

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Harry E. Weaver and one of his sons, of Altoona, were in town for a day last week.

The Red Cross solicitors will call upon you during the week. Be prepared with the annual dues of one dollar, please.

The Y. P. B. society have been given the consent of the school board to hold their meetings in the new High school building in the future.

D. L. Smith, who went to Miami, Florida, ten days ago, writes that business conditions there are good and the weather fine. Coats are worn for warmth only in the evenings.

Elmer Hennigh, of Sabetha, Kansas, is east on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Mary Hennigh, in Georges Valley, as well as other relatives, among them S. P. Hennigh, an uncle, in Centre Hall.

Wade Hegarty and family and mother-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Gates, of Coalport, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delaney, at Old Fort, on Sunday. Mrs. Gates is an aunt of Mrs. Delaney.

The widow and children of the late John L. Runkle return thanks to their neighbors and friends for kindnesses and sympathy shown during the last illness and subsequent death of the husband and father.

A. O. Detwiler, of Colver, is proud of the fact that a tuberculin test conducted by Veterinary Dr. Nissley, of his herd of nineteen cows showed no reaction, and that his herd is therefore declared free of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shirk is about to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. John K. Lee, in Bellefonte. Mrs. Shirk has been ill for some time and has had difficulty to secure any one to care for her at her home in Centre Hall. The Lee are old friends.

James H. Smetzier, a Civil War veteran, who during the past few weeks has been confined to bed much of the time from attacks of rheumatism, is not improving to any great extent. At this time he is able to be out of bed a part of each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Moore and daughter, Miss Miriam, were guests of Prof. and Mrs. N. L. Bartsch, at Avis, on Friday, and then motored to Williamsport where they heard the Rev. "Billy" Sunday deliver several of his powerful sermons.

Miss Ruth Carner, who makes her home with the Thomas F. Delaney family, near Centre Hall, was called to her home at Hubersburg on account of the death of her grandfather, Wes. Shamp, who died at his home at Jacksonsville on Friday night. Burial was made Monday morning.

Mrs. Jefferson Brown, of Lewistown, sister of Mrs. W. S. Slick, of Centre Hall, has been very critically ill for several weeks. She had been in one of the Lewistown hospitals, but now is being cared for by a trained nurse at her home. When visited by Mrs. Slick she was slightly better, but yet very ill.

The small game season (with the exception of rabbits) came to a close Monday. Locally it was a season of few killings of wild-turkeys, pheasants and grey squirrels. Rabbit hunting has been better; in fact, more bunnies have been killed than in a number of years, and the season has nearly two weeks to go.

Misses Margaret Wiedle and Eleanor Douglas, both of Jersey Shore, two of the several stenographers at the Kerlin poultry plant at Centre Hall, have taken several rooms in the Colver house, near the railroad station, where they will live in the future. Heretofore the young ladies boarded at the J. E. Rishel home.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Widder and son, George M. Widder, of Harrisburg, motored to Centre Hall, Sunday. The chief object of the trip was to take the junior Mr. Widder to the Rockview Penitentiary to "cover" the Hartman electrocution for the Harrisburg Telegraph, on which he is a staff correspondent. Dr. and Mrs. Widder visited relatives here before returning home.

A pleasant birthday surprise was given to Mrs. S. P. Hennigh, in Centre Hall, on Saturday evening of last week. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Barger and three children—Richard, Donald and Iona; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hennigh and two children—Spurgeon and Ardel; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hennigh and two children—Pauline and Edgar; also Mrs. Alice Bible. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur A. Henney and the former's mother, Mrs. Lucy Henney, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shoop, on Sunday drove to New Bloomfield where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stewart and family. Mr. Stewart is in rather delicate health. His relatives and many acquaintances here hope a permanent cure will yet result.

State road men in the Milroy section have been laid off until next Spring, the work in that section having been completed for the year. It is expected that the road from Reedsville to Siglersville via Honey Creek will be built next year by State labor, and there is also a rumor that the road will be extended up through New Lancaster Valley by means of the State aid plan, although there has been nothing definite announced as yet.

