

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Harry W. Harper was seriously ill Sunday night from an affection of the heart.

The Centre county license bureau is running light. No marriage licenses were issued during the past week.

William F. Rockey, the produce dealer at Tusseyville, Wednesday morning made a trip through the coal regions.

Mrs. Charles Leister, of near Potters Mills, on Wednesday went to Coburn to visit her sister, Mrs. William Earle.

Aaron Thomas, who has been confined to the house for some weeks, is not improving. He is suffering from dropsy or a kindred disease.

The Irvin House, in Lock Haven, owned and conducted by the Boyne Brothers since 1912, was sold to Clarence L. Egbert, of Alden, N. Y.

Mrs. Bryan Auman and baby daughter, of Millheim, visited over Sunday with Mrs. Auman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Garis, in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kifer and sons Elmer and Jack, of Spring Mills, spent Sunday in Altoona with Mrs. Kifer's sisters, Mrs. T. L. Thompson and Mrs. J. E. Steele.

Thomas F. Delaney is having his farm house and barn wired for electric light. The work is being done by Edgar Summers, of Pleasant Gap, and Harold Durst, of Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Strohecker are off on a ten-day trip during which time they will visit their children. They first went to Utica, N. Y., and from there will go to Bethlehem and Philadelphia.

Postmaster R. M. Smith, Lloyd Smith, Charles B. Smith, E. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vonada, on Tuesday, attended the funeral of John Clayton Barr, a relative, at Burnham.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk and daughter Sarah, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Runkle, spent a few days the past week at Altoona, where they visited Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Runkle and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyer.

Walter R. Hosterman, of the Hosterman auto garage, leased the Reformed parsonage purchased some time ago by James Scarsion from the trustees of the Reformed church. The property vacated by Mr. Hosterman is owned by E. H. Loughner, of near Potters Mills.

On their way home from Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Wilson stopped in Centre Hall and are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Benner. Mr. Wilson lives at Elizabeth, Illinois, and is engaged in the creamery business, which business is now being conducted largely by his son, Russell.

A box of oranges grown near White Haven, Florida, is being enjoyed by B. D. Brisbin, at this time. He was kind enough to share with the Reporter. The oranges were grown in an orchard owned by Benner Shirk, formerly of Seymour, Missouri, who is well known to many of the readers of this paper.

High school girls are canvassing the town for subscriptions to various popular journals, a part of the proceeds from which will go to the athletic treasury of the High school. The publishers are very generous in the commissions allowed, and this will give many an opportunity to help along building an athletic spirit among the school children and at the same time getting full value for their money in high class reading matter.

What might have been a serious fire was averted by the quick action of Claude Dutrow, on Tuesday evening. He is living as tenant in the H. J. Lambert house, and discovered the stove pipe overheated from which the joist in the ceiling became ignited and was burning merrily. Fearful that he might not be able to cope with the situation an alarm of fire was given, but the flames had all been extinguished before any outside help had reached the place.

The Reporter is convinced that the best form of sale advertising is in the form of newspaper advertising. The sale poster has its proper place 'tis true; custom has established that, and no farmer should think of dispensing with the large poster. However, it is a mistake to stint advertising and confine it to posters alone if one has a large amount of stock or an especially fine lot of farm machinery. An itemized list of the articles for sale advertised in the local paper is superior to any form of advertising. The local paper is read at home; at closer range than the poster; at a time when impressions are better formed; a particular item in which a prospective buyer is interested is more likely to be observed here than on the poster. Again we say, nothing pulls quite like newspaper advertising. The farmer who expects to hold a sale totalling several thousand dollars should not stop to spend a few extra dollars in this form of advertising. One bid will wipe out the whole cost. It pays handsomely.

HOUSE PASSES BILL 226 TO 121; SENATE VOTES UNANIMOUSLY

$1,000,000 of Amount to Be Expended for Sesqui Buildings; the Rest for Federal Exhibits.

