HEAVY ENROLLMENT IN VOCATIONAL WORK.

Centre County Boys Respond to Appeal for Better Rural Training Here.

This fall will be the beginning of the sixth year of regular agricultural education as given under the county system in Centre county.

During the five-year period much has been accomplished in the field of agricultural education. Eight hundred seventy-four boys and ninety-one girls have received two or more full years' work in agriculture. Usually taking three short courses during the school term and then carrying out the practical part of the work at home during the summer months in the form of a home project. Besides the regular instruction many activities have been carried out by the county supervisors, such as teaching agriculture in the one-room rural school and the conducting of junior projects with the grade students, assisting in nature study courses for all school organization of agricultural associations in the local centers of instruction and the organization of the Centre County Junior Farmers' Association on a county-wide basis.

School fairs, community days, farm and home days and a county fair show have meant much to the development of education along agricultural lines. The boys of Centre county annually have an opportunity to gain a free trip to the state capital, to the state farm products show to compete in a state wide livestock judging contest, conducted by the Department of Public Instruction. Many fine opportunities are offered through the office of the County Superintendent of Schools in the agricultural department to all the young farmers of the county whether in school or out. And the coming generation of farmers is getting a foundation for the new agriculture from which they will surely profit individually and will place the science of agriculture on a plane equal to any manufacturing, business or professional vocation. This year six regular classes in Vocational Agriculture have been organized in as many high schools with an enrollment of 135 boys for the fall term.

The boys are at present taking a short course in soils which is preliminary to a course in farm crops and fertilizers. They are studying the origin, formation and properties of the soils of their various local communities and their home farms. Samples of soils are brought into the class room and classified and tested, giving to the boys the information as to the crops adapted and the methods of handling that particular soil. Field trips are taken to make a study of the formation and general texture of the soil in each center. They are taught how to map the soils of a section of their part of the county. Four 90-minute classes are given over to soils, a note book is kept, data and lectures are recorded for future use in the course of farm crops to be retained as a permanent record by the student. In the question and answer lesson sheet given each week many interesting and instructive questions are discussed. A few taken at random this week were as follows: How many acres in Centre county? How many acres are used for agricultural purposes? What is the best type of soil in the county for agricultural purposes, and where is it located? Where did most of the county soils come from? Name three soils of the county and give the value per acre of each.

Following is the enrollment of Centre county boys in the different communities: Bonisburg High School; Bruce Sharer, Harold W. Wagner, J. Kenneth (Continued on next column)

DEATHS.

SLACK—John Alexander Slack died on Sunday morning at the home of a nephew and niece, Warren and Miss Lizzie Slack, at Potters Mills, with whom he and Mrs. Slack had their home since some time in July. Funeral services were held Tuesday, conducted by Rev. D. R. Keener, pastor of the deceased and Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, a friend of the family; interment in Zion Hill cemetery, near Tusseyville.

Mr. Slack was a son of Uriah and Isabel (McEwen) Slack and was born in Potter township, where he lived all his life until coming to Centre Hall, six years ago. He was a farmer by occupation and followed that vocation all of his active life. At the time of his death he was aged 86 years, 1 month, 8 days, and was the last surviving of ten children, all of whom attained advanced age except a sister, who died at 24 years.

Mr. Slack was twice married; the second wife before marriage was Miss Annie Miller. She survives him. The first wife was Miss Sarah Ellen Spangler, who died in 1890. To this union there were born four children, two of whom—Charles W. Slack, Centre Hall, and Arabella, wife of Alfred Catherman, of Millmont—survive, as do also five grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

CUMMINGS—Harry W. Cummings died at the home of his father-in-law, William T. Ishler, near Tusseyville, on Tuesday morning, after an illness since his return from a camp at Mt. Interment will be made on Friday afternoon at Zion Hill, near Tusseyville. A detachment of Boy Troop of which he was a member, will be in attendance.

The young man was a son of Arber Cummings, west of Centre Hall, and had attained his nineteenth year October 14th. A wife (Savilla Ishler) survives him, as do also his father previously mentioned, and two sisters—Freda E. and Grace. His mother died from typhoid fever while he was extremely ill.

He was a son of John and Mary Hamer Brown and was born at Bosburg in 1853. His father died when he was a babe and later his mother married David M. Glenn, and the son thus fell heir to the name. Mr. Glenn was a glass packer by occupation and was employed in Bellefonte until about twenty years ago, when he moved to Brookville. He is survived by his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Sue Burd, but no children. He leaves however, two half-sisters, and one half-brother, Mrs. Carrie Stover and Mrs. James Dawson, of DuBois, and George Glenn, of Bellefonte.

A STRAIGHT, FORWARD STATEMENT BY JUDGE DALE TO THE VOTERS OF CENTRE COUNTY:

On the 3rd day of November you will elect a Judge to preside over the Courts of Centre County for a period of ten years. Ten years is a long period of time in the life of a man or a woman.

I was born on the 24th day of September 1889, and am now past thirty-six years of age. In ten years from this time I will be past forty-six years of age. In these days of great activity young men should be placed in positions of responsibility. The business of the Court should be disposed of promptly and efficiently. Delays obstruct justice and hamper litigants, as well as counsel. For this reason, if for no other, I should be continued in office for the full term of ten years.

On the 15th day of September of this year I was nominated on the Prohibition ticket, which means that my name will appear upon the November election ballot together with the names of the two men who contend with me for the office.

Do not forget that at the Primary Election I received almost thirty-three and one-third per cent. of the total vote cast. The men and women who voted for me at the Primary Election voted for me with the full knowledge that I was a candidate for nomination on the Republican, Democratic and Prohibition tickets, as the PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE. I was your candidate at the Primaries and I am your candidate at the General Election on the 3rd day of November. You shall say who will preside over the Courts of this County for ten long years to come.

Politically I am an independent Republican. The judgeship should be a non-partisan office. Ten years ago it was, in fact, a non-partisan office, and although the law making it such was repealed by the Legislature, the judgeship still is, in spirit a non-partisan office, and should be regarded as such.

In announcing my candidacy at the Primaries I said to you, "I am a candidate on the Republican, Democratic and Prohibition tickets for Judge of the Courts of Centre County," because I believed that the judgeship office should be a non-partisan office.

At the Primary Election there were five candidates in the field, and I as the PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE, received almost one-third of the votes that were cast. This places me on an equal footing with my two opponents. In placing myself in the hands of the people of Centre County I point solely to my record. You know what my record in public office in this County has been. I place this contest on the fair plane of record. Your vote in November will decide the record of the future. I shall not depart from the policies which I have put into force since I have been serving as your Judge but shall continue these same policies of fair, impartial, and honest administration of the duties of my office. In pursuing these policies I pledge that I will serve faithfully, promptly and efficiently all the people of the County and not one group or individual collection of citizens as over against another.

I never presented a liquor license application, while a practicing attorney at the Centre County Bar, to this Court or to any other Court. While, on the other hand, when I served as District Attorney of Centre County, I prosecuted all violators of the laws, not only violators of the law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors but violators of all the other penal statutes of our State. I stand for the enforcement of the laws.

I understand the prevailing sentiment in Centre County today. I know the wish of you, the people, whose candidate I am.

All of you who voted for me at the Primaries on the Republican, Democratic and Prohibition tickets can lend your aid to bring victory for the People's Cause in Centre County on the
