DEMOCRATS RALLY TO ELECT WILSON SENATOR.

Best Opportunity in Generation to Capture Office—Wallace Was Last Democratic Senator from State.

"Tell the Democrats of Pennsylvania that the Democratic Senatorial campaign committee will leave no stone unturned to help them elect William B. Wilson to the United States Senate next November." This is the message conveyed to the Democratic party of the Keystone State by Senator Poole Gerry, of Rhode Island, chairman of the committee which will seek to capture control of the Senate for the Democrats in the seventeenth Congress.

"Tell Pennsylvania Democrats," Senator Gerry continued, "that we think they have the best chance in a generation to send to Washington a member of our party. They have nominated a splendid candidate in the person of William B. Wilson. His reputation as Secretary of Labor out the Wilson Administration has not been forgotten by the people of the United States. He will be in every respect a suitable representative of the great industrial Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and one we are convinced, in whom both capital and labor would have the utmost confidence."

National Democrats at Washington are genuinely thrilled by the prospect of Senatorial victory with fratricidal strife within Pennsylvania's Republican ranks has now opened up. It is more than 45 years since the State sent a Democrat to the upper branch of Congress. The last one was William A. Wallace, who was in the Senate from 1875 to 1901. Previous to Wallace, the only Democrat in the Senate from Pennsylvania, of whom there is recollection was Charles R. Buckalew. He served from 1863 to 1869.

"I frankly believe that at last we have a chance in Pennsylvania," Senator Gerry said. "How sincere Republicans who abused Vane up hill and down dale during the primary fight, especially the leading Republican newspapers of Pennsylvania, are going to support the Philadelphia contractor, passes my comprehension. Of course, politicians forgive and forget a lot of things after the heat of battle has cooled down. But Pennsylvania Republican leaders and editors will have a busy season of crow-eating if they bring themselves to stomach Vane after the things they've said about him during the past 60 days.

"The Senatorial Campaign Committee has always that our chance in Pennsylvania would come with a Vane Senatorial nomination. We shall exhaust every effort at our command to capitalize Republican intercaste strife to Democratic advantage. We are anxious that the Democrats of our State should know promptly of this our intention, and of the hopes upon which it is based. They may depend upon us for every ounce of support circumstances and conditions permit. We believe it possible for them to organize victory for Wilson. Nothing that we can contribute to that end will be withheld. We trust their operations will set in at once and that during the five months between now and election time the way to victory in November may be securely paved."

Newberry Supporters Defeated. When the Republican voters of Illinois and Pennsylvania put the skids under Senator McKinley and Pepper, respectively, they did not do so so eagerly because they were Coolidge supporters and made this support the issues of their campaigns. The fact that they were both "Newberry Senators" must not be overlooked. The voters have not forgotten who voted for the seating of Senator Newberry after graft and excessive expenditures had been exposed in his primary fight against Henry Ford.

But the Newberry case has been pushed into the background by reports of enormous and unprecedented expenditures in the Republican primary fights in Pennsylvania. Reports reaching Washington are to the effect that from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 were spent by the backers of Senator Pepper and Representative Vane in the campaign. The reports will be investigated by a Senate committee. It is expected that Newberry who spent only $200,000, will be shown to be a piker.

Vane is the perfect exponent of Republican politics, and by election day all shades of Republicans will rally round him like flies on an August day hang around the little building next to the red one on the country school lot.

The Penn State Extension bureau is advising farmers to continue feeding grain to dairy cows turned to pasture in quantity the same as when on dry feed until the pasture becomes more matured, when the ration may be lessened.

Fighting Forest Fires. Thursday night Fire Warden J. H. Knarr was asked to get fire fighters together and go to a point south of the second tunnel, on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad, where a forest fire was raging. By five o'clock he had corralled a dozen fighters and with them left for the scene. While busily fighting the flames the fire reached the "headquarters" of the young men and before they were aware their surplus clothing, lunches, etc., were consumed. They were on the ground until Saturday morning, when the fire was pretty well under control. They were relieved from service when rain began falling. The young men who responded to Mr. Knarr's call are named below: Harry Gross, Gervin Schaeffer, John Schaeffer, Franklin Runkle, Bruce Knarr, Clyde Walker, Melvin Scott, Ralph Emerick, Jefferson Stick, Russell Goodhart, George Goodhart, Albert Smith.