C. W. Haney and family, of Queens Run; J. R. Haney, of Aaronsburg; E. Victor Haney, of Curwensville, and B. H. Haney and family, of Spring Mills, spent the week-end at the Evangelical parsonage, at Spring Mills, with Rev. E. E. Haney. Rev. Haney grows his own pork. Six hogs killed by him dressed over 1600 pounds, which was less than that of previous years. He is certain that the two hogs kept for his own use cost him but a trifle, after deducting the amount received for the four sold.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Ethel Corman, of Coburn, on Saturday was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Annie Emerick, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Lee, of State College, visited the former's brother, Frank D. Lee, in Centre Hall, on Sunday.

John F. Kramer is off on a visit to Harrisburg, Reading and other points. He left Saturday and set no time for returning.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mitterling accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Ashley, to Baltimore, Md., on Friday, expecting to remain at the Ashley home for the winter.

The second daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butler, of New York City, a short time ago. It was somewhat of a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Meyer, of Reedsville, the grandparents, when they heard of the event.

A new road from Hyner to Lock Haven is scheduled for 1926. The road will follow for most of the way closely the New York Central tracks. The road will cross the river at Hyner over a new bridge to be constructed. It will connect with the new road from Hyner to Renovo, built recently.

Rev. W. R. Picken, of Centre Hall, and Dr. C. T. Dunning, also a retired Methodist minister, of Hollidaysburg, will leave today for Florida, where they expect to spend the winter together. They will visit various points in that state, but will eventually drift to St. Petersburg, to spend the greater part of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlegel and daughter, Miss Edith, drove from their home in Fleetwood, Berks county, to Centre Hall, on Friday, and the following day the latter returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Schlegel are the parents of Mrs. (Rev.) Delas R. Keener, where they will remain at least until the end of this week.

Mrs. G. M. Keyser, at Cuyahoga, Ohio, had been quite seriously ill and it was thought she would have to resort to a n. operation, but from last reports she was improving without an operation having been performed. Mrs. Keyser is a sister of Mrs. J. Cloyd Brooks, and a daughter of Mrs. John H. Breon. Mrs. Breon went to the home of her daughter several weeks ago, and has since been there.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet T. Jordan, son Floyd and daughter, Miss Emily Jordan, of Reading, motored here last Friday, and until Wednesday visited among relatives at Tusseyville, when all returned home except Mr. Jordan, who with his old cronies is hunting for deer on the Tussey Mountain. The Jordan family like their new home very much. They are all employed at Schuylkill College save the junior Mr. Jordan, who is a student there.

As a penalty for their industry Elmer Confer and Ezra Confer, brothers, of Gregg township, were held up by State cops Thanksgiving night and were promised that a bill would be sent them through a justice of the peace. The men did some repair plaster work at Axe Mann, and to avoid returning the next day, worked late. On leaving for home the old Ford showed a weak eye and later was entirely blinded, when the cops blew their whistles. The cops, however, were helpful and aided the Confers to get their car lights in shape.

Thomas Keefer, of Youngwood, came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Brungart, on Saturday, and at once set to prepare for putting camp in order for the opening of the deer season. He is a member of the Sweetwood party, who are encamped on the Summit, in the Decker Valley district, Seven Mountains, and is one of the most popular members of the party. Mr. Keefer is a hunter of no mean ability, a crack shot, and a champion of conservation. He has hunted for bigger game than that found in these parts, having brought down a moose in the Maine woods some years ago.

J. H. Detwiler Has Fine Animal. Anesthesia Faith of Hillstead, the new world's champion Guernsey cow for butterfat production with a yearly official record of 1974 lbs. milk and 112.5 lbs. fat, is very closely related to Villageside Major Fashion, whose dam is by Langwater Demonstrator, sire of 71 daughters in A. R. list. Villageside Major Fashion is at the head of J. H. Detwiler's herd of pure-bred Guernsey cattle, near Centre Hall.

Lime Stone in Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania stands first among the states in the production of lime stone and lime. By far the largest quantity of limestone produced is used for fluxing stone in the manufacture of iron and steel. The quantity consumed for this purpose last year was about 10,000,000 tons. The next largest use is as crushed stone for concrete and road material. This use demands over 3,000,000 tons a year. Minor quantities, nevertheless amounting to thousands of tons, are sold annually to sugar factories, glass factories, and paper mills, and to farmers for fertilizer or soil sweetener. The quantity of limestone quarried and used for building stone in Pennsylvania is only about 30,000 tons a year.
