

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

H. J. Lambert exchanged his brougham type Jewett car for a later model of the same style. O. F. Funk is also about to deal his touring car on a Jewett brougham.

Rev. Karns, of Tyrone; Mrs. W. M. Campbell and son Raymond, of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Barnetta, of Osceola Mills, visited at the Samuel Shoop home last week.

Miss Elsie Rearick, of Milroy, who has spent the past month as a patient in the Geisinger Hospital, Danville, was brought to her home recently, slightly improved in health.

The furniture in the local lodge room of the Masonic order is being reupholstered with mule skin. The work is being done by W. Fred Weber, of Boalsburg, assisted by W. D. Shoop.

Frank W. Benner, of Boston, Mass., is here visiting his mother, Mrs. Nancy Benner, as well as brothers, G. O. and John, and sisters, Misses Nancy and Breeze Benner. Mrs. Benner is superintendent of a large private estate in the Hub city.

John F. Mullen, long a clerk in the Boggs & Buhl department store in Pittsburgh, arrived in Centre Hall on Monday for a brief vacation. Mrs. Mullen came with him as far as Altoona, where she is staying with a sister, Mrs. Mary R. Herring, and will later come to Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, the latter part of last week, entertained at Sunset Club house, Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, of Ingram; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glenn, State College; Mr. and Mrs. William Winegardner, of Milroy. Mr. Cox is a lithographer in a Pittsburgh art printing shop.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Jere Shunk and Miss Rebecca Yeager, of Centre Hall, were among those who attended the funeral of Walter Erdly, of Milton, whose body was interred at Lewisburg on Thursday. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Shunk are sisters of the deceased's wife and Miss Yeager is also a relative.

The surroundings of the home, of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Schaeffer, at Old Fort, have been very much improved by a large flower bed, many of the plants in which are now in bloom. There are many homes throughout the country that could be beautified with the expenditure of a bit of labor, as the Schaeffer place bears witness.

Mr. and Mrs. Alice Durst and son, Edward Durst, of Centre Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stover, of State College, will form an auto party who will leave to-day for Decatur, Illinois, the home of Foster S. Stover, brother of Mrs. Durst and Oscar Stover, at which place they will remain for a period of a week, or more. The trip is being made in the Durst Willys-Knight, with Mr. Durst at the wheel.

State engineers are now definitely marking the grade and lines for the concrete pavement over Nittany Mountain, at Centre Hall. The corps is composed of Messrs. P. M. Lollick, W. R. Nuttycomb, S. B. Cross, L. J. McKee and J. W. Morris. Mr. Lollick, who has the men in charge, is the engineer who laid out the road. They came here from Curwensville where they had been doing similar work for the State.

The nineteenth Lutheran Summer Assembly was held on the Seminary Campus, Gettysburg, from July 31st to August 7, and was attended by Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck, pastor of the Aaronsburg Lutheran charge. The attendance at the annual gathering was the largest in its history, all reservations having been taken before the opening. Rev. Daubenspeck and family are now spending the remaining of the vacation granted the pastor visiting friends in Pittsburgh, Ederton, Butler and Grove City, in Western Pennsylvania.

Miss Lacey Kirkpatrick, of Philadelphia, a member of the educational staff at Girard College, came to Centre Hall last week to visit her brother, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick. This week Miss Kirkpatrick, her brother and family are visiting relatives at Shifelsburg, Huntingdon county. Following this they will start on a three weeks auto tour to Nova Scotia, stopping at various points of interest in the New England States. They will take with them a camping outfit and live "out" when weather conditions are favorable.

Mrs. Eva Simpkins, who with her husband, now deceased, lived with Dr. W. H. Schuyler during his residence here, came to Centre Hall last week to attend the funeral of James Sweetwood. She remained here over the week, stopping with various friends, among them Mr. and Mrs. George G. Benner. On Tuesday she returned to Lewistown where for two months she has been helping to care for Mrs. Albert Foster, mother of Dr. J. V. Foster, of State College, who fell and fractured a hip bone. Mrs. Foster, by the way, is improving, although the process is slow owing to her age, seventy-three years.

DEATHS.

The Northumberland county fair, at Milton, will be held September 23, 24 and 25.

John Moser, of Wilkes-Barre, visited in State College with his sister, Mrs. John W. Stuart. Mrs. Stuart returned with her brother to his home.

Mrs. Charles W. Geary and children of Newport are spending their vacation with Mrs. Geary's mother, Mrs. Belle Whiteman, in Centre Hall. Mr. Geary accompanied his family here, but returned home Sunday.

Dr. Hugh Morrow and sons, Hugh, Jr., and Christopher, motored to New Castle, Delaware, last Wednesday, returning to Centre Hall Thursday, accompanied by the doctor's niece, Miss Jessie Louise Morrow, who will remain for the remainder of the summer.

