LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Home-made orange ice cream for Thanksgiving.—D. C. Mitterling, Centre Hall.

No definite news of the condition of Mrs. D. C. Keller, of Phoenixville, has been received during the past week. Her life was despaired of a week ago.

The prosecutors again failed to appear on Tuesday in the case against T. F. Royer for the appointment of a guardian. The indications are that no further effort will be made to hinder him from managing his property and private affairs.

William Laruyer, of Elgin, Missouri, came here from Philadelphia and spent a part of Wednesday with his brother-in-law, D. W. Bradford. He returned to Philadelphia in the evening, and on Friday planned to go back to his home and will take with him his sister, Mrs. Hemphill, mention of whose illness is made elsewhere in this issue.

The sale of farm stock and implements, on Tuesday, held by Frank D. Oeman, west of town, was well attended and articles brought fair prices. One thousand bushels of ear corn brought thirty cents per single bushel. The sale totaled $1200. The farm was put onto the block and was bid up to $4000, the bidder unknown. Milton Kline is said to have been the next high bidder. The farm was not sold, the bid being regarded too low.

At a men's meeting in the Lutheran church, on Tuesday evening, Rev. J. E. English, pastor of the Lutheran church at Pine Grove Mills, gave his lecture on "The Power of a Single Purpose," taking the Apostle Paul as his chief example. The speaker was a very pleasant one, and at all times was driving home the main thought in his lecture. Rev. English is of Pennsylvania birth, but came from one of the southern states to his present field. After the program of the evening, which consisted of music by the whole body of men and two selections by a male quartette, light refreshments were served. Rev. English was accompanied here by Dr. Krebs, the well-known dentist of Pine Grove Mills.

DEATHS.

RICKARD.—Sara A. Rickard, aged 66 years and 16 days, died in the Evangelical Home at Lewisburg following a stroke of paralysis sustained several hours before. Her husband, Adam Rickard, died about two years ago in the same institution.

Mrs. Rickard was a native of Millheim, a daughter of Michael Smith, deceased. When quite young she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. William Weiser, both deceased, with whom she lived until her marriage. Burial was made in the Lewisburg cemetery.

MARTIN.—Miss Susanna Martin, a life-long resident of Nittany valley, passed peacefully away at her home at Snyderstown, following a few days illness as the result of general infirmities. She was a daughter of William and Mary M. Beck Martin, and was born in Walker township, being aged 81 years, 8 months and 10 days. She was one of a family of eleven children and her survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Charles F. Romick, of Nittany, and Mrs. John J. McClintic, of Atlantic City.

Funeral services were held in St. Mark's Lutheran church at Snyderstown by Rev. L. M. Fleck, of Woodland, after which burial was made in the Snyderstown cemetery.

LUTZ.—Mrs. Sara Helen Lutz, wife of Frank Lutz, passed away at her home about a mile north of Zion, from organic heart trouble after a lingering illness. Deceased was aged 62 years. She was born at Clintondale, a daughter of Samuel and Amelia Emerick, both deceased. She is survived by her husband and seven children: Victor, Bellefonte; Mrs. Elsie Stover, Millheim; Mrs. Zora Rines, Centre Hall; John, Lewisburg; Mrs. Vesta Potter, Hubbersburg; Mrs. Edna Corman, of Bellefonte, and Nevin, at home. She is also survived by a sister and two brothers: Richard Emerick, Lock Haven; Luther, Zion, and Mrs. Della Miller, Mill Hill. Funeral services were held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the home, Rev. C. E. Arnold, of the Lutheran church officiating. Interment at Zion.

ROYER.—Mrs. Ida Royer, wife of T. C. Royer, died at her home at Loganton from heart trouble. She was 62 years old and had been a resident of Loganton all her life. She was a member of the Lutheran church and was well known for her musical talent. When still quite small she played the organ at the centennial celebration at Philadelphia, 50 years ago. She is survived by these children: Grace and Paul, at home; C. F. and Earl, of Loganton, and Randolph, of Aptes Fort. Funeral services were held on Sunday morning with interment at Loganton.

