PENNSYLVANIA POTATO CROP
NEARLY UP TO AVERAGE

Product for Entire Country Expected to Be 15 Per Cent. Below Average Higher Prices to Prevail as Result

Many Pennsylvania consumers will use potatoes grown in the Keystone State for the first time this winter because of the small crop being harvested in the surplus production states which ordinarily supply large quantities to Pennsylvania, according to the Penna. Department of Agriculture. While the production for the entire country is expected to be at least 15 per cent. below the average of recent years, the Penna. crop will almost equal the average of recent years. The crop is reported to be of good quality in practically all sections of the State. Consumers can protect themselves against inferior stock if they will only buy graded potatoes which have been sprayed during the entire season. Nearby farms furnish the potato supply of most of the smaller cities and towns of the State, and these consuming centers should have their usual supply available. The large cities, however, depend upon carload receipts to a considerable degree, and these markets will be the ones chiefly afflicted by the change of production conditions.

About 40 per cent. of all receipts of late potatoes come from Pennsylvania loading points, in addition to the large quantities which are trucked in from nearby farms. Over 5,000 cars are usually received from New York, Michigan and Maine, but the crop in these states is expected to be 28 per cent. less than last year and 15 per cent. less than the average. In the past this deficit has usually been made up from Wisconsin and Minnesota, but there is a correspondingly small crop in these states as well. The early crop from New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia was very much smaller than last year and as a result almost a month earlier than last season. This has further reduced the quantity of late stock which will be available for market during the winter months.

The natural result of this small crop throughout the country will be higher prices than prevailed last year, but prices on the 1934 crop were so low that most growers did not pay expenses. Quotations on good Pennsylvania stock ranged from $1.00 to $1.10 per bushel on Philadelphia market on September 19 as compared with 85 and 95 cents a bushel a year ago.

DEATHS.

HOSTERMAN.—At the age of seventy-seven years, four months and 22 days, Robert Hosterman passed away at his home in Aaronsburg on Friday evening, after an illness of apoplexy. Funeral services were held Monday in the Lutheran church in Aaronsburg by the Rev. Daubenspeck, pastor of the Lutheran church, and interment made at Wolf's Chapel.

Mr. Hosterman was a farmer by occupation, but on retiring moved to his present home in Aaronsburg. Mrs. Hosterman died some years ago but there survive him three daughters, and one son, namely: Mrs. Elwood Orndorf, Woodward; Mrs. Frank Stover, Woodward; George Hosterman, Aaronsburg; and Mrs. J. W. Zerby, of Spring Mills. The latter is the mother of Miss Mary Zerby, one of the public school teachers in Centre Hall. Frank Hosterman, of Millheim, is a surviving brother.

WOLF.—Foster Stover Wolf, a native of Aaronsburg, died in Kansas City, Kansas, aged seventy-one years. The deceased left Aaronsburg for Kansas in 1870. He was a son of Jacob Wolf. He is survived by a wife and two children. He was a brother of Mrs. Julia (Wolf) Deininger, also deceased.

BRESSLER.—The suffering of a few years from cancer was ended when death claimed Mrs. Clyde B. Bressler at her home two miles west of Coburn. Since her marriage December 10, 1911, she was a dutiful housewife, for many years caring for her invalid mother-in-law in connection with mothering her six children, five of whom survive, namely, Mahlon, Lefern, Helen, Romane and Glenn. Besides these there are surviving her husband, her father, W. E. Hosterman, seven brothers, John T. Blaine, Moran, Elsworth, Maurice, Earl and Glenn Hosterman; two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Stover and Mrs. Wilbur Brunkart, all residing in the immediate community. She was a faithful member of the Evangelical church and her pastor, Rev. E. E. Haney, conducted the funeral services in the Paradise church. Interment was made in the Fairview cemetery at Millheim.

TATE.—Charlotte D. Tate, infant daughter of John M. and Rachel E. Young Tate, died at the Centre County hospital following three days' illness. The child was one month and fifteen days old and was her first-born. Burial was made at Boalsburg.

SWARTZ.—Mrs. Susan Swartz, widow of the late Christian Swartz, died at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Harry Rossmann, in Bellefonte, following an illness of several years which made her a confirmed invalid. She was a daughter of George and Polly Teats Bearley and was born in Walker township on September 4th, 1848, hence was 77 years and 16 days old. The greater part of her life was spent in the vicinity of Hubersburg, though she had been a member of the Rossmann household the past four years. Her husband died eighteen years ago and her only survivor is one son, L. H. Swartz, of Hubersburg.