SPRING MILLS MAN HONORED. Is Selected As Supervisor of Agriculture of Crawford County Vocational School. After completing the term's work vacated by Prof. P. G. Brown, who was promoted to serve as Supervisor of Agriculture for Crawford county, Biron E. Decker, of Spring Mills, was elected Supervisor of Agriculture at the Conneautville Vocational School. This is classified as possibly the best school of this type in the county. Mr. Decker, who is now teaching at Conneautville, will take charge June 1st at which time the present term expires. R. L. Albright, another Spring Mills man, is acting in the capacity of assistant supervisor at this school during the present term. The Spring Mills Vocational School boasts of another member of the State Vocational department, John W. Decker, is now teaching at Spring Mills and is assistant with the vocational work. Among some other members of the graduating class of State College in June are Ray and Paul Bartzes and Guy Cornma, of Coburn; David Hosterman, of Spring Mills; Marian Neese and Sarah Hishel, of the 1925 class, are now teaching. Vocational Home economics; Miss Neese is located at Waynesburg and Miss Hishel is at Blain. Were it not for the Vocational department of Spring Mills, it is not likely that these young people would ever have advanced to this degree.

Although not definitely settled, it is believed that John S. Fisher will be the Republican and Samuel E. Shull the Democratic candidates for Governor.

DR. J. ABERLY, OF CHICAGO, HEADS LUTHERAN SEMINARY.

New President Also to Occupy Singmaster Chair of Theology. The Rev. Dr. John Aberly, of the Maywood Theological Seminary, Chicago, was elected president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg to succeed the late Dr. J. A. Singmaster, by the Board of Trustees. Dr. Aberly will take up his work as president on August 1. At the same time the board announced that the new president also would assume the duties of the Henry Singmaster chair of systematic theology, occupied by Dr. Singmaster at the time of his death. Dr. Aberly graduated from Gettysburg College with the class of 1888 and from the Gettysburg seminary three years later. He spent thirty-three years in the India mission field and is considered an authority on that subject. For three years he has been professor on missions in the Maywood Theological Seminary. Dr. Edwin Heyl Delik, of Philadelphia, president of the Board of Trustees, presided at the meeting, attended by forty members.

"Come Unto Me" is the title of a Children's service to be rendered by the Sunday school connected with the Lutheran church in Georges Valley, on Sunday evening, June 13th.

An evangelistic rally will be held in the Zerby church on Tuesday evening, June 1st. A number of speakers will be present. Revs. Hazen, Dayton, Eitel and others. Special singing and a good song service. The public is invited.

2,345 CARS OF APPLES SHIPPED FROM PA. POINTS

Average of Last Five Years Exceeded by 151 Cars—952 Cars Shipped from Adams County. Shipments of apples from Pennsylvania leading points during 1925 were 423 cars heavier than during the preceding year, according to records furnished by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Markets. During 1925, 2,345 cars were shipped from producing districts, exceeding the average of the last five years by 151 cars. Adams county led in the value of shipments for the first time since 1921, loadings in the county totaling 952 cars. Biglerville, the heaviest loading station in the state, shipped 442 cars, and Gettysburg held third place with 153 cars. Franklin county, which had held first place for three years, ranked second with 891 cars loaded during the year. Second place among individual stations was held by Waynesboro, which shipped 277 cars, and fourth place by Chambersburg with 150 cars. Other counties in the order of their shipments were Cumberland with 190 cars, York 125, Wyoming 60, Blair 24, Lycoming 23, and Wayne 20 cars.

The counties named represent only those sections of the State which produce a surplus of fruit over local needs. In many other counties no apples are shipped because local markets absorb all the fruit produced. The best available estimates indicate that only one-third of the fruit produced by local growers is shipped to market by rail. The balance is sold in nearby markets.

