary Society will hold a festival on Saturday evening, July 25th. See posters.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Ziegler, Dr. Hofman, and Messrs. Loetzer and Sigurd Ehrenborg, all of Mont Alto, spent Tuesday night in Centre Hall, the Zieglers as guests of Mrs. Eliza Meyer. The party was on an auto trip to the western part of the state.

Miss Carrie Sweetwood, R. N., of Norristown, is at the home of Miss Mary Delinda Potter, in Centre Hall, where she will remain for a short time. Miss Sweetwood, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. THREE REAL CHAMPIONS

(Copyright by R. R. Doubleday.)

"Expert and daring" leaders in the great sport to which they have brought fame, are the cowgirls from the western ranges who will compete in the Chicago Roundup and World's Championship Rodeo, to be held for nine days beginning August 15. Champions past and present, as well as new seekers after fame, will add thrills to the cowboy contests which will be presented in the new $5,000,000 stadium under the auspices of the Chicago Association of Commerce. A group of these cowgirls started the staid Britisher when they appeared in the International Championship held by Tex Austin at Wembley, England, recently, and the same champions will compete in the Chicago spectacle. Austin is organizing the Chicago roundup and will manage it, and the $30,000 in prizes is the largest amount offered for any contest this year.
