PROMINENT DEMOCRATS EN-DORSE WILSON AND PORTER

Their Nomination Means a Winning Ticket in November, Say Party Leaders.

Confidence was expressed today at Wilson-Porter headquarters at Harrisburg that Democratic voters May 18, would name William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor in President Wilson's Cabinet, for United States Senator and former Judge W. E. Porter for Governor.

For several weeks the candidates have been touring western and central counties. This week they are visiting districts in the extreme eastern part of the State. While encountering friends of rival candidates, the Wilson-Porter managers, in their statement, say that sentiment for a vigorous party and nominees who will appeal to the independent voters in November is widespread enough to name the Wilson-Porter ticket, May 18.

"By a large majority the Democratic and Independent press of the State is supporting Wilson and Judge Porter," says the statement.

"Prominent Democrats, known throughout the Nation as well as the State, have endorsed the Wilson-Porter candidates. John A. McSparran, William H. Berry and Vance C. McCormick, all former Democratic candidates for Governor, are backing the ticket. Former Democratic State chairman Roland S. Morris, former Ambassador to Japan; former Congressman Bruce F. Sterling, and Austin E. McCullough are among the supporters, while others in the list include such Democrats as Francis S. Guthrie, of Pittsburgh, nephew of the late mayor of that city; A. Marshall Thompson, dean of the University of Pittsburgh Law School; Judge Hildebrand and former Judge Martin, of Lawrence; Judge Henninger, of Butler; Judge Prather, of Crawford; Judge Biddle, of Cumberland, and former Judge Gillan, of Franklin county, as well as hundreds of other distinguished Democrats.

"The nomination of Secretary Wilson and Judge Porter," concludes the statement, "will not only rehabilitate the party but will put a winning ticket in the field in November."

Penn State College News Items.

Students at the Pennsylvania State College have instituted a new custom of "Move-Up Day" and will celebrate it for the first time on Saturday, May 15. At that time seniors will wear special costumes signifying that they have about completed their courses; juniors will become seniors in class standing by discarding hats and caps; sophomores will move up to junior standing by going without coats and freshmen will be rid of all first year customs and celebrate by burning their green caps in a bonfire.

Co-eds at Penn State are better students than the men. Not only is the general scholastic average of women students far above the average for men students, but girls stand at the head of both the senior and sophomore classes. Miss Anna Haddow, of State College, who has the highest average of any student in college, heads the senior class, and girls also stand second and third. Miss Marion D. Hessler, of McConnellsburg, heads the second year class.

Because of a bad road detour in the Seven Mountains, motorists from southeastern Pennsylvania driving to State College are advised to go over the Susquehanna Trail to Sunbury and Lewisburg instead of via Lewisburg over the William Penn Highway.

McSPARRAN STANDS FOR WILSON AND PORTER

Former Candidate for Governor Says State Needs Minority Party Above Approach.

John A. McSparran, Democratic candidate for Governor in 1922, has announced his support of William B. Wilson and William E. Porter for the Democratic nominations as United States Senator and Governor.

"The outstanding political need of Pennsylvania is to have a minority party that is virile and above reproach," Mr. McSparran's statement said.

"Especially must it be free from bipartisan influence and commend the respect of the independent thinking people of the State.

"We are fortunate at this time to have as a candidate for Governor

S. S. DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Eleventh District Holds Convention at Farmers Mills—Quota for Tri-Camp Met.

The Eleventh District of the Centre County Sunday School Association held its semi-annual convention in the Reformed and Lutheran Union church, Farmers Mills, on Friday afternoon and evening. The attendance at both sessions was unusually large, the larger part of the Sunday schools in the district which is comprised of Centre Hall borough, Potter and Gregg townships, being represented by delegates.