Talk of Remodeling Grange Hall.

A resolution was adopted by Progress Grange, at a regular session held last week, opening the subject of remodeling Grange Arcadia. The measure adopted is indefinite as to how and when the work will be done. There appears to be difference of opinion as to the extent of the improvement, and some members of the order are quoted as being opposed to any move in that direction. To bring Grange Arcadia up to present day requirements will necessitate the expenditure of a considerable sum of money, but a makeshift will be an almost absolute waste of it. So if the community is to lend its support for this improvement, it should have what it needs.

Brown—Lingle. Harry E. Brown of Potters Mills, and Miss Gladys Lingle, of Georges Valley, were united in marriage at the parsonage of the Evangelical church, Spring Mills, Wednesday evening, by the pastor, Rev. M. W. Dayton.

Rev. D. R. KEENER. RUTH GROVE. HOY NEFF. FRANCES BROOKS. MARGARET ALEXANDER. VIVIAN PACKER. MIRIAM MOORE. GEORGE LUTZ. ELIZABETH GROSS. MARY WEBER. GEORGE COONEY. SARA SWEENEY. MARCELLUS ROYER. HELEN NEFF. Rev. C. E. HAZEN.

Centre Co. C. E. Society.

The twenty-ninth annual convention of the Centre County Christian Endeavor Society met in the Presbyterian church, Centre Hall, Saturday of last week. The theme was: "How Make Jesus Real?" The text for thought was: "Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you." Centre county has twenty-nine C. E. societies, ten of which were represented at the convention by delegates. Eight towns were represented, five denominations sent delegates, namely: Evangelical, Baptist, Lutheran, Reformed, and Presbyterian. Twenty-six delegates registered. Miss Martha Boal and Miss Grace Smith were the committee on registration. Rev. J. F. Harkins of State College led the morning devotions; address of welcome was given by G. O. Benner. Response was made by F. B. Herzog. A very interesting address was given by Rev. Robert Thoma, upon the subject, "Friendship With Jesus." After President Herzog appointed his committee, the Rev. C. E. Kolb gave a discussion on the subject: "How Men Find God." The P. M. session was opened by song and devotions conducted by the Rev. S. F. Greenhoe. Group conferences were then held under the leadership of W. C. McClintock, C. E. Kolb and Robert Thoma. At 3:15 there was a business session; the reports of the secretary and treasurer were heard and accepted. The nomination committee made its report and the officers for another year were elected. A very interesting address was then given by Mr. McClintock, who gave an account of the working of the C. E. and its outlook. The evening session consisted of devotional services, special music, address by Rev. O. W. Caruthers, installation of officers and the awarding of the banner. Rev. J. F. Harkins acted as the installing officer and installed F. J. Heckman president; J. R. Irvin, vice-president; Leah Cole, corresponding secretary; Miriam Beck, recording secretary, and S. L. Helms, treasurer. The banner was awarded to the Snydertown Lutheran society. The next convention was invited to convene in the Bellefonte Reformed church. Mrs. Cole's invitation was accepted. After an offering and a song Rev. Greenhoe dismissed the convention with prayer.

Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Bieber. The class of 1926 of the Gregg Township Vocational School was fortunate in securing Rev. B. F. Bieber, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church, Muncy, and a former pastor here and at Spring Mills, to deliver the baccalaureate sermon, on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Spring Mills, Methodist church.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Wall Moore, Jr., Sandy Ridge; Mary Madeline Orwig, Port Matilda; Samuel R. Fultz, Milroy; Milroy Mills May Hackett, Milroy; Arthur W. Murray, New Kingston; Helen L. Worstel, New Kingston; John E. Showalter, Buffalo, N. Y.; Louise R. Cooper, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Campbell, of Millheim, drove to Williamsburg on Monday. The former interviewed furniture manufacturers while Mrs. Campbell consulted an oculist.

CHAUTAUQUA FOR CENTRE HALL.

