

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Tuesday was the fairest day in a long time back—say, at least, for three weeks.

Franklin Ruble and Miss Catharine Ruble, R. N., both located in Altoona, were at their home in Centre Hall over Sunday.

All Penns Valley is praying for nice warm weather. There is uncompleted a mile of concrete pavement over Old Nittany.

The family of Rev. Fred W. Barry, of Highspire, has been ill with scarlet fever. Several of the children first contracted the disease, and now Mrs. Barry is suffering from it.

The McCracken farm in the Pine Grove Mills district was bid to but $10,500 at a public sale. The place was not sold, but an effort is being made to get the high bidder to go higher and close the deal privately.

Misses Ellen Burkholder and Agnes Geary, the former a sophomore and the latter a freshman at Penn State, were at their respective homes over Sunday. They are looking forward to a wonderful Penn State day next Saturday.

S. E. Sharer, of near Linden Hall, was a caller at this office last Friday. Mr. Sharer tills a farm of 65 acres, and finds enough spare time to take care of a cream route for the State College creamery, making trips twice a week.

Two foxes were killed on Nittany Mountain by H. E. Shreckengast and Elmer Runkle, the latter part of last week. Nittany Mountain has long been a good field for fox hunting and that probably is the reason why there is not much more small game to be found there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hess, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lutz and little son, of Zion, and Mr. Hess, of State College, were at the State House in Seven Mountains where Forest Ranger W. F. McKinney resides. Some of them had their guns polished on Sunday ready for an early search for game Monday morning.

Mrs. William T. Turner, of Germantown, and Mrs. S. K. Reeves, of Oak Lane, drove to Centre Hall last week in a Packard sedan and Friday returned to their homes. While in Centre Hall the ladies were guests of Mrs. Anna Hemphill, and on returning home they took with them Mrs. Hemphill who will be entertained by them.

Beavers are building dams in certain of the streams in Seven Mountains. In one locality three dams are under construction. The industrious little animals hate "publicity" and refuse to work under observation, so the identical stream and definite location of their activities are not being broadcasted for fear they will "sign off" in the midst of the program.

The following item appeared in last week's Orangeville (Illinois) Courier, and will be read with interest locally, Mr. Goodhart being a native of these parts. Auctioneer G. B. Goodhart reports fall sales good, cows not due to freshen until spring bringing from $50 to over $100 per head. Yearling heifers, $70. Hogs are in great demand and bring good prices. Standing corn in field sold at $33 per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krumbine, of Vintondale, on Monday drove to Centre Hall to look over Centre county. Everything in Cambria county in the business line is dull, compared with normal conditions. Mr. Krumbine reports his father, John H. Krumbine, as being unable, for the past few years, to look after the undertaking business owing to rheumatism, and that he (the junior Mr. Krumbine) has been doing so.

After a bit we will see and perhaps admire the two-sided frock of novel creation. The left side of the costume, including the sleeve, is of black satin, and the sleeve is full length, trimmed at the top with black buttons, and has a white cuff. A strip of white satin runs around the neck of the frock down the right side and borders the bottom. The right sleeve is also of the white satin and is very short. It is a very striking gown and very simply made.

W. O. Gramley, the manager of the Spring Mills milk plant of the Breyer Ice Cream Company, was a caller at this office Saturday, and gave us an idea of the enormous size of the company operating the Spring Mills plant by producing an item stating that the Breyer company had placed on order for several thousand Frigidaire ice cream cabinets with the General Motors Corp., a Delco-Light subsidiary. A total of over $2,000,000 is involved in this and one other order.

A ring-necked cock pheasant, ever since being liberated by forester W. F. McKinney, at the State House, in the Seven Mountains has been loitering about the place and at times was regarded as a nuisance, especially when he was in the race with the White Leghorn roosters—the roosters always leading. Only recently the cock pheasant took his evening meal with the McKinney fowls, but in peace, and this led Mr. McKinney to wish the beautiful bird safety during the hunting season. What sport could one find in killing a tame pheasant, although legal to do so.

Game wardens have knowledge of the illegal killing of a number of deer in the Seven Mountains and adjacent sections, but have been unable to secure evidence definite enough to warrant prosecutions. A doe was found two weeks ago in the Colyer district after it was unfit for food. In George's Valley, it is claimed, there have been several violations, and Thursday night a two-prong buck was killed near Herbert Gobbie's. The shot was heard, and almost immediately a car rushed by the Gobbie home. This led to the discovery of the dead deer. Through W. F. McKinney the county game warden was notified, who took the carcass to the Centre County Hospital while it was in first class condition.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Farmer John Blausen, of near Pottery Mills, is tickled to sticks because he had the forethought to hold onto his potato crop of between 1200 and 1400 bushels. The tubers are safely stored.

Miss Laura Runkle was in Altoona for a few days, to be with Miss Ferna Hoover, who recently underwent a major operation. Her condition for a time was very serious, but she is reported to be improving.

Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Charles A. Krape, on Tuesday, went to Pardoe, Mercer county, to visit Mrs. George Crawford, a sister of the latter and aunt of the former, who is suffering from a severe case of blood poisoning.

Miss Beatrice Brown, a student in the Centre Hall High school, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown, of the Pottery Mills district, broke one of the bones in the right forearm. She assisted in doing the chores at the barn and fell through a hay shoot.

While on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Margaret Runkle, in Shamokin, Mrs. John H. Runkle, of near Centre Hall, became ill and since for a period of four or five weeks has been confined to bed for the greater part of the time. Her illness appears to be a general breaking down.

Miss Anna Stover, R. N., is at the home of her sister, Mrs. Wm. McClenahan, for a vacation of a month. She is located in Muskogee, Oklahoma, in a government hospital. During and since the war she has been in U. S. hospital service at various points in the southwest.

W. F. Colyer shipped eleven car loads of potatoes from the Centre Hall station and several car loads from other points. On Wednesday he had three cars loaded—one each at Centre Hall, Linden Hall and McClure. He refused an offer close to $2.50 per bushel as they stood on track, on election day. $2.50 was his demand. The highest price paid was $1.25 for 60 pounds, U. S. grade.

Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Jones and daughter, Miss Gladys Jones, of Lutzville, Bedford county, arrived in Centre Hall Wednesday afternoon of last week and were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd. They were closing a four-weeks' vacation, a part of which was spent in Virginia, in the first pastoral field of Rev. Jones. Before coming here they had been at the home of Rev. William R. Jones, at Benton, and from here went to Altoona, where Rev. Victor Jones is located.

A. Kessler the Millheim clothing merchant, together with his family have left Millheim. Mr. and Mrs. Kessler and daughter, Miss Mildred, are at Salisbury, N. C. where they expect to remain permanently. Miss Pauline is in Cleveland, Ohio, with her sister, Mrs. Harry Dietz.

Ten or more car loads of potatoes were shipped from Centre Hall station for which growers were paid from $9 to 90 cents per bushel. At Coburn the first shipments gave farmers as low as 60 cents per bushel. The present price is rather indefinite, but is over $1.25.

After a visit of several days at the O. M. Shull home in Millheim, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shull began the first leg of their journey to the sunny south. They will stop with Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Spook at Oxford for several days and then head their motor for Sarasota, Florida. It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Shull to make their home in the southland if they find the climate and location agreeable. Otherwise they will be back in Pennsylvania next spring.
