

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

A regular session of court opens on Monday.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Puff is being re-roofed.

Friday, October 23rd, has been designated Arbor and Bird Day.

Philadelphia has been selected as the place for holding the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. in 1926.

Dr. J. K. Hosterman has changed his residence from Seattle, Washington, to Saint Louis, Missouri.

Pennsylvania ranks fifth among the states in the number of automobiles owned by farmers, with a total of 191,735 cars.

Dr. Elmer I. Williams, of Chicago, known in that city as "The Fighting Parson," addressed the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at State College at meetings held last week.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Laura Lee started on a trip to Niagara Falls, New York, where she will visit Mrs. B. H. Arney, a sister-in-law, at the home of the latter's son, A. Miles Arney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Noll, of near Potters Mills, on Tuesday, went to Jersey Shore by rail where they will visit Mrs. Noll's sister, Mrs. Ertle, and Rev. D. A. Ertle. Before returning home they will go to Saladysburg to be with friends there.

Newton E. Hess of State College, and brother, John W. Hess, of Altoona, are a part of a hunting party in Alaska after big game. When the trip is completed the party will have covered 10,000 miles, 800 miles of which will have been done in actual hunting.

"The Ten Commandments" is a picture that appeals strongly to all Bible students. The Biblical history connected with it is unfolded in a truly amazing fashion. No one should miss seeing it Friday and Saturday evenings at Millheim. See ad. elsewhere in this issue.

While the concrete road up Bald Eagle Valley will be completed by the first of November, it will yet be a long time until the road is open to travel. There are several concrete bridges to be built between Port Matilda and Bald Eagle, the contracts for which have just been let to Rhoads & Son, Bellefonte. The bridges between Snow Shoe Intersection and Port Matilda will be finished by November 1st.

Report from the Centre County Hospital where Miss Helen Harper is a typhoid fever patient indicates that she is getting along nicely, but that it will require considerable time to fully recover. She became a patient there about two weeks ago. Miss Harper is one of the public school teachers in Bellefonte. She and her mother, Mrs. J. C. Harper, frequently visit in Centre Hall with Mrs. George H. Emrick.

A new front has been built in the Booser auto accessory store room. On either side the entrance are large plate glass windows—in fact, the whole of the front, except the frames, is glass. The store building is also being painted, and when the improvements are completed the place will have a decided better appearance than heretofore. The Booser garage, to the rear of the store building, has also been enlarged.

Miss Victoria Witmer and niece, Mrs. Samuel Storrow, daughter of Mrs. Agnes (Witmer) Lewis, the former of Los Angeles and the latter of Pasadena, are in the east and are now guests of Mrs. Margaret Smith, the main object of the trip here having been to again visit the aged lady. From here the ladies will go to Lebanon county, Philadelphia, New York, and other points before returning to the Pacific Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Emory Shires, of Roaring Springs, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bollinger, of Altoona, drove to Centre Hall and other points in Penna Valley to visit among friends and relatives the latter part of last week. One of the places near Centre Hall visited by them was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Decker, east of Centre Hall. Mr. Shires since moving from the farm, has been employed in a book bindery in Roaring Springs.

A carrier pigeon was picked up by T. L. Smith, the local tinsmith, at the barn of Arthur Slaterbeck, at Tusseyville, on Monday. The bird was doubtlessly forced down because of hunger, for it was feeding when observed by Mr. Smith. Upon examination it was found to have two bands, one of rubber bearing the mark "T129" and the other of aluminum with the mark "A325CP-0970." When released the pigeon refused to leave the premises, but perched itself upon the house roof.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sweetwood and two daughters, Mrs. Earl Robenault and Anna May, the former married on Saturday at Pottstown and accompanied on the trip by her husband, are in Centre Hall and vicinity visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Sweetwood left this section fifteen years ago and has been a resident of Pottstown ever since. Their itinerary included State College, Lock Haven and Williamsport. Regarding the young married couple, they did not escape the serenaders their first day in Centre Hall, and on Monday evening were given a reception as only young folks can give.

Run Down and Robbed.
Grant Snook and Ernest Buck, both of near Lewistown, ran down and robbed Jacob Hurian, a Russian. The couple saw the Russian place $200 in his pockets. They watched their opportunity and ran him down with their car. They hauled him from Reedsville to Fisherman's Green where they rifled his pockets and dumped him into the bushes to die. Snook was arrested in the Seven Mountains and Buck in Snyder county.

Is Congratulated by Many Friends

The following is reprinted from the Monday issue of the Phillipsburg Journal:

W. Harrison Walker, Democratic nominee for judge, came over from Bellefonte, and today has been busy receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends in this section.

Incidentally, Mr. Walker is gratefully giving expression of his gratitude to the Phillipsburg Democrats. He was overwhelmingly their choice for the nomination, each of the three wards giving him a big lead over his three opponents.

Mr. Walker's campaign was clean from the start. He resorted to no mudslinging or trickery to gain votes. He played the game fair and won fair. He kept in close touch with the campaign of all the candidates and knew what was doing from day to day.

As has been stated before in these columns, Mr. Walker is a good campaigner and a good mixer. He gets around among the people. Of a pleasing and agreeable personality, he gets acquainted easily and holds the friends he makes.

The Democratic nominee's campaign between now and November 3rd is likely to be an aggressive one, as was his primary campaign. He wants to be elected judge and his friends want him to be elected. But he is hardly likely to let the matter wholly in the hands of his friends. He is not the kind of man who disdains to personally ask for votes.

With a record of public service that he can be proud of, known in his home community as a public spirited, patriotic citizen and successful practitioner of law, the Democratic nominee will begin his campaign with hopefulness and the belief that success is usually ready to meet half way the man who energetically goes after it.

White lines now mark street crossings, and we should advocate crossing streets between these parallel lines, and also practice our preaching. This makes for safety.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Water Is Important Feed—Milk is approximately 87 per cent water. Water is the most important and yet one of the cheapest of feeds. It is too often however, the most neglected part of the dairy cow's ration. Now is the time to put in watering systems so that the cows can get plenty of water during the long winter months.

Blanch Vegetables Well—Certain vegetables are highest in quality only if well blanched. Many gardeners neglect this practice, and consequently they market brownish sun-burned heads of cauliflower, green celery, and bitter endive. Blanching should be given careful attention by the home gardener who desires only quality vegetables.

Free Birds of Lice—Be sure the birds are clean and the poultry house free from lice and mites before putting birds in their winter lazing quarters, say poultry workers of the Pennsylvania State College. A salve made of equal parts of bife ointment and vaseline, mixed well together, may be applied under the wings and around the vent, using a piece about the size of a pea, or any good lice powder, such as sodium fluoride, may be used. Use a coal tar disinfectant as a spray, forced into cracks and crevices, to free the house of insect pests.

That Daily Apple—Eat apples for your health's sake. Fruit is too often neglected as a part of the diet. The apple has long played its part in keeping the doctor away.

Care for Bees—Preparing the bees for their long winter vacation is a part of the fall program of work. Each colony should have a sufficient supply of food in order to winter through and make a strong brood before the honey flow starts in the spring. Put the colony in a packing case for protection from the cold before the ground freezes.

IT ISN'T A HOME WITHOUT A TELEPHONE

ELEANOR was almost frantic. It was 1 A. M. and the baby was sick for the first time.

She kept saying: "Oh, if Mother were only here," so Wilbur finally dressed, went out in the rain and found a telephone.

The baby was well by noon the next day, but even before that Wilbur had signed a contract for his own Telephone.

AND YOU CAN HAVE ONE FOR LESS THAN 10c A DAY!
