Wm. Mervin and Harry Kuhn and families, of Williamsport; Mrs. John Musser and son George, of Wilkes Barre.

Rain set in Sunday night, the fall being considerable between 12:00 o'clock and morning. Monday, Memorial Day, was most delightful. There was a light shower early Tuesday morning, and by noon the clouds spilled water more generously.

DEATHS.

ROYER—Charles E. Royer passed away at his home at Spring Mills on Monday evening after a brief illness from heart trouble. He had been in delicate health for two years or more.

Mr. Royer was born in Potter township, March 28, 1854, making his age 72 years, 2 months, 3 days. He was a son of John and Mary Royer and the youngest of eleven children, all of whom are now deceased.

Forty years of his life were spent in teaching school. Twelve years he lived in Kansas, coming to Spring Mills thirty-eight years ago.

Mrs. Royer, nee Martha P. Harshbarger, and a son, Rev. J. Victor Royer of Altoona, survive the deceased. Funeral services will be held Friday at 10:00 a. m.; interment in the cemetery at Georges Valley Lutheran church, Rev. F. S. Greenhoe officiating.

FREDERICKS. — Friday afternoon Samuel Fredericks was stricken with paralysis while in his mill at Farmers Mills, and was able only to utter a few words after being discovered by his wife until death sealed his lips. About ten days previous Mr. Fredericks suffered a slight stroke, but in a few days appeared to have fully recovered, and went about his work as usual.

Mr. Fredericks was aged sixty-four years, 1 month and 15 days. He was a son of George Fredericks and was reared in Brush Valley. His wife, who before marriage was Miss Ida C. Ream, survives him. The couple began life as farmers and for twelve years lived on a farm near Farmers Mills, and for twenty-two years Mr. Fredericks conducted the mill.

The surviving children are Boyd C. Fredericks, who lived with his parents and Mrs. Merrill J. Walker, of near Boalsburg; Mrs. Paul Imml, of State College, was taken into the Fredericks home when a mere babe and was reared there. There are five grandchildren. Savilla Fredericks, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Howard Darst, Centre Hall, and George Fredericks, of Georges Valley, are sisters and brother of the deceased.

Interment was made at the Union church cemetery, nearby the home, Rev. F. S. Greenhoe, pastor of the deceased, and Rev. M. C. Drumm, a former pastor, officiated at the services.

HOY.—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hoy, widow of Hezekiah K. Hoy, one of the oldest residents of Bellefonte, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Weyer, with whom she had made her home, following a long illness of uremia. Mrs. Hoy was born on a farm three miles south of Bellefonte, and was a daughter of Jacob and Mary Fishburn, both of whom are dead. She reached her ninety-first birthday anniversary on Thursday May 29, just one day prior to her death. Through-out her illness she was a patient sufferer and kept faith with the God to whom she gave her life at an early age. These children survive: Mrs. Etta Shuey, of Prospect, Ohio; Mrs. Anna Pelfer, of Wilkingsburg; Mrs. Caroline Ely, of Arendtsville; Mrs. Catherine Wagner, of Boalsburg; Mrs. Clayton Royer, Henry Hoy, Jacob Hoy and S. H. Hoy, all of Bellefonte. One brother also survives, William Fishburn, of Nebraska. Funeral services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royer, in charge of Rev. Robert Thomas, of the Reformed church; interment in the Union cemetery Bellefonte.

STRUBLE.—Jacob B. Struble, of Oakland, California, a prominent west coast electrical engineer, who was born and reared near Zion, expired instantly from an unexpected attack of heart trouble. He was born on the old Struble homestead near Zion and was a son of Isalah and Catherine E. Struble, both of whom are dead. He was never married, and is survived by a brother, Howard, and a sister, Miss Mary, residing at Zion. The remains were shipped east, and burial made at Zion.

Poultry Records Tell Whether Flocks Pay.

Poultry farmers in Centre county who do not know whether their flocks are making a profit or not soon find out by keeping records. Often when the hens are thought to be profitable or unprofitable, records kept on them show just the opposite to be true.

You cannot guess about these matters. The only way to know definitely is to keep records. No business man in any other industry would depend on a part of business to furnish him an income without knowing whether it was doing it or not. Likewise no poultryman can afford to depend upon his hens to produce an income for him without checking on them. The accounts furnish a record of results and are a basis of analysis without which neither investment nor the expenditure of labor and current expense is justified. Anyone interested in keeping records on their flocks should call at the Agricultural Extension Office at Bellefonte where he can get information about a good system and requirements.

Bonniwell Democratic Nominee.

Although the official vote in the State has not been completed, it is certain that Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell received the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The official count in Philadelphia gave Bonniwell 333 votes more than the unofficial returns, while Judge Porter lost 1750. The nominee will have a majority over his nearest competitor, Judge Shull, of something like 2000.

Locals Defeat Laurelton, 7-5.

The Laurelton (Union county) baseball team came to Centre Hall on Memorial Day and were defeated by the home team by the score of 7 to 5, on the new High school athletic field. The game was hard fought throughout.

DAUP-FRAZIER.

Monday morning Daniel S. Daup and Miss Harriet Frazier, both of Centre Hall, were united in marriage at the Evangelical parsonage, Centre Hall, by Rev. W. E. Smith. The young couple are now on a motor trip. On returning they will begin house-keeping at the groom's home, that of Daniel Daup, Sr., foster father of the groom, in Centre Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Central State Normal School and taught public school in Potter township for several years. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Frazier, east of Centre Hall. The groom has been employed for six months or more by the Sheffield Farms Company in the erection of their plants at Centre Hall and Middleburg.

Court Notes of Second Week.

In the case of Resides vs. Warner, which grows out of the continued crossing of the land of the plaintiff by the defendant and others and making a path, and contending that the path had acquired an easement on the property of the plaintiff and that the path had been used for many, many years by the defendant and his predecessors. While the plaintiff alleged that it was simply permissive and no right had been acquired by easement on her lands. Verdict on Tuesday forenoon in favor of the plaintiff for $20.00 damages.

John Watkins vs. James D. Leathers, being an action in assumption, brought by the plaintiff against the defendant to recover for alleged wages for sundry odd jobs done by the plaintiff for the defendant, and watching the sawmill property of the defendant. Verdict on Tuesday afternoon in favor of the defendant.

CLUB WORK DEVELOPS STEADILY IN COUNTY.

Club work which has been a steadily growing part of the extension program in Centre county, is stronger than ever. There are three clubs in Centre county. The Stormstown Pig Club, State College Lamb Feeding Club and the Bellefonte Lamb Feeding Club. The total membership is 22.

In the State as a whole, State Club leader, Allen L. Baker, reports 313 clubs, compared to 204 on the program last year. Approximately 5500 boys and girls are enrolled in the club work. In 1925 there were 2710 of the junior farmers.

One of the noticeable features of the club work is the increasing diversification. A few years ago pig, dairy, calf and corn clubs were practically the only ones. Now there are 17 different lines of work represented.

Most striking are increases in strawberry, raspberry, bee, garden and sheep clubs. Dairy calf club work also is growing rapidly following the tuberculosis clean-up activities in the various counties.

Centre county will send the following young men to the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Camp Meade, Md.:

Richard Dettler, of Smulton; Philip F. Foster, Theodore S. Fowler, Wm. F. Holmes, Edward S. Mairs and James L. Martin, of State College; Everett T. Laughlin, of Phillipsburg; Ray C. Griffin, Harry D. Rothrock and Raymond L. Williams, of Port Matilda.
