

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The principal cities of the State are now on daylight saving time.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Puff and children of Tyrone, came to town on Saturday stopping with relatives here.

Mrs. A. E. Pison, of Trenton, New Jersey, was in arrival in Centre Hall, Monday evening, having come here to visit her mother, Mrs. Margaret Strohm.

A new electric sign of goodly proportions, bearing the word "Cafe," hangs to the front of the Homan restaurant, and will instantly catch the eye of the traveling public.

More than twenty-five deer, in six different groups, were seen the other evening within a ten-minute walk of Sunset club house. They were looking fine and not too shy.

The State highway between Centre Hall and Ligon is on the closing schedule for this season. The road between Aaronburg and the Union-Centre county line is now being closed.

To March 1st, 23,123 dog licenses were issued in the State, or 12,500 more than were issued during the same period of 1925. County Treasurer Heverly issued 2560 of the licenses.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Runkle, at the Centre Hall hotel, are confined to bed on account of sickness. Mr. Runkle entering upon the fifth week and Mrs. Runkle for nearly a week. The latter's condition is considered more alarming than the former's.

The five lots on Hofer street, the property of the late Aaron Thomas, were purchased on Saturday at public sale by John F. Treaster, farmer west of Centre Hall, for $775. Mr. Treaster has given no intimation of his intentions as to the use of the lots.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Smith returned from the Miami, Florida, district on Saturday after having been there for several months. Mrs. Ella Stuart, of State College, who had been in Florida since last fall, also returned home on Saturday, stopping with her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, in Centre Hall, on her way.

We will not be outdone by Bellefonte in offering President Coolidge a summer home, so he is here offered "Sunset" in Seven Mountains. Nothing prettier in all the State than the surroundings. Drives of deer play about the place morning and evening, and trout—the speckled mountain trout—live in a brook hard by.

Peter Galliton and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Storck, of Pottsville, came up to Colyer and were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jordan, on Saturday. The parties came to Colyer regularly during the hunting season, and this trip was made on account of the William Klinefelter property being offered for sale. The place is well suited for a hunting lodge.

William Zerby, aged 90 years, a resident of Lisbon, North Dakota, but a native of Penns Valley, writes the Reporter as follows: "We had little or no rain all winter; the ground is now so dry that wheat and oats cannot sprout. We had lots of sickness, flu and pneumonia, but it has now about all passed off. Our greatest trouble now is fires and automobile accidents, of which there have been a number quite recently. Although 90 years old, I write without glasses."

The dwelling house, at present unoccupied, belonging to Emiget Jordan, at Tusseyville, made a narrow escape from destruction by fire on Saturday. Embers from a pile of rubbish being burned nearby lodged on the roof of the house, setting fire to the shingles, and before being extinguished burned through it. Dr. Hugh Morrow, Merchant C. P. Ramer, whose store is nearby, and another gentleman whose name was not learned, happened on the scene in time to save a great loss to the owner who now lives in Reading.

At 3:30 a. m. Monday morning the farm house, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. McClellan, at Linden Hall, was discovered to be on fire, but the flames were extinguished before serious damage was done. The fire was the result of sparks falling through an old-fashioned chimney, used as a flue, and setting fire to the doors closing it on the first floor. The doors and the chimney log and a cupboard standing close by were aflame when members of the McClellan family were aroused by the smoke in their bedrooms.

BOALSBURG.

John Bressler, of the Glades, was in town on business on Monday.

P. S. Dale, of State College, visited in town on Thursday.

Miss Anna Sweeney spent Monday at the French home at State College.

Miss Mildred Gingsch spent the week-end with friends at Williamsport.

Messrs. Wm. and Perry Sweet motored to Instantier, their former home, for a visit among friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Johnson, of Crafton, arrived in town Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. M. A. Woods.

Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Wagner returned Wednesday from a visit with their son, Rev. John H. Wagner, and family, at Garretson Beach, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dale, of Oak Hall, their daughters and son Frederic, were visitors in town Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, of Sunbury, called at the home of George Fisher Monday enroute from a trip to Punxsutawney.

