ALBERT KLINGER WOUNDED; DIED SATURDAY NIGHT

Harry G. Bankus, of Harrisburg, committed Deed at Home of Former Wife in Lewistown.

A coroner's jury has been picked to investigate the death of Albert Klinger, 25, Lewistown, who was fatally wounded by Harry G. Bankus, 28, of 245 Boyd street, Harrisburg, last Thursday night at the home of George Rheems, Lewistown. Klinger died Saturday night from the result of three bullet wounds inflicted by Bankus. The inquest will be held Friday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Bankus according to his story went from Harrisburg to Lewistown after he had received a letter from his divorced wife stating that she was to marry. He said that he left with the intention of killing Klinger and his former wife and then ending his own life. Klinger came to the door of the Rheems home as Bankus knocked. He told Bankus that Mrs. Bankus was not there.

"I saw her standing behind Klinger," said Bankus after the shooting, "and I opened fire." Bankus escaped despite the efforts of several men to stop him, and got to the home of his sister, Mrs. Wilson Shilling, and there told that he had shot Klinger, and was going to give himself up as soon as he had something to eat.

He was arrested and until Klinger died Saturday, the day he was to have been married, Bankus was kept in the Lewistown jail. A charge of first and second degree murder, and manslaughter have been brought against him.

Odd Fellows at Spring Mills Banquet

The Spring Mills lodge of Odd Fellows No. 597, celebrated their twenty-third anniversary by holding a banquet the latter part of last week. There were present 350 guests—members of the order and their friends. The affair was held in the Grange hall. Music was furnished by the two local organizations, band and orchestra. The chairman and toastmaster was Charles C. Bartzes, who with others long identified with the organization spoke of the achievements of the three-link order, the local lodge being in a thriving condition from all points of view.

The banquet feature, of course, was a most important number on the program. The layout was elaborate and the service was the best ever.

Lingle Farm Sold.

The Lingle farm of one hundred and ten acres, at Earlstown, was sold on Monday by Lycourgus R. Lingle to J. Elmer Royer, the sale price being $8900. The farm is a portion of that of the late James C. Boal. It is now tenanted by C. S. Musser. Mr. Royer now owns a farm nearby the one he purchased.

No Marriage Licenses.

No marriage licenses were issued from the Register's office in Bellefonte during the past week.

DEATHS

THOMAS.—Aaron Thomas, long a resident of Centre Hall, died early Monday morning at his home here from dropsy and other ailments. Interment was made in the local cemetery Wednesday afternoon, the funeral having been in charge of Rev. Floyd Huff, pastor of the Evangelical church.

Mr. Thomas was a carpenter by trade and during his time built many of the houses and barns in this neighborhood. He was an exceptionally active man, and up until a few years ago put in many extra hours of work almost every day.

He was the last survivor of the Thomas family, which consisted of several brothers and sisters. He was born and reared at Aaronsburg and had lived until July he would have attained his seventy-eighth year. A wife and three children survive.

WILKINSON.—Harry Wilkinson died at his home in Mifflinburg last week and Saturday the body was laid to rest in the cemetery in that place. He is survived by a wife, whose maiden name was Miss Catharine Smith, of Milton. There were no children. They had lived in Mifflinburg during all of their married life, a period of fifty-six years. His age was between 82 and 83 years.

The deceased was a son of William Wilkinson, who died in Bellefonte in 1855. A sister, Lucy, now Mrs. James Buck, of Harrisburg, survives him. He was a carpenter and woodworker by trade. Early in life he drove stage between Lewistown and Bellefonte, the conveyance in use then having been the old stage coach.

HETTINGER.—Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Hettinger, wife of Henry M. Hettinger, of 112 First Avenue, Altoona, died at the family home at 5 o'clock Friday morning, of a complication of diseases following a lingering illness. She was born February 19, 1872, at Spring Mills, and was the daughter of John and Mary Breen. She was married to Mr. Hettinger March 23, 1896. Surviving her are her husband and two children: Martha, at home, and Paul S., of Altoona. One son, Eugene, died in infancy. Surviving also are three brothers: Willis P. Breen, of Millheim; Robert P. Breen, of Horseheads, N. Y.; John F. Breen, of State College, and three sisters—Mrs. Harry Frankenberger, of State College; Mrs. Oscar Homan, of Mifflinburg; Mrs. Harry Fye, of Centre Hall, and three grandchildren.

