

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Isaiah K. Fleisher, of Philadelphia, was an arrival in town a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Seaton have begun housekeeping in part of the Mrs. Henry E. Homan home in Centre Hall.

Messrs. Harry W. Potter and F. V. Goodhart attended the ball game at Pittsburgh, between the Pirates and the Senators, on Wednesday.

The Junior choir of the Reformed church had an outing Tuesday evening in the grove west to the Pennington cemetery east of town. Menu: hot dogs, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Geary and children, of Newport, made their first trip in their new car to Centre Hall on Sunday. The car is a 7-passenger Buick sedan.

Mrs. Harry C. Shirk is very ill at her home in Centre Hall. She is entirely helpless. She had been ill some time ago, but later recovered and for a time was able to care for herself. Her condition now is considered critical.

A case threshing machine was purchased by William R. Stoner to take the place of the one destroyed by fire when the Joseph Confer barn, in Georges Valley, burned a few weeks ago. The day of the large capacity threshing machine has passed, owing to scarcity of farm labor. The modern machines are much smaller so that they can be operated with a smaller complement of men. The new Chase is one of the latter kind.

Held Chinese Party.

On Friday evening, the young girls' missionary society of the Presbyterian church held their regular meeting, after which they held a Chinese party, which followed the final chapter of the book "Mook" which they had been studying. They came dressed as Chinese, played Chinese games—"Clock," "Thief Catcher" and "Royal Blood." After the games were played a Chinese luncheon was served along with other refreshments, which we usually enjoy at our own American parties. The children enjoyed sitting on the floor to eat their refreshments and trying to eat rice with chopsticks. The party was composed of Reformers and Lutherans, besides Presbyterians, who expressed a desire to unite with the society.

The organization is practically new, but they have sent an eleven-pound box of muslins to the Leper hospital at Korea and a 55-lb. box of overcoats ladies' coats, warm underwear and other winter clothing to Ellis Island.

At present they are preparing for an entertainment and bazaar.

Public Sale of Ohio Cows.

I will sell at public sale on the E. E. Huyett farm, just west of Centre Hall, on Thursday, October 22nd, 1:00 P. M., a car load of fresh cows and springers, some stock bulls and a few feeders—all T. B. tested.

I would call special attention to these Holsteins and Jerseys; they are good in color and money makers for the buyer.

Sale, rain or shine. T. E. JODON.

BOALSBURG

Miss Blanche Rowe was home from Harrisburg from Friday until Monday. Forester R. G. Bailey has been buying up walnuts for the State Forest nursery, paying 50 cents per bushel with the hulls on. He secured about 100 bushels.

The Missionary Society and Ladies' Bible class of the Reformed S. S. and church had a chicken supper at the home of Mrs. Nellie Fisher on Friday evening. This was a jollification over having completed the quilting of four quilts.

The Machine Gun Troop returned home Sunday night from a search of one week for the lost airplane.

Rev. W. W. Moyer is attending Synod this week and does not expect to be home over Sunday and has announced that there will not be preaching services Sunday morning.

A few of the singers of the town have gone together and organized a choral union. Their purpose is to help the music of the community and to take up for their special work a high grade of music. Miss Mary Hazel a graduate of Bucknell, will be the pianist. The music used will be Dr. Alfred Brelvi's compositions.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickard and son Dale, of Scranton, on their way to Indianapolis, touring, had the misfortune of having the right front spindle of their car break at Tussey Sink school house Sunday morning. No one was hurt. The car was towed to Boalsburg on Sunday evening, and the part ordered by phone from Scranton the same evening. The repair parts came Tuesday morning by mail and were put on the car, and the party resumed their trip Tuesday noon. During their stay here they were entertained at the home of Geo. E. Meyer.

The chicken supper of the Men's Bible classes of the Lutheran and Reformed S. S. was a very pleasant and interesting gathering. About 150 were present. The Lemont band furnished music. Some of the speakers were: Rev. W. J. Wagner, Rev. W. W. Moyer, Rev. E. E. Romig, Mr. Gould, Mr. Kapp, W. H. Fry, Dr. L. E. Klöder. The toast master was H. M. Hosterman.

LINDEN HALL

Mrs. J. H. Ross is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Swartz, at Nittany.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mueser, of Pittsburgh, spent a few days last week with relatives here.

Adam Hoover, who has been quite ill at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Lynn Ross, is improving slowly. James Swabb and family moved to their new home in Milesburg, and Irvin Burris moved from Yeagertown to the Swabb farm which he purchased some time ago.

Mrs. John Reitznyder spent a few days at her parental home in Lamar.

SPRING MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gramley and Mrs. Emma Hazel attended the funeral of Mrs. Ellis Shaffer at Madisonburg on Sunday.

Mrs. Sarah Corman and son Guy spent Sunday at Altoona.

Mrs. Thomas Decker spent several days at Bellefonte helping to care for the little granddaughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Decker.

Let everybody remember Community Day, Friday, October 16th.

Quite a few of our people were to see the fallen airplane on Sunday.

Mr. Immlil who has his home with John Linle, has been ill.
