PINE GROVE MILLS.

A. B. Whitmer is driving a new Aurn roadster. Prof. S. C. Miller came up from Chesley for a brief visit with his home folks, here. Miss Edith Sankey, of Middleburg, is being entertained at the home of her cousin, Viola M. Smith, a royal place to tarry this blustery weather. Our new R. D. carrier, John Shope, is steering a new Star-Six, mowing down snow drifts. Among the sick are Mrs. Laura Musser, Mrs. S. A. Dunlap, Jerry Garner and W. R. Ward. Bobbie Glenn and Frank Dean are in the Centre county hospital; both are on a fair way to recovery. Frank Mattern is quitting the Wilson farm, he having rented a farm in Blair county. Two of the Wilson brothers will take possession of the old farm April 1st. Joe Gilliland will quit farming this spring, make public sale and retire to Easy street at Baileyville, to the Dr. Hauser mansion, for a well earned rest for himself and his good wife. The holy communion will be observed in the Presbyterian church Sunday, 21st inst., with preparatory services on Friday at 7:30 P. M. Claude G. Aikens and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leitzell, and J. M. Henzel have returned from a ten days' sight-seeing trip to Florida. They are perfectly delighted with the outing, but also entirely satisfied with their lot in old Centre county. Rev. David Y. Brouse, of Mt. Union, is greeting friends of long ago in town. The Reverend is looking after the erection of a $250,000 church edifice at Mt. Union. Notwithstanding the blustery and chilly weather, the Mrs. Brouse sale in town last Saturday was well attended. The personal effects brought $218.80; the real estate, dwelling and lot, were knocked down to Prof. S. C. Miller, at $2400.

BOALSBURG.

Frank Roberts, who has been in the Centre County Hospital for several weeks with pneumonia, expects to be able to leave that institution about the middle of this week. On Saturday evening a party of about 125 gathered in the Knights of Malta Temple in a Valentine party. Entertainment consisted of music by Boalsburg orchestra; a drama, "Hans' Dilemma" by D. C. Bohn; and Sarah Bohn and Agnes Lucas; games, such as the rooster fight, the obstacle race, and bag and stick. Each person was weighed, and paid one-fourth cent for each pound of their weight; a guessing contest was enjoyed, and prizes were given the one weighing the most and the one guessing nearest the right weight. Refreshments were served. The occasion was a lively one. The Holy Communion service will be celebrated in the Reformed church on Sunday morning at 10:30. Preparatory service on Friday evening at 7:30. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reish gave a card party on Thursday evening. About thirty persons were present. Assistant superintendent of schools H. C. Rothrock visited the schools on Tuesday.

Get your appetites sharpened up for the roast chicken supper in the Malta Temple on Saturday evening, to be given by the High school.

REBERSBURG.

We are having a real old-fashioned winter in Old Brush Valley; lots of snow and snow drifts, which makes traveling very dangerous, either with auto or sled. The Gephart Brothers are lumbering off their mountain timber tract, and are having their logs hauled to the Winkleblech saw mill at Smullton. One day the past week the Stork visited the Thomas Confer home at Smullton and left a wee baby boy. One day the past week Rev. Douty moved into part of the Harbaugh home. Mr. Fetterolf, the lumberman, quite recently bought the Henry Seyer timber tracts located a short distance east of Smullton. Our blacksmith quite recently sold one of his fleet-footed horses to Wm. Blerly who is giving the animal daily exercise. Charles Mallory, who was employed in Pittsburgh, has returned to our town and will spend some time with his family. A child of Wm. Walker, who resides on a farm near Wolfs Store, is at present seriously sick. Mrs. Kale, wife of Jasper Kale, died at her home near Wolfs Store. Her remains were buried at Livonia on Monday afternoon. Last Friday morning Miss Mabel Wance, daughter of Israel Wance, was in the act of stepping off the auto bus which brings the scholars from the eastern end of this valley to this place, when she slipped and struck her side against the running board of the bus, resulting in the fracture of several of her ribs.