She was a member of the Third Presbyterian church, Altoona, and of the Woman's Missionary Society. Even during her last illness she maintained a great interest in the church work and missionary duties, being a faithful attendant. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, with services in the Third Presbyterian church, in charge of Rev. Dr. W. L. McClure; interment in Greenwood cemetery, Altoona.

BEAVER.—Mrs. Mary McAllister Beaver, widow of General James A. Beaver, governor of Pennsylvania, died at her home in Bellefonte early Saturday morning. She had been ill a long time as a result of a nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Beaver, who was known throughout the State for her charitable work, was born at Bellefonte, a daughter of Hugh Nelson McAllister. She was 82 years old last September. Her husband died in 1914. Two sons survive her, Thomas A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, former representative, in the General Assembly, and Gilbert A. Beaver, of Yorktown Heights, N. Y.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the home by the Rev. William E. Thompson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, the denomination to which Mrs. Beaver consistently devoted her life. Interment in the Union cemetery.

There were two Governors from Bellefonte besides Governor Beaver—Andrew Gregg Curtin and Daniel H. Hastings. Governor Hastings' widow is still living.

ERTLE.—Adam Ertle, one of the oldest natives of Gregg township, died at the home of his son, Rev. Daniel Ertle, at Salladysburg, Lycoming county, on Saturday, aged eighty-six years. The body was brought to the home of his sister, Mrs. George Gensel, at Spring Mills, on Tuesday, and from there burial was made on Wednesday at Millheim.

Mr. Ertle lived for many years at Green Grove, north of Penn Hall, where he engaged in shoemaking and farming. Mrs. Ertle is deceased, and during the latter years Mr. Ertle made his home with his son, Rev. Daniel Ertle, an Evangelical minister. Rev. Ertle and Mrs. Howard Bickie, the latter of near Spring Mills, comprise the surviving members of the family.

RADEL.—George W. Radel, after an illness of six weeks, died at his home in Watsontown. For forty-two years the deceased was in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. He began his enviable railroad career as clerk at Mahantango, gradually working his way with service at Dalmatia, Elizabethtown, Coburn, and Lykens. For eleven years he was station agent at Lykens, being retired there four years ago, when he went to Watsontown to make his home.

Surviving is his wife, nine children by a former marriage, five brothers and one sister.

REISH.—As a result of a stroke of paralysis, Joel Reish died at his home in Lewistown at the age of 67 years. He was engaged as a distiller, near Mifflinburg, up to fifteen years ago. At one time he was associated with L. L. Weaver, of Millheim, in the lumber business. A wife and several children survive.

U. S. COURT AGAIN ASKED TO TAKE CENTRE CO. BANK

Deputy United States Marshal Services Papers on Interested Parties.—May Oust Receivers.

The Centre County Bank case is again in the Federal courts, for the time being, at least, states the Bellefonte Republican.

New bankruptcy proceedings were started recently, and on Monday a deputy United States marshal was in Bellefonte serving processes upon various persons interested.

The new proceedings, if approved by Judge Johnson in the Federal courts, will take the entire bank matter out of the hands of the three receivers appointed by Judge Arthur Dale, just before he retired from the bench. Two of these three receivers, it will be recalled, subsequently selected Judge Dale as their paid attorney, thereby confirming rumors at the time they were appointed that they would name him for the job.

The new bankruptcy proceedings were started by depositors of the bank who were not parties to the first action taken in the Federal courts and which was quashed when it reached the United States Supreme Court because that body had changed its rules applying to such matters. The change was not made, however, until after the Centre County Bank case was not only filed there, but under actual consideration.

The petition starting the new bankruptcy proceedings set forth that the appointment of receivers by the Centre County courts constituted an act of bankruptcy, and Judge Johnston was thereupon asked to take the matter out of the hands of John S. Dale, John S. Ginter and Rev. Reed O. Stealy, John S. Dale is a cousin of former Judge Dale, and the latter is now a law partner of former Judge Orvis, chief counsel for those who had asked that three receivers be named.