The Radcliffe Bureau Sending Fine Talent Here for Friday, Saturday and Monday, June 11, 12 and 14.

From the Radcliffe Chautauqua headquarters in Washington, D. C., comes word that the 1926 Chautauqua programs are the best that have been organized in the history of that bureau. Special care has been exercised in the selection of the entertainment companies and the speakers, and the line-up of talent for our circuit is a very attractive one. None but experienced entertainers are allowed to appear on Radcliffe programs, and the staff of lecturers comprises some of the most eloquent men engaged in this kind of work. Each year a correlated series of discussions is given, in addition to the entertainment numbers, and by the use of such a plan, certain definite purposes can be accomplished. The topics are selected in Washington only after the most careful consideration, and the entire series is recommended to each man, woman and child in our community as being worth for more than the small cost.

The following entertainment organizations and speakers have been assigned to our circuit: FIRST DAY—The Porter Vochestra Party; W. T. A. Webb, Lecturer. SECOND DAY—The All-Stars Quartette; Dean W. J. Lhamon, Lecturer. THIRD DAY—The Utric Magical Company; Frank K. Dunn, Lecturer. The topics to be discussed by this group are as follows: First Afternoon—"United Corners." First Night—"The Thinker." Second Afternoon—"Prodigal America." Second Night—"The Craftsman." Third Afternoon—"The Fireside." Third Night—"The Dreamer." The place for holding the Chautauqua will be the auditorium on Grange Park.

The price of this excellent program is within the reach of every one. Adult Season Tickets are only $2.00 each, and the Junior Season Tickets are but $1.00 each. Divide these figures by twelve, and you will see that the cost of each event is but a few cents. Don't miss a single bit of this splendid program, and be on hand early to help the committee make the whole affair the most successful and enjoyable community event of the year.

Walker Trims Centre Hall High.

A return baseball game was played at Hecla Park, Thursday afternoon, between Centre Hall and Walker Township High school girls, resulting in a defeat for the Centre Hall girls. The score was variously reported, but all reports were bad, very bad, for our local girls. Centre Hall battery was Alma Lutz, pitcher; Fay Bradford, catcher. For Walker, Lunnell Long pitcher; Pauline Carner, catcher. Like in their first game, a good pitch prevailed.

Runaway Horse Kills Youth.

While taking home from church two Mennonite girls, Jacob Zook, aged 16 years, of Belleville, was thrown from the buggy in which the trio were riding with such force that his skull was fractured and one of his lungs punctured. The horse shied at the road one of the buggy wheels struck a telephone pole, throwing the youth from the vehicle. The young man died at a Lewisport hospital before regaining consciousness. Neither of the young ladies was injured.

Fisher—Barrack.

S. Harold Fisher and Miss Hester Barrack, both of Huntingdon, were united in marriage in the Methodist church, Huntingdon, Saturday evening, 15th inst. The young couple at once went into their home which had previously been furnished. The bridegroom is a son of George Fisher, of Boalsburg and has charge of the garage connected with the Huntingdon Reformatory. He was formerly on the State Highway motor patrol.

Child Swallows Domino.

Maxine Shay, aged three years, of Howard, who resides with his grandmother, Mrs. Florence Shay, swallowed a domino on Sunday. He was taken to the Lock Haven hospital immediately thereafter where an X-ray revealed the domino in his stomach. Several pictures were taken later in the day and it was found that it was slowly leaving the body.—The Mountain Times.

PENN STATE SENIORS TO ENTERTAIN PARENTS

Members of the graduating class of over 500 at the Pennsylvania State College are making special preparations for the entertainment of their parents during Commencement Week, June 11-15. The character of the commencement program has been changed slightly from the routine of recent years so as to make it unusually attractive for the families of graduates, especially during the last three days.