Ezra Tressler, of State College, is seriously ill at his home from Crosby, and his friends are fearful that the disease is so far advanced that there is little or no hope for recovery. He had been at the hospital once or twice but his condition grew worse rather than improved.

Mrs. Roy E. Corman, of Sunbury, who had been with her parents here for two weeks, returned home Monday morning. She will go from her home to New York City to be with her husband, Rev. Corman, who is attending a summer school at one of the New York universities.

The ninth anniversary exercises at the Lewisburg Home, an Evangelical institution, were largely attended. Among those present reported to this paper were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hofferterman, Mr. and Mrs. Simon P. Henrich, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dinges, Mrs. Elliott Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hennigh, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hennigh.

Philip F. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Foster, of State College, who was a member of Troop E, 103rd Cavalry, at Camp Meade Citizens Military Training Camp, won the expert rifle marksmanship which entitles him to membership on the rifle team which will compete with teams from all over the United States at Camp Perry, Ohio, from August 22 to September 29.

During last week considerable progress was made in the construction work of the Reformed parsonage at Centre Hall. The Woomer brothers, stone cutters of State College, began the brown stone casing work; the wiring for lighting was done by C. W. Boozer, and Caldwell & Son, of Bellefonte, have almost completed the plumbing that is to be concealed. Carpenters are also at work.

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Dunlap, of Reading, began their vacation last week when they came to Pine Grove Mills. Rev. Dunlap will spend most of his time with his son, Dr. Dunlap, who is connected with the Mayo Bros. Sanitarium at Rochester, Minnesota. Mrs. Dunlap is now with her sister, Mrs. Roger T. Bayard, in Tyrone, and the two will come to Centre Hall during the Grange Encampment and Fair, which opens the latter part of this month.

Owing to a new law applying to optometrists which requires that branch offices be kept open at all times, Dr. E. A. Rouse, the Harrisburg eye specialist who has been making monthly visits to Centre Hall for a number of years past, will discontinue his office at this place. Dr. Rouse does so with great reluctance, having built up a nice practice here, but it scarcely warrants his placing a man here permanently. However, persons needing his services, will need go only as far as Millheim for there Dr. Rouse intends establishing a permanent branch office.

Among others from a distance who attended the funeral of James Sweetwood, on Saturday morning, were his parents, sisters and brother, Mrs. Eva Simpkins, the latter from Philadelphia; Mrs. A. E. Person, Trenton, N. J.; Dr. Geiss and Miss Lacey Kirkpatrick, Philadelphia; Walter Smith and Ernest Housman, of Norristown. The latter two were companions on the boat with Sweetwood when it went over the rapids. A detail of fourteen members of the National Guard, Bellefonte, of which organization the deceased was a member, participated in the military feature of the funeral.

Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Snyder and son Elston Snyder, also the latter's wife, all of Baltimore, were in Centre Hall on Tuesday morning, having spent the previous night with G. W. Ralston. They had visited other in-laws as well as in Rebersburg, State College and Mifflinburg. Rev. Snyder is on his vacation, a part of which was spent at Central Oak Heights, and at the Evangelical Home at Lewisburg. The junior Mr. Snyder has charge of the office work of the E. E. Bohring & Brothers table works, and combined business and pleasure on the trip. A younger son, Samuel, remained with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rosman, at Mifflinburg, until the party returned there.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The Linden Hall literary society will hold a festival Saturday evening, 22nd inst., to which all are invited.

Myla Spiker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spiker, has been with relatives in Huntingdon county for two weeks or more.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stewart and son Clem and lady friend, Miss Florence Bender, of New Bloomfield, and Mrs. Louise Weaver, of Philadelphia, spent the week-end with Mrs. Lucy Henney.

A six year old son of Earl Good-year, of Clarence, was hit by a car driven by Edward E. of Moshannon, and seriously injured. He stepped from behind a concrete mixer onto the road in the path of the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harshbarger and little daughter Sarah, Mrs. J. E. Harshbarger and son, Russell, Mrs. Albert McFarlane, and Miss Gladys Wertz, all of Altoona, drove to the "Sawdust Pile" in the Seven Mountains, on Thursday, where they spent the day. On arriving there they had the pleasure of viewing a stately buck deer, who had struck a dignified attitude on the peak of the saw dust pile and only left it when the party preferred to see him move rather than further look him over motionless. Mr. Harshbarger is one of the four Harshbarger brothers engaged in the distribution of milk in Altoona, whose business has been gaining rapidly. They are now having shipped to them all the certified milk Penn State can furnish them. Much of the milk secured from about Altoona is conveyed from the farms to the Harshbarger plant in trucks owned by the brothers and is again distributed to their customers in trip-trucks owned by them.
