SUNDAY SET APART IN LUTHER'S HONOR

Reformation Sunday Observed by 80,000,000 Communicants Throughout the World.

Reformation Sunday was observed in Philadelphia by 100,000 communicants in some 200 Lutheran churches; throughout the United States by approximately 2,600,000 Lutherans; throughout the world by some 80,000,000 communicants in Lutheran churches.

Reformation Sunday commemorates yearly the fact that on October 31, 1517, now 308 years ago, Martin Luther, then 33 years old, affixed to the door of the principal church in Wittenberg, Germany, his famous "Nine-fifty Theses."

So now, three centuries later, what he did that October day is commemorated widely over the world by one of the largest of modern religious denominations.

There are today some 10,000 Lutheran clergymen in the United States. They belong to one or another of fifteen Lutheran bodies. The two most numerous in communicants are the United Lutheran Church and the Missouri Synodical Conference, each numbering some 80,000 communicants. The Norwegian Lutherans of the United States number about 300,000. There are 250,000 communicants in the Swedish Augustana Synod. The Joint Synod of Ohio, numbers more than 150,000, and the Iowa Synod more than 120,000, and there are other synods with memberships of fewer than 100,000 communicants.

When a State name is used, as "Missouri," or "Iowa," it does not mean that the churches of the synod so designated are in that particular State, but merely that the origin of that synod was in that particular State, its churches expanding, however, into other States.

The vast majority of the Lutherans of the United States worship in churches in which only English is used. Some of the Lutheran churches, however, have services both in English and in some European language too, or perhaps only in a foreign tongue. That is because there are many Lutheran churches whose members love to join their prayers and hymns, to hear the Scriptures read in the language of their native Sweden, Norway, Germany, Finland or other fatherland.

Important Lutheran activities in Pennsylvania are the publication with Dr. George W. Sandt as one of the editors, of the Lutheran, a weekly official organ of the United Lutheran Church, and the work of the Philadelphia Theological Seminary at Mount Airy, where some 120 students are being educated to become Lutheran clergymen; Gettysburg Seminary and Selinsgrove Seminary. A still larger Lutheran seminary is conducted at St. Louis, under the auspices of the Missouri Synodical Conference. The enrollment there is about 400.

Little Girl Injured in Auto Accident.

Marion Palmer, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Palmer, of Potters Mills, was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by John Smith, of Belleville, about five o'clock on Wednesday evening of last week, sustaining a broken right shoulder, a bad cut on the right side of the head and various head and body bruises. The girl, in company with an older sister, had gone to a neighbor's for milk and were on their way home. Mr. Smith, who was accompanied by his wife, was on his way home from a trip to Millersburg. The sisters had started to cross the road when they saw the machine coming. The older girl got across without mishap but Mr. Smith was unable to avoid hitting the younger sister. He stopped as quickly as possible and rendered all the aid he could. While the little girl's injuries are painful they are not regarded as alarming. She is reported as getting along nicely under the tender care of her mother.

HATED FOR GOOD HE DID.

In spite of our embittered Republicans, the people of Europe appreciate the work of Woodrow Wilson. The Council of the League of Nations has just averted another Balkan war, and Aristide Briand, president of the Council, "in reverent terms which thrilled his hearers," dedicated the session then closing to the memory of Woodrow Wilson, who proposed and realized the League of Nations, and of Leon Bourgeois, the French statesman, who presided over the peace conference commission which adopted the League covenant. In struggling almost alone for the League and in securing it Woodrow Wilson did more for the peace of the world than any other man. But the Republicans hate him for it.

For some unknown reason deer have kept in hiding during the past few months. This is especially true of the section surrounding Sunset club house where last season does, bucks, and fawns were seen almost daily. There are suspicions that there have been numerous illegal killings of the game in that region and that the frequency of the sharp crack of the violators' guns has frightened the deer and caused them to go elsewhere.

REBERSBURG.

Howard Krape has embarked in the cobbler business and asks the patronage of this vicinity.

Wes Hackenberg bought an old abandoned barn from Mr. Igen, near Tylersville, and razed it, and at present is having the timber hauled to the place where his barn was destroyed about a year ago, and will use the timber to build another barn.

Lester Minnick and son Stover were Sunday visitors in town.

Henry Meyer, Sr. is seriously ill of infirmities due to old age. His recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Bailey, of Spring Mills, is spending some time at her son's home in his place.

Quite recently an iron flag pole was erected on our school grounds.

Griffith Garret has built another lumber shed in his planing mill.

Joseph Corman, who has been prospecting for coal on his timber land, two miles west of this place, has been lucky enough to find the pure stuff.

Our blacksmith as well as other local people have been burning some of the "rod" given them to test out, and they found it to be the genuine soft coal.

Mrs. Lloyd Loose and her daughter, Bertha, and son, Jacob, spent Sunday at this place.

Harvey Bierly, of Spring Mills, spent last Sunday at this place at the Wm. Frank home.

Corman-Smith.

A beautiful home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, in Spring Mills, on the 21st, of October, when Miss Martha Smith, their daughter, was united in marriage with Guy L. Corman, son of Mrs. Sarah E. Corman. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony which was performed in the midst of autumnal decorations. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Reformed church was used by the groom's brother, Rev. E. Roy Corman, of Sunbury, in performing the ceremony. Prof. John Corman, of Unionville, also a brother, was best man. The bride, attired in white satin and carrying a beautiful bouquet of white roses, entered the bridal hall to the tune of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. E. Roy Corman. Miss Grace Eisenhut, of Altoona, attended the bride and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony a delicious wedding dinner was served to all in attendance. During the afternoon the bridal couple left by automobile for their honeymoon, going to Washington, D. C., and cities in the southern part of Pennsylvania.