The persons upon whom processes were served by a deputy United States marshal on Monday were the ones named originally as "partners in the Centre County Bank"—Mrs. Mary C. Harris, the John M. Shugert estate, George R. Meek, the estate of Mrs. Lavinia Harris, Andrew Breeze and Mrs. Florence Dale. Following customary procedure these several parties will file such answers as they wish to, and then Judge Johnston will set a day to hear argument for and against the proposal that he declare the bank a bankrupt.

NEW BUILDING RECORD FOR STATE COLLEGE

$1,314,000 Building Program Completed—Forty-four Private Residences.

With the spring building season approaching, residents of the town of State College, anxious to have the borough keep pace with the growth and importance of the Pennsylvania State College, are looking for another record year in building activities. The past year saw the erection of new business buildings, private residences and fraternity houses valued at approximately $1,314,000, according to estimates of real estate men of the town.

Five of the twelve new business buildings completed during the past few months were fire replacements the entire group costing approximately half a million dollars. Forty-four private residences were completed during the year, as were two apartment houses and six student fraternity houses. The college is expected to start one or more of three proposed student welfare buildings during the coming building season, and other construction in the town will probably equal the record of the past year.

FOR SALE—Three American foxhound pups, bred of good stock.—F. A. McClintic, Linden Hall, Pa. Bell phone 8785.

ATTENTION, P. R. R.

Conditions along the tracks of the P. R. R. at the Centre Hall station are anything but desirable for passengers or any one obliged to pass along the train or pass on foot or auto over the crossing. Conditions have been bad here for a number of years, but during the past year it is becoming intolerable. Passengers are obliged to tramp through mud or slush, as the case may be, to reach the coaches; express and mail must also be dragged through it. A hog wallow can be spotted by a much less pretentious organization than the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Lecture Monday Night.

Dr. Alexander Cairns will appear in Grange Arcadia Monday night as the last number of the local lecture course. He is credited with being a high class lecturer, capable of entertaining and instructing.

$4250 for Millheim Turnpike.

On Wednesday morning the case of Millheim Turnpike Road Company vs. Centre County was taken up, being a feigned issue and an appeal by the plaintiff company from the award of viewers, and being a suit to establish the value of the turnpike from Millheim to Coburn. This turnpike has located upon it six bridges from Millheim to Coburn and a stone culvert in the borough of Millheim. The testimony developed that the iron bridge in the village of Coburn and the one known as the Swartz bridge were built by the county, the latter in 1878 and the former in 1877. The plaintiff showing by their testimony a value of something over $25,000.00, but the defendants contending that the turnpike company was not worth that; that the pike was worn, bridges not safe, and that the value of the plaintiffs' property was practically nothing owing to the condition of the road and the bridges. Verdict on Friday afternoon in favor of the plaintiff for $4250, after which the Court adjourned.

FOR SALE—A 1 1/2 horse-power water motor, in good condition, is offered for sale. Motor was in use in Reporter's office until electric motor was installed. Apply at this office.

KEYSTONE QUALITY Hammermill Ground and Aspirated MIXED FEEDS

FOR ALL LIVE STOCK AND POULTRY

My prices will arouse surprise and astonish you. My Quality will enlighten, convince and accelerate you.

For example: Keystone Quality Superior CHOP at $2.00 per cwt. contains no cob, no dust, dirt or nothing but equal parts by weight of "Nature's Best" Corn and Oats. The oats is ground as fine as middlings and the corn to a perfect meal, then the two are thoroughly and perfectly mixed together.

The average miller ships this quality of grain to the big city millers; uses lower grade grain, often cob and all, does not clean it, grinds thru a burr mill, calls it Standard chop and sells it at $45 to $55 or more per ton.

This Mill does not put the material out steaming, hence no danger of a spoiled product. This Mill grinds by impact, not by friction, therefore no heat. It is the only mill of its kind in the State.

I can grind to any degree of fineness but my capacity is not large. My aim is Quality First—Quality Afterwards, and The Right Way, my motto.