Congress has adopted the modified Welsh resolution authorizing a Federal appropriation of $2,186,500 for the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition. Of this amount, it is specified that $1,186,500 should be spent for government exhibits by the Federal Exhibition Commission, composed of Secretaries Kellogg and Hoover, and the remaining $1,000,000 devoted to the construction of additional buildings by the Philadelphia Exposition management. The vote in the House was 226 to 121. The Senate passed the resolution unanimously and without discussion.

Mayor W. Freehand Kenrick, of Philadelphia, president of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition Association, when informed of the passage of the resolution, declared, "A little less than I expected, but nevertheless, very gratifying. It assures participation of the Federal government in the Exposition. It makes known to foreign nations that the Sesqui-Centennial is a certainty and by the backing of the United States Government invites their participation. Yes, I am very gratified."

After the House had acted on the resolution it was necessary to obtain the approval of the Budget Director and President Coolidge. This was speedily done and both messages arrived soon after the House authorization had been voted. The bill was then returned to the House to enable that body to give its approval to the appropriation which it had authorized to be made. Following this, it was sent to the Senate, and passed by that body unanimously a day later.

$6000 AWARDED FOR PIKE.

Appealing from an award of road viewers, the company owning the turnpike through the Millheim Narrows was granted a verdict by a jury on Wednesday morning, placing the value of the pike at $6000. It is likely the commissioners will accept the verdict. This was the first case heard during the second week of court.

The second road case is now on and concerns the pike leading from Millheim to Coburn, owned by a different corporation.

The next case likely to be called is that of Rowland vs. Cullen, a coal case, heard heretofore in the Centre county court. Should this case get under way, court will probably be continued during next week.

Judge Baird, of Lock Haven, is holding the court, owing to the fact that Judge Keller had been interested as an attorney in the cases up for trial.

LINDEN HALL

Howard Frazier moved to Bellefonte on Friday and is now comfortably located on Valentine street opposite the Centre County Hospital.

On Monday Clarence Sheesley moved from the store property formerly occupied by Edward Livingston into the Felding house vacated by Howard Frazier.

Last Monday evening friends and neighbors gathered at the Frazier home bringing choice refreshments. The affair was quite a surprise and was a farewell party for the Fraziers before leaving for their new home. About seventy-five were present and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Mrs. J. H. Ross is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Motherbaugh, in Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Brouse, of Dushore, spent a few days last week at their former home here.

Wesley Biddle moved from the Van Tries farm to the Barrens, where he will farm one of the Col. Boal farms. Mrs. James Swabb spent a week with her sister, Miss Izora Rupp, at the J. L. Tressler home.

Mrs. Anna Jones returned from a two weeks' visit with her husband in Philadelphia.

Hen's Own Egg Factory Is Run Like Real Plant

IT'S A whole egg or none for the hen, according to the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. Being an honest manufacturer she does not make half an egg. Her egg "factory" is run like a real plant. When the yolk is made it is then passed into another department where it is surrounded by white, then into a third where it is encased by a layer of the purest form of carbonate of lime, forming the egg shell, after which it is ready to greet a hungry world.

The average hen lays about 72 eggs a year, mostly during warm weather. She should manufacture twice that number, state the institute's experts who, in experimenting with hundreds of laying hens, discovered surprising differences in the number of eggs produced by various poultry rations. If the hen's egg-making apparatus fails to work up to a standard of efficiency it is probably not the hen's fault, but rather that of the poultryman who unknowingly does not provide her with the food material the hen requires to keep all three egg-making departments working full time. When the hen is fed sound grains and an efficient mash containing egg-making nutrients that make for the greatest efficiency in her plant, she can't help but make eggs! Feed is the most important single factor in egg production. It is also the biggest item of cost. Profitable results cannot be secured with poor rations.

In addition to providing the best rations for egg production the wise poultryman will watch his flock, to continuously cull out the naturally poor layers, thus building up a flock of heavy-laying fowls. Every effort should also be made to see that the hens are comfortably housed, especially in winter, because dark, damp, dirty quarters may nullify all the advantages resulting from culling and better feeding.
