LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Alberta Krader, of Bellefonte, sang in the Reformed church on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. George Boal is having her dwelling house at Potters Mills repainted. Magnus Duck, of Spring Mills, is the artist in charge.

Mrs. Ella Miller and Miss Caroline McCloskey, of Potters Mills, went to Bellefonte on Saturday and will be guests at the Hutchinson home in that place for a short time.

Miss Miriam Nieman, daughter of Merchant D. J. Nieman, of Millheim, underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils at a private hospital in Lock Haven. She is again assisting her father in the management of the Nieman store.

Monday night some one visited the private garage of D. W. Bradford, removed the spare rim and tire from his Ford coupe and appropriated them to his own use. Mr. Bradford would very much like to form a more intimate acquaintance with the party.

BOALSBERG.
 Squire and Mrs. J. F. Zechman greeted friends in town on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reish and son spent part of Saturday in Centre Hall. New names are being added daily to the list of measles victims. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rishel, of Altoona, were in town on Sunday. Mrs. Sarah Sweet and son William returned from Instanton on Saturday night. Mrs. Miriam Bouse and sons, of State College, were visitors at the home of John Isher on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Meyer and Samuel Wagner visited friends in Altoona on Sunday. Mrs. H. M. Hosterman was a guest of her son, Frank, at State College, from Friday until Sunday. Mrs. Henry Reitz and son Fred, and George Taylor, spent the week-end in Sunbury and vicinity. Samuel Kaup, of Altoona, is spending some time with his mother and sister; Mrs. Kaup, who was very ill last week has improved slightly. Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Wagner are attending Synod at Bloomsburg this week. They were accompanied by Clement Dale of Pleasant Gap, representing the Boalsburg charge. Jacob Meyer, on Saturday, received a telegram from Bowling Green, Virginia, announcing the death of Mr. Reuben Wright, husband of Blanche Meyer Wright, formerly a resident of this vicinity.

DEATHS.

SMITH—After an illness that began the first of the year, Mrs. Margaret Louisa Smith died at her home in Centre Hall on Thursday afternoon of last week. Funeral services were held over her remains by Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, Monday afternoon, after which the body was laid to rest in the cemetery here. She was aged 93 years, 11 months, 20 days. Her husband, Isaac C. Smith, died here in 1910. The surviving children are H. Witmer Smith, Millsburg; Miss Grace C. Smith, at home; James C. Smith, Williamsport, and Clyde A. Smith, at home. An only sister, Mrs. William Wolf, died about twenty years ago at Ardmore.

Mrs. Smith was a daughter of the late Henry and Elizabeth (Meyer) Witmer, and was born in Aaronsburg. She accompanied her parents here in 1843, when she was but eleven years old. Her father at that time built the Centre Hall hotel, into which he moved when coming here. In 1853 he built the William Wolf house, now owned by T. A. Hosterman and a year later the Witmer home was built. It was in this latter place Mrs. Smith lived for many years. Mrs. Smith was the last surviving of the nineteen charter members of the Trinity Reformed church. She later adhered to the Presbyterian church. She was the eldest person in this locality, and up until the last hours of her life retained her mental faculties, although during the last few weeks of her life it was difficult for her to speak on account of her illness.

Mrs. Smith's home was always open to her friends, and these were many. She had a large acquaintance and her companionableness drew them to her.

HAFLEY—A daughter, aged seven months, of Mr. and Mrs. William Hafley, died Thursday last week at the parental home, below Spring Mills. Interment was made Saturday morning at Aaronsburg.

POTTERS MILLS.

W. E. Lee and wife are spending a few days with friends in Altoona. M. N. Miller and wife made a business trip to Millheim, Saturday. W. E. Lee has been at Yeagertown for the last ten days doing some painting for the Charles Duck family. James Brungart is spending some time at the home of his brother, Russell Brungart. J. H. Blauser and family and Mrs. W. M. Sweeney spent Sunday with friends in York. Miss Lulu Kooneman visited her parents in Lewistown last week for a few days. Regular preaching services will be held at Sprucetown M. E. church on Sunday morning at 10:45. Mother's Day will be observed. Miss Madeline Wert of Aaronsburg spent a few days last week at the home of her grandfather, Thomas Fleisher. Michael Smith, who has been blind for some time, has been suffering intense pain in one eye for the past ten days. J. W. Slack, who some time ago bought the McClenahan property from Nancy Kimport, has torn down the old house and is now building one of the bungalow style. Charles Caskey and family, of Lock Haven, and Miss Elsie Sweetwood, of State College, visited over the week-end at the home of the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sweetwood. Mrs. Thomas Palmer, who had been staying at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thos. Farmer, in Philadelphia, has come to the home of her son, E. B. Palmer, to stay for an indefinite time. George McCormick and two children, accompanied by Mrs. J. T. Miller and Miss Caroline McClaskey, motored to Bellefonte on Sunday. Mr. McCormick and two children returned home but the ladies are remaining for the week at the H. L. Hutchinson home.

Mountain fires, during the latter part of last week and beginning of this week, were burning in various sections of Centre and Mifflin counties.

Music Recital.

Wednesday evening of last week a rare treat was given to a large audience in the assembly room of the Bellefonte High school building, the participants being pupils in vocal music under the instruction of Mrs. Alberta Krader, who, by the way, is supervisor of music in the entire Bellefonte public school system. Miss Shuey presided at the piano.

The opening choruses were sung by pupils from all the Bellefonte grade schools and one was at once convinced that music was given its proper place in the Bellefonte schools. After this a beautiful cantata was rendered by seventeen girls, following which were solos by ten or twelve young ladies, most of whom were of High school age and came from various sections of the county. The only representative from this section was Isabel Bradford, a sixth grade pupil from the Centre Hall schools who rendered two selections and was rewarded with an applause that was gratifying. Peggy Hassinger, known here by a number of the Junior girls and boys, rendered two novelty songs in a most admirable way.

A new $20,000 addition to the Sunday school room connected with the Lutheran church in Lewisburg was dedicated on Sunday. Dr. A. Monroe Hall, a noted Lycoming county Sunday school worker; Dr. Bowers, of Sunbury; Lee Francis Lybarger, Esq. of Mifflinburg; and former Congressman Dershem were among speakers.

Appreciated Patronage

Honestly now, don't you like to do business where you feel that your patronage is appreciated. Of course you do--we ALL do.

The little matters of personal attention are pleasing. That is why we all strive so hard to please at this Bank. We know how it goes, for we appreciate courtesy and kind treatment the same as others. We are all just plain "folks," moved largely by the same impulse. We try to give our customers personal and painstaking service, and above all, we try to safeguard all funds entrusted to our care.