Woman Dies at 96 Years.
Mrs. Barbara Ryder, aged 96 years, widow of Jacob Ryder, died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Ellenberger, 1203 Logan Ave., Tyone. She was active and around until about 12 weeks ago.

The deceased was a daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Rumberger and was born at Gatesburg, this county, where she was buried Tuesday afternoon. She was the fourteenth child in a family of fifteen. There are many nephews and nieces The Rumbergers of Centre county, including those residing in Phillipsburg, are all relatives. From early girlhood Mrs. Ryder was actively identified with the Lutheran church.

Road Building Progressing.
About 2350 feet of the 11,388 feet of road to be built over Nittany Mountain was completed Tuesday evening, so far as pouring the concrete goes. The work is progressing at a fair gait. There are so many difficulties to contend with in connection with this portion of the work of State road building—the many details require both closer attention and much more time than the inexperienced think they should.

Elks' Halloween Carnival.
The sixth annual Halloween carnival under the direction of the Bellefonte lodge of Elks will be held on Friday October 30th. This carnival when first started was purely a local affair but has developed county-wide interest.

The prizes offered make it well worth any one's while to enter and an invitation is extended to all organizations and individuals to take part in the parade.

The contest for Harvest Queen is not confined to contestants from Bellefonte, but any person may enter. The proceeds of the carnival and contest will be devoted to the High School Athletic Association and the Centre County Hospital.

The climax of the evening will be a dance in the armory at popular prices.

Train Schedule Changes.
The line of the departure of the afternoon trains has been slightly changed. The train going east will leave at 2:28 instead of 2:30 and going west the time for leaving is 3:44 instead of 3:49. The change is enough to stand you here if you run on the old schedule.

Baby Clinic Today.
Another baby clinic will be held in Centre Hall under the supervision of Dr. Hugh Morrow, the local physician, today (Thursday) at 2:00 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. George Searson. Mothers are invited to come and derive the benefits these clinics afford.

Alexander-Huyett.

The marriage of Miss Miriam Huyett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett, of Centre Hall, to Harold O. Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Alexander, of Centre Hall, took place at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of the bride, in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom.

The bride was dressed in pale yellow satin and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The home was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, following the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, played by the bride's sister, Mrs. Wm. A. Magee, the song "Love You Truly" was excellently rendered by Mrs. Greenhoe. There was also music by violin and piano.

Mr. Alexander is a State College graduate, class of 1924 in the school of electrical engineering. The bride is a talented musician, graduate of Susquehanna University, 1924, Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Alexander holds a responsible position with the Bell Telephone Company, as electrical engineer, in their Philadelphia offices.

The couple left for a trip to Washington, D. C., after a wedding breakfast for the entire party served at the Coleman House, Lewistown.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander will be home after October 9 at 106 N. Monroe Ave., Wrenonah, New Jersey.

Frazier—Childs.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Childs, Painesville, Lake county, Ohio, Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, when Mrs. Childs' daughter, Miss Gladys Childs, became the wife of Lee Frazier, a practicing attorney in that city.

The groom is a native of Potter township, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster W. Frazier. He is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school, Penn State College and Western Reserve Law School, and is a young man of fine qualities aside from his professional abilities.

The wedding was attended by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frazier, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miller, all of Potter township, who made the trip by auto.

Bellefonte Moose Fined $1000.

Judge Miles E. Potter, of the Snyder-Union county district, presiding over Centre county court this week for Judge Dale, on Monday imposed a fine of $1000 and costs on the Bellefonte Lodge of Moose for the violation of the Volstead Law. The Moose lodge was raided by State constabulary last January and a large quantity of high powered home brew confiscated. The case has been hanging fire ever since.

When called up before Judge Potter, he asked counsel how many members there were and when told 500 made the fine commensurate with $2 each, remarking that they all had that much fun out of it. He then gave them 30 days in which to settle. Two foreigners who pleaded guilty to manufacturing liquor were fined $200 each and given six months in jail.

Farewell to Mr. Radel.

Last week E. C. Radel, station agent at Oak Hall for over fourteen years, was given a farewell at Sunset Club house by a number of his friends at Oak Hall Station, Boalsburg, Linden Hall and Centre Hall. Mr. Radel is about to leave Oak Hall, having been transferred to Clarke Ferry, north of Harrisburg, by the P. R. R. Company. He will live at Millersburg. Mr. Radel has proven himself a competent and obliging station agent, and is personally very much liked.