The principal speakers at the evening session were Dr. I. L. Foster, the county president, and Rev. H. E. Bonsall Jr., of Philadelphia, State Superintendent of Young People. The superintendent spoke of young people under the subject or "Assets or Liabilities, Which?" Rev. Bonsall devoted much of his time in his talk on the subject "Leader of Young People—A Challenge" to giving an insight to his hearers of the workings of the Tri-County Sunday-school Camp and its purposes. He spoke enthusiastically and convincingly. In his audience were a number of young people who had attended the camp, and much desire to do so again, and in others a desire was created to do so. The speaker appealed to the Sunday-school workers to take up the matter at once and make provision so that one or more from each of the Sunday-schools could reap the benefit of the camp training.

A bit of good news was revealed the audience when the statement was made that the Eleventh District's quota—$200.00—of the county's share of the first cost of the Tri-County camp grounds and equipment had been met. The contributions to which fund is more fully itemized below.

Making Movies of Reforestation.

Mr. Keller, chief of the State Bureau of Silviculture, formerly forester at Boalsburg, and R. R. Winter, District forester at Milliflora, in company with a moving picture operator and others, took pictures of reforestation operations.

The first scenes were taken in the Fourteen Mile Narrows and at Livonia of the plantation of pines showing the wonderful growth of these seedlings in comparatively few years. Pictures of deserted farms, cabins, and old saw mills in the Sugar Mountains in the Rosencrans flats were also filmed. The last scenes taken were of the planting crew of some thirty men, boys and girls, who are working in Mite's Bottom, at the east end of Sugar Valley, setting seedlings on the largest planting job being done by the State this year.

The picture, when completed, will be used for educational purposes, showing the needs and possibilities of forest replanting.

DOLLAR DAY AND MAY FESTIVAL NEXT WEDNESDAY IN ALTOONA

HERE IS NEWS—REAL NEWS.

All other stories take a back seat for the announcement of Altoona Booster's Dollar Day.

This May Booster Dollar Day will be the "daddy of them all," because the public schools will hold a May Festival at the Cricket Field. Thousands of boys and girls will give drills, folk dances, hyland flings, races and other sports. It is an opportunity to see things on a field that you only see in a picture show.

Last "Altoona" Dollar Day roads were not so good. But now, nothing should keep you from attending this wonderful event next Wednesday.

Your neighbors will be there and the reason they do not ask you to go with them is because they want to get all the bargains during the day themselves.

Visit Community Rest Rooms in Christ Reformed Church. There's nothing there but comfort—FREE! Meet your friends there after you come and before you seek more bargains in Booster Stores.

Come next Wednesday—don't be among the disappointed. adv.

DEATHS

WIELAND—Edwin Keller Wieland, oldest son of the late Daniel F. and Catharine (Keller) Wieland, both deceased, died April 30 at his home in Gering, Nebraska. He was born on the old homestead at Linden Hall, May 16, 1859. While a young man he learned the rudiments of cabinet making at the Gutelius buggy works at Milliflora, after which he worked a number of years in the Altoona car shops under Foreman Andrew Kipp. Forty years ago he located in the Rock Mountain section at Pueblo, Colorado, and was employed by the Denver and Rio Grande R. R. as car inspector. Later he and his brother, W. O. Wieland, launched into the cattle and ranch business in Western Nebraska. Mr. Wieland was instrumental in putting through the Government irrigation project in the North Platte River Valley. He regarded his part in this work as his greatest achievement. Large cattle ranches in that dry farming section are now giving way to fertile farms, and the raising of sugar beets is among the principal industries of that fertile valley.

Mr. Wieland, too, developed a fine farm home, under irrigation with a bank barn, like Pennsylvania barns, his own water tank and system, largely the work of his own mechanical skill.

In the midst of last year's beet harvest he was stricken with acute kidney trouble and was rushed to a Denver hospital for an operation, but his strength gradually waned.

He was twice married, his first wife being Clara Frances Rudy, of Ashland, Ohio. His second wife who survives was Mrs. Lodie Tremain. His sister, Mrs. J. E. Ziegler, of Altoona, visited him in his last illness. It might be of note to state that as a representative of a large Pennsylvania family, Edwin K. is the first one to pass to the great beyond.