THOMPSON.—Mrs. Nora M. Thompson, wife of the late Dr. James A. Thompson, of Martha Furnace, died at the home of her cousin, Mrs. John Mitchell, at Lemont, on Wednesday morning of last week. Death was due to influenza and a general breaking down of the system. She was born at the Branch 78 years ago, the daughter of J. I. and Mary Kye Thompson, and was the last member of the family to pass away. Funeral services were held at her late home at Martha Furnace on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Howard E. Oakwood officiating. Interment at Port Matilda.

YARNELL.—Barbara Ellen Yarnell, wife of James Yarnell, died at her home at Snow Shoe from complications. She was 77 years of age and was born near Yarnell. Deceased is survived by her husband and two sons: Blair, Akron, O., and John, at home; also by a brother and two sisters: Joseph Fetzer, of Milesburg; Mrs. Anna Sober, of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. John Burd, of near Milesburg. Funeral services were held from her late home.

HARTMAN.—Charles L. Hartman died at his home in Aaronsburg, of asthma, from which he suffered for the past five years.

Mr. Hartman, a former resident of Millheim, was born August 22, 1870, making his age 55 years, 2 months and 25 days. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Thomas, of Coburn; Mrs. A. J. Skeels, of South Bend, Texas; Albert F., of Millersburg, and Charlotte, at home. A short funeral service was held at the home prior to conveying the remains to Millersburg for interment. Services were held by Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck.

This Week's Story

This week's short story: He glanced anxiously around him, then, assuring himself that he was unobserved, brought out a small paper package. For a moment his hand trembled over the glass of water. Should he put the powder in? He was breathing heavily. He cast a glance about him—and then tipped the powder into the water. One gulp and it was gone. "If that draught doesn't make me sleep tonight I'll have to see a specialist!" he muttered.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Merchant George Hazel and Mrs. Hazel, of Bellefonte, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Delaney, at Old Fort.

Progress Grange will meet on Saturday, November 28th, at 7:30 P. M. A large attendance is desired as officers for the coming year will be elected.

A considerable supply of live poultry—chickens, ducks and geese—was shipped from the Centre Hall railroad station during the past ten days. Not a single turkey was observed.

Mrs. Lee Rhoads and children, Foster, William and Grace, returned to their home in Bellefonte on Sunday after spending two weeks at the Foster-Jodon home, near Centre Hall.

Mrs. T. M. Lollich is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery. Mr. Lollich, who is employed by the State as an engineer, has been located at Renovo from which place Mrs. Lollich came here.

Mrs. Beaver, of Bellefonte, widow of the late General James A. Beaver, whose illness for a week or more has greatly alarmed her relatives and friends, on Wednesday morning was reported slightly better.

Frank Benner, who has been living in the Boston district for a number of years, is at the home of his mother, Mrs. Nancy Benner, in Centre Hall. He sustained an injury to one of his arms and is here to rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Jodon and family entertained the following to dinner on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carner and daughter Chirley, of Hubbersburg, and Miss Evelyn Foote and Edgar Jodon, of Millheim.

Lyman L. Smith boarded the train for Florida on Tuesday morning, his objective point being Miami. He expects to remain but for a short time. In January, however, he has planned to return to the South for the winter.

Philip McClenahan, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William McClenahan, of Centre Hall, on Sunday while riding horseback with a number of other boys, fell from his horse and broke the lower bone in the left forearm.

Specials for Saturday—Sugar, lb. 5c; banner lye, can, 10c; ginger-soaps, lb. 10c; shredded wheat, box, 10c; sugar syrup, gallon, 50c; oyster crackers, lb. 15c; raisins, lb. 10c; men's heavy canvas gloves, pair, 15c; 50-lb. lard can, 40c.

Frank Hockman, the Heist Park chicken and egg magnate, a brother of C. N. Hockman, engaged in the same business here, who had been ill for about three weeks, is very much improved at his time and anticipates complete recovery within a short time.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Emery and the Misses Margaret Luse and Aigie Emery motored to Altoona where they will spend Thanksgiving at the T. S. Foss home, returning home in the afternoon, bringing with them Mrs. Albert Emery and daughter Isabel.

Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Drumm and children, of Middleburg, motored to Centre Hall beginning of the week, spending a few days among former parishioners. Rev. Drumm participated in the Anti-Saloon League services in the Lutheran church, Monday evening, held by Dr. Yeiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Foss and little daughter, Lillian, for a week were guests at the home of Mrs. Foss' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery. While here Mr. Foss did some hunting and was successful in killing rabbits and grey squirrels. On returning home on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Foss were accompanied by Mrs. Albert Emery and little daughter.