In this connection it will be of interest to note that the Oak Hall station was opened with James C. Gilliland as agent in 1885, on the completion of the railroad to that point. He was followed upon his retirement by William Rossmann, and then came Forest White, Frank T. Ishler, Samuel H. Sowers, and in February of 1911 Mr. Radel took charge. He will be followed by Frank T. Ishler.

The Linden Hall station was opened in 1886 under the supervision of W. F. Bradford, who gave instructions to William F. Keller, a merchant at Linden Hall. Mr. Keller acted as agent in connection with conducting a store, receiving from the railroad company a compensation of $15 per month. September 29, 1893, Mr. Keller was succeeded by Philip C. Bradford, and March 15, 1906, Jacob Lee became agent there, and January 1, 1908, Frank T. Ishler was transferred there from Oak Hall, and has since been in charge and will remain until the station is closed, which will likely be within a few days.

Buckling Penn State.

The bid Pinchot is making to get votes for U. S. Senator by proposing in effect, to make Pennsylvania State College a strictly agricultural college, is not likely to be popular among the farmers to whom the sop is particularly offered. The farmer's son as likely as any other will want training in engineering and in other lines, and he is not anxious to enter institutions where tuitions are a large item of expense, since he knows that at Penn State tuition is free.

Pinchot ought to get the hatred for Penn State out of his system. It is there simply because the Penn State faculty and the people of State College did not endorse him for governor at the primaries. Although it is admitted by everyone, except the governor, that that was no crime, he would wreck the immediate prospects for the advancement of one educational institution of the state. The thing the farmers in Pennsylvania want to take care of is that Pinchot closes his holding of public office when his term expires. They ought not to let themselves be fooled twice by the same man.

Our Candidate for Judge.

family, consisting of his wife and two little girls, are the mainstay of his life, the apple of his eye, the joy of his heart. He is considerably of a home body, and his many friends always find him around the family hearth when he has not been called away on business pertaining to his extensive law practice. He has two motes in life. The one is: "Let not the sun set upon an unperformed duty," the meaning of which the people of Centre county will the more fully appreciate when upon his election as Judge of our Courts they will find court matters to the minute, with no clogged dockets which invite unnecessary delay to litigants and expenses to the taxpayers. It will be a business administration to the limit of his capability, with sound and just interpretation of the law, expediting the business of the Courts and with an eye always toward the reduction of the cost of conducting our Courts. The other motto is: "Go the limit." This is an outstanding feature in Mr. Walker's life, and when he is elevated to the Bench he will go the limit to prepare his mind and fortify his soul to meet the tremendous obligations and responsibilities that await him, and which he will overcome by virtue of his having entered into no entangling alliances to win his election—the only pledge made, and which will be carried out to the letter is, the just, fair and equitable ENFORCEMENT OF ALL LAWS OF our great Commonwealth, as well as all the provisions of the CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES AND ITS AMENDMENTS, WITHOUT FEAR OR FAVOR.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Prepare for Next Year.—While picking fruit the grower should observe what kinds of insects are bothering the trees. During the winter plans and preparations can be made to resist their attacks next year.

Prospective Milkers Need Grain.—Cows that are to freshen next month should have some grain now. When the cow freshens she cannot be put on full feed immediately. Usually it is four weeks before she can be fed all the grain she needs, depending upon the condition of her udder. During that time the cow must draw upon her body reserves. Feeding grain before freshening builds up the reserve.

Build Sanitation Systems.—Don't dig cesspools. Build septic tanks. Forty-five Keystone counties have a total of 62 farms that are being used by farmers in building sanitation systems. Ask your county agent about the form in your county.

Burn Potato Stem Borers.—Considerable trouble is being experienced with potato stem borers. The only practical way to take care of them is by cleaning up and burning the tops as soon as the potatoes are dug. This will insure a greater amount of protection as the possibility of infestation will be lessened.
House the Flock.—Get the poultry flock into the laying houses now. If any of the birds are sick, look for worms. In nine cases out of ten say Pennsylvania State College poultrymen that will be the trouble.

POTATOES WANTED.—White potatoes, U. S. Grade, 75 cents for 60 pounds. To be delivered at Centre Hall station, Thursday of this week.—W. R. WINEGARDNER.

LOST.—Auto license tag No. 479-843 was lost between Tusseyville and Centre Hall. Finder please notify W. H. Lingie, Centre Hall.

LOST.—Key-ring containing 15 or more keys, somewhere between Rebersburg and Bellefonte. Finder will kindly return same to Keystone Power Corporation, Bellefonte, Pa. 251f