His brothers, Wm. O. and Clyde P., are located nearby in the North Platte River valley; Daniel F., Jr., in Valley Home, Colo.; Mrs. Murray Letzler, of Miami, Florida, and the remainder of the family in Pennsylvania.

SOWER—David Sower, Sr., died last Friday at the home of his son, Samuel, at North Bend. He formerly lived at Spring Mills. He leaves a widow, three sons—Rev. David A. Sower, Jr., of Millville; Samuel, North Bend; John, Montgomery; and one daughter, Mrs. Charles Burris, South Williamsport. Burial was made at Lewisburg cemetery.

SHOOP—Edward Shoop died on Saturday, in Angola, Indiana, according to a telegram received by his only living brother, Samuel Shoop, in Centre Hall. The remains were taken to Leavenworth, Kansas, for interment.

The deceased left this community when a young man and finally located at Leavenworth where he engaged in farming and as such was successful. He held the old home surrounding a visit two years ago. He was survived by a wife, also a brother, Samuel Shoop, of Centre Hall; Mrs. Maggie Border, Johnstown; Mrs. Kate Yarger, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Lizzie Wheeler, Altoona.

LOHR—William J. Lohr died at Belpain, Iowa, of pneumonia; interment in Belpain cemetery. William J. Lohr was the fourth son of David and Isabella Sharon Lohr, deceased, and was born in Beaver township, Centre county, April 28, 1866. He is aged 59 years, 11 months and 21 days. He is survived by his wife, whose maiden name was Maggie Kuhn, and the following children: Allen D. Lohr, of Belpain, Iowa; Paul Lohr, at home; and Harry Lohr, of Williamsport; and the following daughters—Mrs. Jennie Schuchert, of Belpain; Mrs. Margaret Willett, of Rockford, Iowa; and Flora and Ferny, at home.

He is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: R. P. Lohr, of State College; Samuel S. Lohr, of Rockford, Iowa; J. F. Lohr, of Wadette; Mrs. Annie M. Meckley, of Altoona; and S. H. Lohr, of Clarence.

ROBB—Rev. Dr. Lewis Robb, prominent in Reformed church work, died at the home of a daughter in Philadelphia. He was born in Howard in 1860, and after graduating from Franklin and Marshall college taught school for several years. In 1889 he was licensed to preach and began his calling at Williamsport, accepting a call to Altoona, and later to Wilkinsburg. Retiring from the ministry in 1919, he moved from Wilkinsburg to Frederick, Maryland, and from there to Philadelphia last fall.

Surviving him are his wife, formerly Miss Anna Dittenbacher, of Turbotville and two daughters, Miss Dorothy M. Robb, of the faculty of the Tawneytown High school, and Mrs. David Dunn, of Philadelphia. Also three brothers: Jacob, of Howard; Peter, of Lock Haven, and Prof. George Robb, principal of the Altoona High school. Burial was made at Turbotville.

HUTCHINSON—Woods Thomas Hutchinson died at his home in Los Angeles, Calif., in his 78th year. He was a son of Thomas Hutchinson and Mrs. Maria Barber, who was a daughter of John Barber, first associate judge of Centre county. Mr. Hutchinson was born on the old Hutchinson farm in Gregg township. He was the last of a family of four sons and four daughters. Surviving are two sons and one daughter, all residing in the west. He was a brother of Dr. James Hutchinson, who practiced his profession in Harrisburg, and Captain A. Boyd Hutchinson, a former member of the Centre County Bar. Burial took place in Los Angeles.

A Studebaker sedan, six-cylinder, was purchased by William F. Colyer. The first trip made in it was to Harrisburg where the Colyer family were called on account of the death of a niece, an account of which appears elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. F. B. Hoy, of Snydertown, Northumberland county, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery in Centre Hall, returning home Saturday afternoon. She has long been a friend of the Emery family. Mrs. Hoy was very generous in her praise of Centre Hall.
