

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Linden Hall Literary Society will render their next program Friday evening, October 16.

Mrs. R. M. Smith has been ill and confined to bed since the latter part of last week.

Six car loads of potatoes were shipped from the Centre Hall railroad station by W. F. Colyer.

Dr. Hugh Morrow is driving a new Dodge coupe purchased through the Hosterman agency at Centre Hall.

Local hunters are after ducks on the Red Mill dam and have been successful in bagging a few. The season opened October 1st.

Excavations for the foundation of the Sheffield Farms milk shipping plant are now under way. Local workmen are employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keefer and family motored here the latter part of last week, spending a day with Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Brungart.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shreffler, of Williamsport, were in this section on Monday. Mr. Shreffler became ill and was obliged to return home.

Miss Margaret Wiedler, one of the stenographers at the Kerlin poultry plant, purchased a new Dodge coupe through the Hosterman agency, Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wieland, of Linden Hall, recently visited their daughter, Mrs. Fred Brouse, at her home in Dushore, Sullivan county, for the first time.

Miss Mildred Bitts, of Centre Hall, and Miss Dorothy Ishler, of Linden Hall, beginning of this week went to Williamsport where they entered Pott's College to take a complete stenographic course.

L. L. Smith and Ralph Hagen, of Centre Hall, returned from Florida on Monday evening with the usual glowing reports of conditions in that state. The trip consumed two days over three weeks, covering about 3500 miles by auto.

Forest Wingart, assistant to foreman Hartley of the local track force on the branch railroad, Monday night left in his car for Rochester, N. Y., to witness the ball game between the Pennsylv and New York Central, on Tuesday.

Miss Gertrude Ruble, who for a number of years was a clerk in the Penns Valley bank, resigned her position and is taking a course in a Williamsport business college. Miles Snyder, of Potters Mills, is filling the place vacated by her.

Mrs. S. F. Greenhoe, Mrs. P. H. Luse and Miss Vianna Zettie, of Centre Hall, Wednesday morning went to Sunbury to attend the Synodical Missionary convention of the Lutheran church, opening in the afternoon of that day and continuing over today (Thursday).

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Booser, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Charles H. Meyer, of Reedsville, on Tuesday morning started on an auto drive to Riverton, New Jersey, in the former's Flint car. They will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gross Mingle, Mrs. Mingle is a sister of the ladies.

Warren S. Krise and two sons, Fred and John Krise, of Johnstown, attended the State-F. & M. football game at State College, on Saturday, being especially interested because of the fact that Mr. Krise's son, Charles Krise, held a position in the F. & M. line-up. Saturday night was spent in Centre Hall with Mr. Krise's sister, Mrs. W. S. Slick, and the return home made on Sunday.

On Tuesday Sheriff Taylor was in Centre Hall at the instance of J. H. Lambert, his mission being to "set out" of the Lambert house the Reitz Brothers who occupy it by lease. After looking over the situation Sheriff Taylor decided not to act without a bond. In the meantime Reitz Bros. filed a petition to set aside the proceedings, and the court set October 17 for the Lamberts to answer it.

Stanley Glasgow, of Philadelphia, was a brief visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Searson, in Centre Hall, the latter part of last week. He is a son of Mrs. James Glasgow, of Coburn, but has been in Philadelphia with an uncle since a boy of ten. He is a jeweler and is employed in the large establishment of Charles Hanley, an uncle of the young man. After visiting his mother for a short while Mr. Glasgow returned to his home in the city.

Charles S. Smith while assisting W. F. Rocky, a near farmer neighbor, at Tusseyville, fill a silo, met with an accident resulting in losing portions of the great toe and the two next to it. The engine blower became clogged and Mr. Smith mounted the machine to dislodge the obstruction when his left foot slipped into the hopper, the knives cutting his toes as stated above. It was only accidental that the man was able to release himself at the time he did and prevent a much more serious injury. Mr. Smith was taken to the Centre County Hospital accompanied by Dr. Morrow, where the wounds were dressed, and then was brought back to the home of James H. McCool, his father-in-law, in Centre Hall, where he now is getting along nicely.

1000 Tons Steel in Auto Tags.
A thousand tons of steel plates and twelve thousand gallons of blue and gold paint, with much enamel, varnish and other materials, will be required to manufacture the million and a half motor vehicle license tags for Pennsylvania for 1927.

Estimates needed were made by forehanded officials at the property and supplies department a few days ago. The work will be done for the first time in the Western penitentiary at Pittsburgh.

The 1927 colors will be the same as 1925.

COURT NOTES.

The Grand Jury made its final presentation on Thursday afternoon, stating that it had passed on 38 bills of indictment, 32 of which were found true bills and 6 ignored.

That the court house should have a general cleaning, walls, floors, windows, etc.

That they had inspected the county jail and commend the sheriff on the excellent way in which he keeps conditions thereof. They recommend a change of the women's department and other minor improvements.

The band stand on the lawn back of the Court House should be removed as it destroys the lawn and is a nuisance.

In the two cases of the Comm. vs. Nick Gerbinski, the defendant was indicted for assault and battery on Harry McGonigal, and for inciting to riot at the property of the Moshannon No. 10 mine. The cases were closed Thursday. Not guilty of assault and battery but guilty of inciting to riot.
