Water for I. O. O. F. Orphanage.
An improved system of water supply is being prepared for the use of the Odd Fellows' orphanage, east of Sunbury. This will mean much to the orphanage, not only in convenience and health, but as a means of adequate fire protection.

Up to the present time well water has been used, it being forced by a pressure pump to the various buildings. In case of fire the supply was too small and the pressure too slight to have given any assurance of protection.

The new reservoir will have a capacity of 25,000 gallons, and a pressure equal to that of many towns and cities.

Reports showed a balance of $12,000 on hand. The farm made a profit of $1,497.77 during the six months' period and donations were more than $1,000. The students' band and orchestra netted $34,233.99, reports indicated.

"Bringing Up Father" Coming.
"Bringing Up Father in Gay New York," the latest George McManus comedy sensation, based on the famous cartoons of the same title, will be the next attraction at the Moose Theatre, Bellefonte, Wednesday, February 10th. This exceptionally diverting offering which seems to be as permanent an institution as the White House in Washington, D. C., is said to be better than ever, which means that the admirers and followers of the beloved characters, Jiggs, Maggie, Dinty Moore, et al, are in for a fine old time. All the favorites will appear in the flesh, of course, and their antics, aided by a bevy of old and new friends, are sure to find receptive response. The entertainment will be divided into two acts and six scenes with interspersed novelties, surprises, innovations and other ingredients not to be found in other contributions boasting laugh-compelling qualities.

We advise you to make your reservations now as tickets for this show are always in great demand and standing room is always at a premium.

Seats on sale at Mott Drug Co. this coming Saturday morning. Prices: $6c, $1.00, $1.50, plus tax.

WE PRINT SALE BILLS.
Farmers contemplating sale this spring should remember that the Centre Reporter is excellently equipped to print sale bills on short notice. Our equipment is second to none in Centre county, and prices are moderate.

Every farmer having his bills printed at his office is entitled to have his sale listed in the Reporter "Sale Register" up until sale date, free of charge. This is a service of real value, without which no sale can be said to be correctly advertised.

DEATHS.

to his death. He was 68 years old on January 17th and was born at Martha Furnace, the son of John and Rachel Gillen Gingersh. In 1912 he was married to Miss Lula Rice, daughter of Gammel Rice, of Bellefonte, who survives with three sons: Joseph, Carl and James. A sister, Mrs. George Stevens, of Port Matilda, and a brother, D. J., of Tyrone, also survive.

GINGERICH—As a result of a stroke of paralysis, George William Gingersh died on Tuesday at noon. During the few days he lived after having been stricken he never regained consciousness. Interment will be made on Friday, services at the house at one o'clock, prior to interment at Zion by the side of his wife, who died twenty-one years ago. Service by Rev. S. F. Greenhoe.

The deceased had attained the age of 74 years on New Year's day. He was born west of Centre Hall, and was a son of Jacob and Priscilla (Gill) Gingersh. His wife before marriage was Miss Elmyra Sharer. There survive two daughters—Mary, wife of Edward Ritter, Centre Hall, and Carrie, wife of John E. Rishel, also of Centre Hall, where the father made his home. He was one of ten children, the surviving ones being, John, Brownsville; Samuel, Centre Hall; Grant, Clearfield; Mrs. David Raymond, Sunbury; Mrs. Jacob Confer, Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Wallace White and Mrs. James Summers, of Axemann.

Mr. Gingersh was long identified with the order of Patrons of Husbandry and held various offices and appointments in the order.

HARPSTER—Mrs. Elizabeth Heberling Harpster, one of the best known and most highly respected old ladies of the western end of the county, died at the home of her son, W. W. Harpster, at Tyrone, on Tuesday morning of last week. She was the daughter of Joseph and Margaret Pyle Heberling, pioneer settlers of Gatesburg, where she was born in 1842. December 3, 1872, she was united in marriage to Miles Harpster, who died March 4, 1914. She was a member of the Gatesburg Lutheran church since childhood and was a sincere Christian woman, noted for her many deeds of kindness. Several sons and daughters survive. Funeral services were held Friday, and interment made by the side of her husband in the Gatesburg cemetery.

SPOHN—The following death notice is reprinted from the Huntingdon Monitor, date of January 29th: Mrs. Sarah Jane (Yarnell) Spohn died at her late home, 739 Allegheny street, Saturday morning, Jan. 23, at 5:49 o'clock. Death followed a brief illness. She was born at Centre Hall, Centre county, September 14, 1873. She was united in marriage to George B. Spohn on March 5th, 1891, who survives with the following children: Harry, Thomas and William A. Spohn, of Huntingdon. One child, a daughter, Mrs. Estella May Bird, died at her home in Camden, N. J., several years ago. Scotland Visitor Here.
The Kirkpatricks are enjoying the visit of a young man from the land of the Scottish Chiefs, James G. Haugh, a citizen of Hamilton Lanarkshire, Scotland, sailed from Liverpool, England, Jan. 16th, 1925, on the vessel "Regina." This ship sailed by way of Boston to New York, landed in New York on Jan. 27. It was held back at the start ten hours because of a dense fog, then because of a severe storm while on the way across the Atlantic. It was two days late in its arrival. Mr. Haugh had some interesting tales concerning sea sickness and storm at sea. Before this trip to the good old U. S. A. he had had the experience of the sea trip to Australia from his home, the land of the bagpipes. After passing three medical examinations on board the ship and succeeding to make his way through the line of red tape in landing, he found his way to the home of his uncle, John Haugh, at State College. He is now the guest of his cousin, Mrs. Marie Kirkpatrick, in this place.