Mrs. J. G. King, of Centre Hall, is at the home of her sister, Mrs. Morris Furey, in Bellefonte, where today (Thanksgiving Day) is being celebrated by a reunion of the English and Furey families. Members of the families will be present from Pittsburgh, New York City, Curwensville, State College, and other points. A big dinner will be a feature of the day.

Prof. George Mesline and sister, Miss Catharine Mesline, and Rufus Lee, of Sunbury, drove to Centre Hall on Sunday in the latter's Flint sedan. They were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, returning home late in the evening. Prof. Mesline is one of the principal instructors in the Sunbury High school, and is engaged during the vacation period at various religious training camps as a leader.

J. Witmer Wolf and daughter, Miss Emma Wolf, and Albertson F. Knipe, all of Ardmore, arrived in Centre Hall by auto on Sunday evening, and will remain here among friends and relatives at least until after Thanksgiving. Mr. Wolf, who had been broken in health, is on the way to complete recovery and has been doing work as a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York. Mr. Knipe is a contractor and builder, and while about here is "chasing" small game.

Old Festival Rites

in Honor of Ceres

The sacred rites with which the annual festival of Ceres was celebrated at Eleusis were called the Eleusinian mysteries. Many traditions were afloat in ancient time, says Chambers, as to the origin of this festival. Of these, the most generally accepted was to the effect that Ceres, wandering about the earth in search of Proserpine, her lost daughter, arrived at Eleusis, where she rested on the famous "Sorrowful Stone" beside the well of Callichours. In return for some small act of kindness and in order to commemorate her visit she taught Triptolemus the use of corn and other cereals on the plain of Rharian, near the city, and instituted the mystic rites peculiarly known as belonging to this goddess of agriculture.

The festival which she inaugurated consisted of two parts—the greater and the lesser mysteries, the less important feast serving as but an introduction or prelude to the greater. The celebration began on the fifteenth day of Broedromion, but history finds no exact record of the proceedings. That they were most important in the mystic life of the time is evident from the prominence given to them.—R. H. Tinsley, in Chicago Journal.

Modern Ideals Make
Cave Men Seem Tame

Another ideal of the fapper has been shattered. Her vision of the cave man is all wrong.

He did not catch them young and treat them rough, nor did he a-woolooze with a big club and prove his devotion to his sweetie by dragging her around by her unbobbed tresses. A professor of Beloit college has been looking up the records of the gay Loftharos of sixty years back and cannot find a thing to show they were the tough bunch we had always supposed them to be.

The fact is they were a mollycoddle, nambyjamby set of young fellows, who would have made a sorry showing with the present day maids. Instead of wielding clubs they found great thrill in straining beads and begging the hands of their loved ones on their bended knees.

That Beloit professor has done the men of the present age a great service by showing up the cave man in his true character. The young men of today do not pack clubs and stone hammers and may not be rough enough to come up to specifications, but we cannot accuse them of putting in their time straining beads. There is an opportunity now for some favorable comparisons. The girls will have to admit that the men have improved in the last sixty thousand years.

Petty Tyranny

Isn't there, perhaps, a bit of petty tyranny in most of us? Don't we sometimes take a mean delight in dominating a situation, in lordling it over another person, in exercising our small rights till they become veritable acts of despotism?

There's the husband who habitually places his wife in the position of a menial by requiring her to ask for money. There's the nagging, fussy wife whose "nerves" keep the entire family in subjugation. There's the bullly brother who makes life for his small sisters utterly miserable.

And outside the family there are others who turn their functions in society into realms of absolute power. There's the bad-tempered boss, and the overextracting teacher, the snappy petty official.

But whether our tyranny is an innate one that lies in our character or an acquired one that has come through chance position in life, most of us have it in some form or other. There's no need of adding, we'd better people and the world happier, too, without it.—The Designer Magazine.

Growth

A typical example of Graham Brothers remarkable progress in the truck industry was the month of September.

Production for this single month was 171 per cent of production for the entire year of 1921.

Astonishing growth, yet readily understood by owners, to whom Graham Brothers Trucks have brought vastly improved service simultaneously with a sharp reduction of costs.
