

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A. N. Riegel, the Salona stock buyer, was in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. G. O. Benner has been among relatives in Pittsburgh the past week.

Miss Beatrice Kramer, R. N., who has been at State College for some time, was at her home here over Sunday.

Colonel Theodore Davis Boal, of Boalsburg, was a liberal buyer at the Mrs. D. J. Meyer sale, in Centre Hall, on Saturday.

Mrs. Keener, wife of Rev. D. R. Keener, has recovered from an illness of a week or more, during which time she was obliged to remain in bed.

William J. Lightner, aged 37, of Harrisburg, was crushed to death in the Pennsylvania Railroad freight yards at Lewistown by a locomotive.

Mrs. Jennie Woerner had been confined to bed for several days, but is now able to be about again. She is housekeeper for W. E. Tate, a relative.

The past week has seen countless snow flurries and disagreeable weather generally. With spring only three days removed, it may be said Old King Winter has been on the throne all through his season.

The Penns Valley hosiery company, at Millheim, is erecting a store house 40x60 feet, near the knitting mill plant. The concern is running at its maximum at the present time, employing one hundred and fifty persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Jared Ripka, Mr. and Mrs. Asher Confer, Edward Lingie, Jacob McCool and Calvin Lingle, all of Spring Mills, attended the funeral of Mrs. Edward C. Ungard, in Lock Haven. The parties are all relatives of the deceased.

Rev. M. DuPaul Maynard, of Ridgeway, rector of the Episcopal church, and formerly of Bellefonte, will leave early in April for a six weeks' tour of the Holy Land, as the guest of Mrs. J. K. P. Hall, of Ridgeway, who is taking a party of six on this trip.

Miss Mary Zerby, teacher of grades 1 and 2 in the Centre Hall public schools, has been unable to teach during the past ten days owing to illness. Inquiry at her home, near Spring Mills, on Monday, revealed that she had recovered sufficiently to be up for the first time on that morning.

Mrs. Lizzie Shirk, who had been in Bellefonte with friends for several months, returned to her home here again and is living alone. Mrs. Runyon, a niece of Tyrone, and her little daughter, visited Mrs. Shirk the latter part of the week with the view of inducing her to go to Altoona to live, but was unsuccessful in her efforts.

E. Zimmerli, the building contractor at State College, is finishing up the work under way at that place, and then expects to enter upon the construction of several large buildings in one of the western states. He is holding out offers to some of the mechanics that were with him for several years to accompany him when he goes westward.

Centre county has one thing to be proud of and that is that it had only seventy-four more dogs in 1925 than in 1923. The total number of dogs to wear licenses in the county last year was 3,598. Throughout the State 479,222 dogs sported collars and licenses in 1925. That's a lot of dogs. 479,099 of these could easily have been dispensed with without injury to any one.

Miss Kathryn Gleixner, aged seventeen, who has been in bed since last September, is improving somewhat at this time. She is suffering from an infected knee, of several years' standing. A short time ago her nerves gave way after an attack of grip, but from this she has pretty well recovered. With all this suffering for years, she has always been cheerful—hoping, hoping.

After placing padlocks on two hotels in Scranton and sending the proprietor and bar tender of one of them to jail for six months, Federal Judge Johnson criticised society women for smoking cigarettes and drinking. He said: "Fashionable men and women of today indulge in drinking and smoking cigarettes and think it is modernism. Their views on the subject will not change the minds of sensible men."

Frank Phillips, of Potters Mills, delivered a Star touring car to Rhoda Royer, at Centre Hill, this week.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Smith, on the R. M. Smith farm at Centre Hill, on Monday evening.

Edgar Miller, assistant cashier of the local First National bank, is confined to his home on account of an attack of grippe.

Harry W. Potter has accepted a position in the Hosterman Garage. Rumor has it that James Royer, a mechanic in the same garage, will quit, take unto himself a wife and start farming on his father's recently-acquired farm at Earlstown.

Four State police are on the job along the Bald Eagle trail. Two drivers were recently arrested. One was accused of driving without lights and the other of not having a 1925 license plate. Both plead guilty before Squire Tullhelm of Julian and were fined $12.50 each.

James I. Fetterolf, the Star-Durant dealer at Centre Hall, last week sold Star cars to the following parties: Aaron Tressler, Pennsylvania Furnace, a 6-cylinder Star coupe; Harry Hille, Pleasant Gap, Star coach; touring cars to John Fogelman, Spring township; Edward Bressler, Potters Mills, and Clarence Miller, Tusseyville.

While engaged at play at school, Jimmy DeLancey, aged seven years, a ward of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ward Gramley, in Millheim, fell from a porch and fractured his left arm. It was while the boy was in the Centre County hospital on account of a broken leg that Mr. and Mrs. Gramley became attached to him and later gave him a home.

The Krader Motor Co., of Bellefonte, last week filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. One or more banks entered executions against the company covering substantial amounts for loans some time ago. It is not known definitely what percentage of assets will be available for distribution among stockholders after various claims are paid.

Mrs. George Robertson, who had been spending the winter in Florida, came North a few days ago, and is now at the home of her father, B. D. Brisbin, in Centre Hall, before returning to Hartford, Conn., her home. Mrs. Robertson is favorably impressed with Florida, and would not have returned so early but for urgent business reasons.

Information has been made against a number of down-state residents by the Penns Valley Game and Fish Protective association for trespass on the latter's leased lands during the hunting season last fall, states the Millheim Journal. Ten persons are charged with trespass on land posted according to law and the cases will be prosecuted after the manner prescribed in the trespass law of April 4, 1905.