Announcement of the baccalaureate and commencement speakers has just been made by Judge H. Walton Mitchell, president of the board of trustees. The Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh for the past 23 years, and president of the board of Princeton Theological Seminary, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 13. Dean Raymond Walters, of Swarthmore College, formerly of Lehigh University, will be the com-

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

Mrs. Laura Lee is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George E. Bron, in Reading. A new Nash sedan was recently purchased by George O. Benner from the Hosterman agency. Millheim has provided additional parking space by arranging to have "Broad Alley" lighted at night. Messrs. W. R. Hosterman, Thomas A. Hosterman and E. M. Smith went to Philadelphia last week, and drove home two new Nash cars. Mrs. Mary Smith, of Bellefonte, mother of T. L. Smith, of this place, has been seriously ill for some time from a complication of diseases due largely to age. A nine-year-old boy, Franklin Porter, hooked a 24-inch trout in the mill race in Millheim and landed it safely. It was the largest trout caught in that section this season. Isajah Emery is working in the laboratory at the Sheffield Farms Company's plant, at Lewisburg, learning to test milk. He likes the work much, so he told his friends here on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Booser, on Friday, drove to Youngstown, Ohio, to visit Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Kline and baby Kline. On returning home Mrs. Kline and son David accompanied them and will be here with them for some time. A four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Black, of Lewistown, after being unconscious for three weeks, died. He fell from a second story window and fractured his skull, and although taken to a hospital immediately, nothing could be done to relieve him. The Ladies' Aid social and entertainment in the Methodist church on Friday evening was very well attended, and was a success financially. Vocal and instrumental music and a playlet comprised the entertainment feature. A light lunch was also served. A water-bound Macadam road will be built this summer through the borough of Newton Hamilton and on to Long Hollow, a distance of two and one-half miles. The borough will pay ten per cent. of the cost, the State assuming the remainder of the cost. Albert Emery was brought from the Spring Mills silk mill to his home here, Thursday afternoon of last week, suffering from symptoms indicating an inflamed appendix. Applications made locally accomplished good results. He is now filling his place at the mill again. Congressman E. M. Beers was re-nominated over former Congressman B. K. Focht in what is known as the Shaw-string Congressional district. Congressman Beers is a native of Huntingdon county, and Focht was elected several times from Union county. Thursday afternoon while working on the State Highway in the vicinity of State College William S. Brooks became ill and was brought to his home here. It was at first thought his condition might become serious, but a day or two later he appeared to have fully recovered. On Friday, at Rebersburg, the twenty-first annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Northern Conference of the Lutheran church will be held. A speaker of note is Miss Mary Phlegar Smith, superintendent, Konnrock Training School, Virginia. The wheat crop through Nittany Valley, especially below Bellefonte, is looking promising. Along the main highway many of the fields, prepared for corn or already planted, show very careful preparation, and indicate good machinery and implements and a will to do working together. The Susquehanna League, made up of baseball clubs from Bellefonte, Jersey Shore, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Renovo, opened its season on Saturday, the closing date being September 5 (Labor Day). Two local boys on Bellefonte's roster are Harry Gross and Newton Crawford. The editor of the Belleville Times purchased the "movie" building in Belleville where the Times equipment will be installed. The Times building and the printing plant, it will be recalled, were dynamited a few weeks ago. So long as Editor Allison is well alive the Times will be a thorn in the flesh of wrongdoers. The "Service" class of the Lutheran S. S. was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Jacob Sharer, a member of the class, last Thursday evening. At that time arrangements were made for serving a banquet to the delegates who will be in attendance at the county S. S. convention in Centre Hall, next month. Prof. W. S. Hoffman and Rev. John P. Harkins, at the recent meeting of the Lutheran Synod at Bloomsburg, were elected as lay and clerical delegates, respectively, to the National Convention of the United Lutheran church, which is to be held at Richmond, Va. The Synod voted $50,000 toward the erection of the new Lutheran church in State College. The Millheim High school commencement will be held Friday evening of next week, at which time a class of ten—two boys and eight girls—will graduate. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday evening by Fred Griesing. The Aronsburg High school held their graduating exercises on Tuesday evening of this week. A class of three boys and three girls graduated. Eight applicants for entrance to this school