Ice Cave on Bald Eagle.

Scientists have announced the discovery of an ice cave similar to the one in Sweden Valley, Potter county, on Bald Eagle Mountain, three miles from the McElhattan station, which will be visited by the Alpine club, after the dedication of the hut on the summit of Mt. Darlington, on Saturday, November 7. Many of the state's mountain climbers are expected to be present at this dedication service and exploration tour.

The Alpinists will hold a reunion at the Boy Scout camp at McElhattan, November 6, 7 and 8. Among the guests of honor will be Bishop J. H. Darlington, Harrisburg; Prof. and Mrs. Nevin Meyer, of Lingelstown; Rev. Lewis Nichols, of Lock Haven, and Col. Henry Shoemaker, of New York City and "Restless Oaks."

The Rotary Club made a donation of $1500 to the Lewistown Y. M. C. A., bringing the amount collected under the drive to save the "Y" up to $26,224.38.

PREVENT COLDS IN POULTRY FLOCKS

Extension Representative Blaney Gives Information of Value to Poultrymen—This, Now.

Colds in poultry flocks can be largely prevented if the advice of Extension Agent R. C. Blaney is heeded, when he says, fall colds, now prevalent in many Centre county poultry flocks, are usually caused by drafty houses, poorly ventilated quarters, and sudden changes in temperature. If the housing conditions are at fault, the necessary changes should be made. Do for the birds as you would do for yourself. Keep them out of the drafts, provide dry quarters, give plenty of fresh air, and keep the bowels open.

It is wise to have three sides of the house tight, with a liberal opening in the front for fresh air. This opening should be covered by muslin only when it is stormy or on extremely cold nights. Frosts or moisture on the side walls or ceiling and foul air in the poultry house are positive indications of poor ventilation.

Epsom salts, given in a wet mash at the rate of one pound to the hundred mature birds, is the usual laxative for flocks treatments. With small flocks where individual treatment can be administered use a few drops of tincture of iodine in the nostrils. A medicine dropper will prove useful in this application. When the discharge collects in the nasal passages, it causes the head to swell. This effect may be prevented if the colds are checked in time.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

Two of the three have "signed off." Morris Kelley, the lumberman operating on the Lieb tract east of Centre Hall, while peeling bark from a railroad tie, struck his shin bone with the axe and cut a gash into it.

Alvin P. Floray, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Floray, of Tusseyville, who for the greater part of a year has been located at Elgin, Illinois, has gone to Leavenworth, Kansas, to secure work on a farm.

F. S. Ulrich, who since selling the 5- and 10-cent store in Millheim, and later employed in the hosiery mill, has accepted a job as traveling salesman for a Shamokin firm and is now soliciting orders for overalls and shirts.

Mrs. Agnes Meyer, of Lock Haven, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Weber, in Centre Hall, for two weeks, and Saturday was accompanied on her way home as far as Bellefonte by Mrs. Weber and granddaughter, Miss Mary Weber, and Alice Spyer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin and little son, William, Jr., on Friday, in their Packard sedan, motored to Harrisburg, where until Monday they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bailey, who quite recently set up housekeeping in the capital city at 2058 Derry Street.

Irving Treaster, proprietor of the Mirov barber shop, was taken to Philadelphia where he will enter the American Stomach Hospital for diagnosis and observation. He has been suffering from ill health for some time. He was accompanied by Mrs. Treaster and his physician.

Forty car loads of lime stone chips are due to arrive at Centre Hall railroad station. The chips will be hauled by trucks to convenient points along the Brush Valley road east of Centre Hall, so they will be easily reached next spring at which time that road is scheduled to have an application of oil and chips.

Gretchen Haberstroh, aged nine years, was thrown from the handle bars of her brother's bicycle. She was riding on the handle bars when the machine struck an obstruction and threw her to the ground with such force that she suffered concussion of the brain. The practice of taking children as "passengers" on bicycles is an exceedingly dangerous one.

Theodore Wylan, a youthful hiring employed by Thomas Shafer, on the Royer farm at Potters Mills, was kicked in the face one day last week when he attempted to remove a blind mare from a stall into which she had gone by mistake. The blow took the young man on the right side of the face right over the eye, and it is feared the eyeball was injured. Dr. Hugh Morrow gave the lad attention.

Two sizable cabbage patches were raided during the past week or ten days the thief operating a motor vehicle to remove the vegetable. Clyde Bradford is one to miss more than a hundred heads of nice cabbage, and George Sharer, living a half mile distant, was another reported to have had his patch cleaned. Whether the thief has an insatiable longing for soukraut or was just operating for monetary gain is not known.

Up to last week ten thousand bushels of potatoes have been shipped from Millifin county at prices ranging from 80 cents to $1.00. County Assent Thompson estimates that only a normal crop of the tubers were grown in that county this year and that the potatoes shipped out will have to be replaced by imports. The county agent further states that the aggregate of potatoes shipped into Millifin county last year was 100,000 bushels.

Hunters this year will find more farms and woodlands posted against trespassing than for some years. At least so it will be in this part of the county. Farmers who have come to this office for their trespass notices voice a strong protest against individuals from neighboring counties who come here to hunt and commit depredations without the least concern. Local hunters will be permitted, in most cases, to hunt on lands so posted, if permission is asked.

The following personals are from the Yagertown items in the Lewistown Gazette: Mrs. Jane Zuber, Mrs. Sylvia Grenoble and daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. Luther Royer, of Spring Mills, were recent visitors at the home of H. A. Stover. Mrs. Grenoble and daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. Royer also visited at the home of Edward Price. . . . J. A. Grenoble and brother, James Grenoble, of Columbus, O., are spending a week with relatives and friends at State College.