Another joyful visitor at the Presbyterian manse this week is Leon Bryner, nephew of Rev. Kirkpatrick. He has just resigned his position as an attendant at the Danville State Hospital. He is visiting here during his week's vacation and will go from here to Freehold, where he will enroll as a student in the Mining and Mechanical Institute. Mr. Bryner is the son of the Rev. C. W. Bryner, of Danville First M. E. church.

PINE GROVE MILLS.
A "booster" meeting was held at the Balleyville school house Monday evening by the ladies of Spruce Creek valley for the purpose of erecting a community hall to replace the Grange hall destroyed by fire several years ago.

Mrs. F. E. Norris, teacher of Centre school, has been transferred to the Branch school, which Miss Viola Burwell resigned. Miss Mildred Campbell has been elected to fill the unexpired term at Centre school.

Grain merchant J. D. Neldigh shipped two carloads of $1.50 wheat from Pennsylvania Furnace to the southern market.

REPORT OF DENTAL HYGIENIST

Miss MacDonald Does Two Weeks Work With Centre Hall School Children—Loveable, the Children Say.

Miss Heen B. MacDonald, the Dental Hygienist employed in the schools of Centre Hall for two weeks by the State College Tuberculosis committee, gives the following gratifying report: The children from the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades were given a prophylaxis this year. The enrollment for the third and fourth grades is 23, the number of patients treated was 26, two children being absent.

The number of children enrolled in fifth and sixth grades numbered 33; the patients totaled 32, one being absent on account of illness. The response of the children was fine, with little timidity being shown by them at any time.

Before the child is treated his mouth is thoroughly examined to find the condition of his teeth as to cleanliness, to note if fistulas are present, how often he brushes his teeth, number of cavities and condition of the gum tissue—healthy or unhealthy.

All this is checked off plainly on a chart and given the child to show his parents. In this way the parent becomes acquainted with the child's dental deficiencies and may have them remedied.

The six-year molar, when decayed, is always very plainly shown and the hygienist adds a few words to stress the vital importance of this tooth in order that the proper care and immediate visit to a dentist be assured.

An added feature this year was tooth brush drills, which were given to the grades. This was necessary, as frequently the children insisted that they had brushed their teeth when, upon examination, their teeth looked otherwise. Therefore, to allay all suspicion the children were taught how to brush their teeth and responded very well.

The general condition of the children's teeth would be considered fair. They showed a keen interest and seemed very willing in carrying out instructions for the improvement of their teeth and general mouth health.

In speaking of the children privately, Miss MacDonald was highly complimentary to them as to their personal appearance, also, of their good manners, dress and general intelligence. Of Miss MacDonald the children spoke of as lovable.

GEORGES VALLEY

A baby girl was born to Mrs. John Auman in the Bellefonte hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lingle, E. L. Lingle and son Miles, visited friends in Lock Haven one day last week.

Rev. D. A. Ertle, of Saladyburg, spent a few days last week with friends here. While here he preached several very interesting sermons at the Locust Grove church where Rev. Haney is holding protracted meeting.

Roy Zettle and family spent Sunday with his father, F. W. Zettle.

E. L. Lingle and Ira Lingle made a business trip to Lewistown on Tuesday.

Homer Igen, of Milroy, was a visitor here on Monday.

Fred Zettle lost a valuable cow one day last week. The animal fell on the concrete floor of the stable and broke her leg, and had to be killed.

JUDGE POLLOCK AUTHOR OF COIN MOTTO

Lycoming County Judge Was Originator of "In God We Trust" Appearing on Larger Pieces of Our Money.

A man who sat as judge on the bench of Lycoming county when it was a part of the Eighth Judicial district of Pennsylvania, was responsible for the adoption of the motto, "In God We Trust," which appears on the larger coins issued by the United States government.

James Pollock, who was born at Milton, Sept. 14, 1819, and died at Lock Haven April 19, 1890, was the author of this motto.

He was director of the mint at Philadelphia from 1861 until 1866 and during the time he was filling that office he suggested to the secretary of the treasury that the motto be inscribed on the coins, and his suggestion was adopted.

Mr. Pollock had achieved distinction as a member of congress when he was appointed judge by Governor Johnson in 1851, upon the death of Judge Joseph Biles Anthony, of Williamsport. He completed Judge Anthony's term, which had less than a year to run, and then returned to the practice of law.

In 1854 he was elected governor of Pennsylvania for a term of three years. In 1861 he was appointed a member of the Crittenden Peace conference, which considered the "Crittenden Compromise," an effort to avert the secession of the southern states through the adoption of constitutional amendments recognizing slavery under certain limitations. His appointment to the directorship of the Philadelphia mint followed. He retired in 1866, but was reappointed by President Grant in 1869 and 1873 became superintendent of the mint. He was appointed naval officer at Philadelphia in 1879 and held that office four years. In 1866 he was appointed federal chief inspector of elections.—From Williamsport Sun's expansion edition.
