An Oakland coach was recently purchased by Daniel Daup, Sr., who heretofore has been driving a Dodge touring car.

Mrs. Mary R. Herring, of Altoona, visited her sisters, Mrs. Laura Lee and Mrs. Minnie Richards, in Centre Hall, the past week.

Rev. M. W. Dayton, pastor of the Evangelical church, Spring Mills, was a caller at this office on Monday. He succeeds Rev. Haney on that field.

William Allen, of Williamsport, an extra station agent in the Pennsy service, is taking the place here of W. Frank Bradford, who is in West Virginia.

Clayton McKinney, an employe in the Pennsy railroad shops in Altoona, was a guest of his brother, William F. McKinney, at the State House, Seven Mountains.

Stuart Mueser has almost fully recovered from the effects of a broken arm caused by a kick from a tractor while being cranked. Mr. Mueser lives near Pleasant Gap railroad station.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery, Mrs. Albert Emery and baby Emery, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith and baby Smith drove to Bellefonte on Sunday where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Foss.

Margaret Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Bradford, is in Wilkesboro where she will remain for several weeks with her sister, Mrs. C. A. Bauer and her baby nephew, Charles A., Jr.

The song "Mike," by Cecil Walker, was a rare treat in Richfield theatre, Monday evening. The audience was profuse and sincere in its applause after Mr. Walker rendered the popular song at the showing of the screen picture, "Mike."

Mrs. Eliza Meyer was brought here from Tyrone on Monday by her son, John D. Meyer, and will remain for a short time a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Strohecker, who acquired the Meyer home by purchase and are now living there.

Mrs. Susan Koch and daughter, Mary, now Miss J. Flinn Stovoy, of Midway, and the former's son, Samuel Koch, of Salem, Ohio, have been about town since the beginning of the week. They came here to attend the funeral of William Bower, a brother of Mr. Koch.

J. Frank McClellan recently drew an appointment as road inspector from the State Highway Department, and is now performing duties in that capacity on a State road being built at Emporium, Cambria county. Mr. McClellan left here on Sunday and was on roll Monday morning.

J. W. Wolf, of Ardmore, suffered a light paralytic stroke a few days ago. His right side is affected. Mr. Wolf has been under the care of a physician for the greater part of a year. Last summer he was in a New York sanatorium for several months. His condition was thought to have been much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Bradford, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Mollie Gregg, of State College, on Saturday went to Charleston, West Virginia, where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shadle. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford will remain but for a week, while Mrs. Gregg expects to stay for the greater part of the summer.

W. A. Reiber of Johnstown, visited his son, George Reiber, in the Centre County Hospital, on Friday, coming as soon as possible after hearing of the auto accident, an account of which appears elsewhere in this issue. Before returning home, Mr. Reiber came to Centre Hall and went on to his old home near Colyer.

Miss Corn Homan, who has been in delicate health for a long time, is now in a private hospital at State College under the care of Dr. J. V. Foster. She has been a sufferer from various ailments which seem to have settled in her eyes. She has already been in the hospital for three weeks, but is now beginning to sit up in bed.

The Woodward cave was opened to the public the first of this month. The cavern is new to most of the people in the immediate vicinity of its location, owing to the fact that it had never been put in condition for complete viewing. Much work in the way of cleaning up of the cavern, lighting it with electricity, etc., has been done. Much money and effort has also been expended on the surrounding grounds and in the construction of bungalows and rest places. The resort is conducted by a corporation under the name of Woodward Cave, Inc., with L. L. Weaver, Millheim, as manager.

Traveling through the rural districts one finds many buildings on farms sadly neglected. Paint and general repairing have been given little or no attention since the beginning of the World War. Properties long noted for their tidiness, are no longer in that class. Neglect is written all over them. Of course, this not without exception, for down Brush Valley road, painters will soon be plying the brush over the house and barn on the John Delaney farm. Another set of farm buildings to be improved in a like manner are those on the James L. Decker farm, also east of Centre Hall. The work on both places will be done by F. E. Arney and James E. Frohm.

The house and barn on the Thomas F. Delaney farm, at Old Fort, have been wired for electric lighting, as has also the Old Fort hotel building, now used as a farm house, and barn on this farm. Another residence in that section to have electric lights is that of Roy Shaeffer. The extension of the electric lines to these points was made possible by the erection of the Sheffield Farm Company's plant nearby, which is an extensive user of electricity.

A BAD WRECK WITH ONLY SLIGHT INJURIES

Dodge Touring Car Turns Over and Pins School Teacher to Ground—Two Other Young Ladies Injured.

Two turnovers by a Dodge touring car resulted in comparatively slight injuries to three of four occupants, yet the car is a near-complete wreck.

Robert Zerby, son of W. J. Zerby, of near Farmers Mills, came to Centre Hall Saturday evening to meet two of his sisters, Miss Mary, one of the borough school teachers, and Miss Bessie, a student in the Lock Haven State Normal, and a chum, also a student in the same institution, to take them to the Zerby home. On reaching a point just west of the Allison home, near Spring Mills, Mr. Zerby, overtaking T. A. Hosterman of Colburn, who was traveling in a Chrysler, his daughter, Miss Rachel, and son, Thomas, traveling with him, the young people also being students at the Lock Haven Normal, and undertook to pass them. When Mr. Zerby turned to the left a car being driven by James Searson approached from the opposite direction and to avoid a collision with Mr. Searson he quickly turned the car to the right, struck a ditch which swerved the car again to the left and then on it way to the right turned over two or more times. Miss Mary Zerby was pinned under the car; Miss Bessie had a bone in the right hand broken and a cut on the forehead requiring several stitches in its dressing by Dr. Brauchet, and the school companion was injured in the back. Her condition was first thought to be serious, but happily it was not and she was permitted to return to school on Sunday. Miss Mary was pretty badly bruised, but not seriously injured, and was able to teach Monday morning.

While the Zerby car was in the right hand ditch the first time, Mr. Searson got by safely.

The Zerby touring car has since been replaced by a Dodge Brothers sedan, the latest creation of the Dodge Brothers.
