DEATHS.
Mrs. (Dr.) Fischer Dead.
Mrs. Ann Fischer, wife of Dr. W. E. Fischer, of Shamokin, died at her home in that place Tuesday of last week. She had been in delicate health for several years, but yet her death at the time it occurred was entirely unexpected. Her last illness covered a period of less than an hour. Interment was made in Berlin, the home of her youth, on Saturday.
Mrs. Fischer is kindly recalled here by many of the Reporter readers. She and the family lived here for eighteen years, while Dr. Fischer served the Lutheran church as pastor. Beside the husband, two daughters—Mrs. Marion Keene, in China, and Ella, wife of Dr. Charles E. Buery, president of Temple University, Philadelphia, survive.

MEYER—Dr. Thomas P. Meyer, one of Lock Haven's oldest and best known residents, died at his home Saturday evening at 5:30, after a lingering illness. He was born in Rebersburg, this county, August 29, 1842, and was a son of Major John Meyer and Catherine Purman Meyer. When the Civil War broke out he enlisted and served through the entire period of the war, taking part in forty-three engagements, sieges and skirmishes, including the Battle of the Wilderness and the battle of Gettysburg. He was a prisoner in Libby prison and Belle Island for a time. After the war he went west to become a Rough Rider. Returning several years later he married Miss Lucetta Bierly, of Rebersburg, and removed to Lock Haven, where he was elected principal of the Third ward elementary school, which post he filled for thirteen years, resigning to take a post-graduate course in dentistry and practiced his profession until several years ago.

He was a collector of note, and had a fine collection of war relics and curios. His wife, one son, Edwin J., of New York City, one daughter, Mrs. F. C. Storck, of Red Bank, N. J., and one step-sister, Mrs. H. F. Custard, of Williamsport, survive. Funeral services were held at his late home Tuesday morning, in charge of the Rev. E. D. Parkhill, pastor of the Great Island Presbyterian church, after which the body was taken to Rebersburg, where the Legion held final services at the grave.

SHOWERS—Mrs. Fanny Showers, wife of Myrl Showers, of Zion, passed away following an illness of heart trouble. She was a patient in the Gelsinger Memorial Hospital at Danville when she died. She was born in Nittany Valley on April 22, 1834, therefore had reached her 42nd year. She was a daughter of Jacob and Susan Stein. Her mother and these children survive: Harold, Melvin, and Nannie, all at home, together with these sisters and brothers: Mrs. J. M. Smiley, of Yeagertown; Mrs. Wm. McEwing, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Harry Keeler, of Bellefonte; John, of Lewistown, and Nellie, at home. Funeral services were held at the Zion Evangelical church; interment at Zion.

Fell From Car; Arm Broken.
Miss Catharine St. Claire, of Spring Mills, sustained a broken bone in the left arm at a point near the shoulder, contusions on various parts of her body, and several cuts, as a result of falling from a Ford touring car traveling at a good rate of speed. There were several in the car, and the young lady was in the act of closing the door, when she lost her balance and was thrown to the ground. The accident happened near the home of Dr. Morrow, and she was taken there for professional services.
The young men who accompanied the young lady were in turn drafted into service in reducing the fracture, but neither was able to render the service required—they retired from the room to prevent collapsing.

FARM CALENDAR.
Plant Sweet Corn—Sweet corn should not be planted in single rows as poor pollination is likely to cause malformed ears. Plant at least two rows of any variety, or better yet plant in blocks. Gardeners generally agree that no sweet corn variety has been found to equal Golden Bantam in flavor. You may have this finest of corn all season by planting a block every ten days from now until July 1.
Chicks Like Drink—Start the chicks off on liquid milk, say Pennsylvania State College poultry specialists. It is easier to teach a young thing to drink than to eat, and by starting the chicks off on a liquid diet, they will make a good "getaway." It is very undesirable, however, to overfeed on protein and when liquid milk is supplied, the mash should contain little high protein food.

SECOND WEEK OF COURT.

Last Week's Session Devoted Largely to Liquor Law Violations—Justice of Peace Remembered by Grand Jury.
In going over the trial list the following cases were disposed of:
Andrew Thal and Bertha Thal, his wife vs. J. V. Foster; being an action in trespass. Case continued at the costs of the defendant.
Samantha A. Resides vs. Johnston Warner; being an action in trespass, from Union township. Case on trial on Monday.
Comm. vs. John Burns; indicted on two counts, first, breaking into the Imperial gas station; second, larceny. Prosecutor, Elliot Lane. Defendant came into court and plead guilty and sentence was suspended on the first count, but sentence on the second count to pay a fine of one dollar, costs of prosecution and one year in the county jail.
Comm. vs. W. J. Parker, indicted for not stopping and rendering assistance after hitting an automobile on the State highway between Bellefonte and Pleasant Gap. Prosecutor, T. J. Edwards. State patrolman, Samuel Waite and lady friend were driving south on the State road towards Pleasant Gap and when at or nearly opposite the Kelly ice plant were hit and turned over in a Ford roadster, and the lady was injured so that she needed medical attention. Verdict of guilty.
Comm. vs. Henry Spangler, indicted for violation of the liquor laws. Prosecutor, A. F. Dahlstrom. The testimony on the part of the Commonwealth alleged that on April 17 Mr. Cronoke, a member of the State Police stationed at Lock Haven, in the presence of the prosecutor purchased a half pint of liquor from the defendant. The defendant went on the stand and testified that he was a druggist and that he had a permit from the Federal Department to handle intoxicating liquor and showed his permit, as well as his monthly reports. That he sold no liquor on a doctor's prescription or otherwise on the 13th of April last, to anyone, and that the bottle produced in court was not the kind of bottles he handled liquor in and produced empty bottles of the brand which he handled and absolutely denied the sale as alleged by the witnesses. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty but pay the costs, after having been out 18 hours.
Comm. vs. Roy Brobeck, indicted for violation of the liquor laws; prosecutor, A. E. Yougel, chief of police of State College. The Commonwealth produced testimony of witnesses that a bottle of liquor had been bought from the defendant by Mr. Close and handed to the chief of police who made this information. The defendant denied that he ever handled any liquor or sold any liquor, and after the jury had been out about four hours returned and rendered a verdict of guilty and on Saturday the defendant was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and a fine of $100. Court adjourned Saturday forenoon.

PHILCO BATTERIES, built to last; service guaranteed. Also, all makes of batteries repaired and charged.—Clyde A. Smith, Centre Hall.

This is the original telephone made from a few simple materials. The modern telephone contains materials from the four corners of the earth. One of the most important is carbon made from Pennsylvania coal. It is used as a fine powder in the transmitter and must be measured to the grain.

A PRODUCT OF SCIENCE

Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone comprised a few simple materials, such as wood, iron, and leadbeater's skin.

The present instrument comprises a range of materials that runs from Pennsylvania coal to Russian platinum, from Brazilian rubber to Irish linen.

The product of the mines, forests, and factories of every continent enter into the modern telephone system, which guarantees to a town in the Poconos or the Cumberland Valley the same dependable universal service that Philadelphia and Pittsburgh enjoy.

But more to the product of the scientist and of the engineer is modern telephone service attributable. Without the results of their research and development, the sky would now be clouded with aerial wires, Scranton would be shouting in vain to make itself heard in Harrisburg, and the switchboard limitations would be such as to restrict the service to a mere handful of users.

Further extension of the service, at its present rate of growth, puts increasing premium on this scientific development. It is largely what has made possible a million interconnecting telephones in Pennsylvania. It is what guarantees the accomplishment of further expansion, and in such a way as to insure always increasing facility in the use of this indispensable agency of communication.