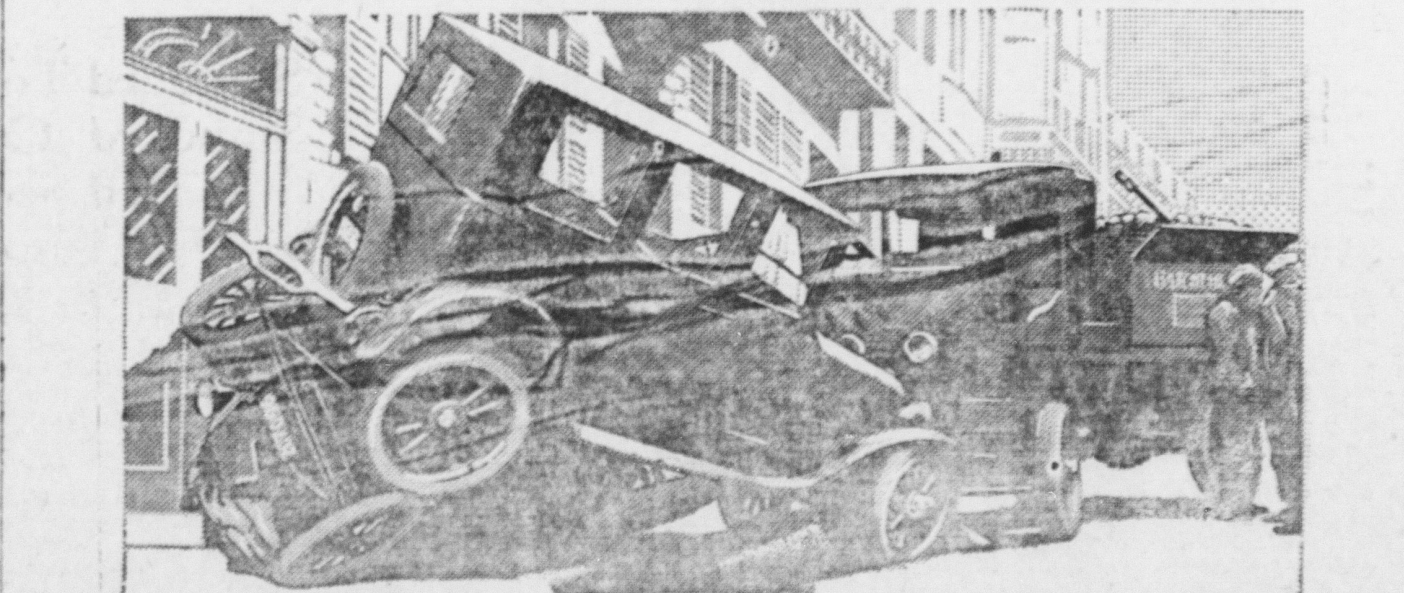

I have hundreds of formulae for making all kinds of Feeds. Write for prices and information. Send me your favorite formula for mixed feeds and I will send you my lowest quotations. Anyone who feeds Poultry or Livestock on the smallest or largest scale cannot afford NOT to write.

WRITE—a Government postal will do, or Phone Bell 75R14.

"YOU ARE ENTITLED TO KNOW THE FACTS"
DODGE BROTHERS, INC.

Only STEEL
could meet a test like this!

A Dodge Brothers Motor Car . . . A speeding truck racing down hill and out of control . . . A collision . . .

Take one look at this photograph. It is not pretty, to be sure, but it will convince any sensible man that all steel construction is the only safe construction for a motor car body.

That is why Dodge Brothers introduced the all steel body more than eleven years ago, and this year greatly improved and perfected it.

In fact, Dodge Brothers are convinced that the day is not far off when wooden motor car bodies will be a curiosity. People will shudder at the thought of having ridden in them and will thank Dodge Brothers for the greater safety, durability—and beauty, too—of all steel construction.

A steel body will stand up under impacts that would crush the average body to bits. Steel cannot splinter. Steel cannot burn. Steel is an armor of protection on the crowded, hurrying highway.

Outwardly, nearly all types of bodies appear to be all steel. In reality, however, most of them are simply frames of wood covered by a metal shell.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car bodies are steel through and through—steel reinforced by steel—battered and braced by steel—even the frames and running boards are steel.

And slender, stronger steel corner posts replace the customary bulky posts of wood, affording full, unhampered driving vision on all sides—a safety feature of the first importance!

Travel in safety! Powerful, quick-action brakes, a chassis world-famous for its sturdiness, and a body of steel—these explain the enviable reputation for safety enjoyed by Dodge Brothers Motor Car—and the enviable feeling of safety enjoyed by those who drive it.

The car will continue to be a "four". No reasonable buyer will be distracted from the issue of QUALITY by mere CYLINDER propaganda.