A number of interested farmers, patrons of the State College creamery, attended the creamery banquet on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ishler and daughters and Miss Emaline Hess motored to Altoona Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Nannie Coxey and son Paul.

Miss Beulah Fortney will represent the Reformed Missionary society at the convention at Lewisburg Thursday and Friday. A number of other members are arranging to attend one day of the convention.

Quite an excitement prevailed in town on Sunday afternoon when the alarm of fire was sounded, the roof of the Tavern having caught from a fire. Owing to the quick response of neighbors it was quickly extinguished without the aid of the fire company.

Among the sick: Mrs. Sarah Gingsch, who has been very ill for some weeks is improving; Mrs. Joanna Kaup, William Rokey and Miss Minnie Shutt are under the doctor's care; Miss Marie Wright is ill with scarlet fever and a number of persons are reported ill with measles.

POTTERS MILLS.

Mrs. Ella Himes, of Lewistown, visited over the week end at the home of her brother, Perry Koonsman.

Wm. Fishburn, wife and daughter, of Bellefonte, and R. W. Sweeney, wife, of State College, spent Sunday at the home of Wm. Sweeney.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith visited on Sunday at the home of William Smith, at Spring Mills.

Mrs. J. K. Ray, daughter Anna, of Tyrone, and Dr. D. P. Ray and wife, of Johnstown, visited at the G. H. McCormick home on Sunday.

Regular preaching services in the Spruce town M. E. church will be held Sunday morning at 9:30.

John Bitner has gone to Altoona to the home of his sister, Mrs. Roland Foust, to recuperate after an attack of rheumatism.

Harry Fleisher and wife, of Yeager town, visited Sunday afternoon at the home of Thomas Fleisher.

Lewis Foust, of Burnham, is sick at the home of his son, Harry Foust, from the effects of the grippe.

After a good year's work by both teachers and pupils, the schools of our village close on Tuesday.

SPRING MILLS

Mrs. John Horner is quite ill with pneumonia.

A class of twenty-six took the examination to enter the Vocational School next fall.

Jerry Heckman's house took fire Saturday noon; it burned to the second story. By a hard struggle neighbors saved the lower part of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Heckman are both feeble Mrs. Heckman having been confined to bed at the time of the fire.

The telephone exchange has been moved from the John Rishel property to the Mrs. Finkle home.

John Myers is remodeling his home.

Quite a number of the members of the I. O. O. F. attended the anniversary celebration at State College on Tuesday.

The first commercial telephones were crude, box-like affairs, resembling but little the compact, efficient, clear-speaking instrument which the telephone man of today installs in your home or office.

THE FIRST TELEPHONES

The first commercial telephone line in Pennsylvania was run between 1111 Chestnut Street and the old Continental Hotel in Philadelphia not long after the Centennial.

Two instruments, a few hundred feet apart, comprised the first Bell telephone service in the state.

Other cities quickly followed suit. By 1900 there were fifty thousand users; by 1905, nearly two hundred thousand; by the end of 1915, five hundred thousand. Today, the operations of this company cover close to a million telephones.

So does the service grow; and so does this constant broadening increase its value to every user.

As to quality of service, our objective is a continuously increasing promptness and dependability—that each year shall show greater facility in its usage, either cross-town or cross-country, and still further diminishing of mechanical and human failure in its operation.

As to further expansion, we neither have nor can have an exact goal, except to match the extension of our service with the public need for it.

Ten years ago it seemed to some that Pennsylvania was "saturated" with telephones. Since then the System has about doubled.

The Road to Wealth

They say that Economy is the Road to Wealth, and it is true. Ask those who have succeeded—they will tell you.

Not struggling, grasping, miserly economy, squeezing every dollar until the eagle squalls—oh, no, not that. But by determining to live within your income, by paying as you go, by denying yourself the things you cannot afford, and by keeping your funds in a reliable Bank like ours, where your money is SAFE. That's the way to succeed.
